Saints Confident On Eve Of Intercollegiate Tilt With St. Thomas

What should prove to be a red hot hockey series is scheduled for the Forum on Tuesday and Friday nights of next week when the Navy and Junior Royals meet in a best-four-of-seven series to determine the winners of the Commercial-Service League and holders of the Lt.-Governor LePage Trophy.

Entering the series Royals will have the added confidence of two straight victories over the "Tars" during the regular schedule. Both games were won by 7-6 scores in rugged ice duels and next week with the outcome of the league depending on their performances in the games to come.

Tonight, however, the Forum will be the scene of the first intercollegiate match of the season with Saints taking on St. Thomas of Chatham, N. B. Reportedly much improved over last year the visitors tonight will make the Saints feel on their best behavior.

There will be none of the old college spirit lacking. Saint Dunstan's students are solidly behind their team in every branch of sport that the colors of St. D. are carried and will be out in strong numbers tonight to help cheer their team along on what they hope will be a very exciting lead to the sectional title and a playoff snafu against the Nova Scotia champions.

Today practically winds up the first round of the Macdonald-Brien Curling Competition to determine the city champions that will enter the Island playoffs for the British Consols Trophy and the right to represent the Province at the Dominion Championship to be held by the first time since the inauguration of this classic at Winnipeg.

On conclusion of play all twelve teams will have gone through a strenuous schedule with 66 matches being played; 8 teams eliminated and four still with an even chance of winning the title. With the exception of the Big Four, the other three teams will have mighty battles on their hands to outdo the charmed circle, and although victory in several defeats are all even with the rink that has led all the way.

It is as it should be, we ask. Any team that can go through such a schedule—and that happens to be the Big Four and wouldn't make a particle of difference whether it was any one of the other teams—is a team that should not have to risk all they have accomplished on the outcome of a short series such as is to be staged in this case.

Without being forced to again meet teams which they have all beaten we think that the team finishing in top is rightfully entitled to the city championship. They will have proven to be the best rink in the competition and should be recognized as such.

In other centres throughout the Dominion in this same competition there is no such playoff system in vogue and this is the first year it has happened locally. Take New Brunswick for instance. Their play is now on and in deciding this year's N. B. champions, a schedule has been so arranged that it will take exactly three days to name the winner.

Why then should a province that is only one-third the size of a sister province take practically three weeks to decide a winner when the larger one takes but three days?

This is not by any means an attempt to tell the Curling Club officials just how to run their competition. The writer has, neither the ability nor the knowledge to do so. In fact the officials are demeriting compliments on the manner in which they have conducted the long schedule and the various other competitions that have also been staged; but it does seem unnecessary to ask a team to wait all new hardware on the outcome of short series "Four" and that opinion wasn't formed just because of any bias—it was formed after the fact. It was plain to be seen that this rink had just a little bit too much for the other entrants in the competition.

Many of the curlers are of the same opinion. For the past few days we have heard the opinion

Bluenose To Remain In Lunenburg

LUNENBURG, N. S. Jan. 25.—(CP)—The schooner Bluenose, Queen of the North Atlantic Fishing Fleet, will remain in Lunenburg "for the time being," Captain Walters said tonight after tenders for the sale of the craft had been opened.

The fiery skipper who is known up and down the fishing banks declined to say what was the highest tender or who tendered for purchase of the vessel. He made one thing clear, however, there was no tender from Father Divine, leader of the "ace, its wonderful" flock in New York's Harlem.

Bluenose won her last race in 1938 when she defeated Captain Ben Pine's Gertrude L. Thebaud of Gloucester. At that time Captain Angus said it would be her last race.

Bluenose was launched from a Lunenburg yard in 1921. Since then, between saltbaking trips, she has defeated every contender for the cup donated by Senator W. H. Dennis of Halifax.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(CP)—Riding one of the hottest streaks in hockey history, New York Rangers consolidated their leadership of the National Hockey League tonight with their 14th victory in 15 starts—a 3-0 shutout of Toronto Maple Leafs before 12,000 fans.

The injury-riddled Leafs, minus four regulars, lacked the punch and speed to stay with the leaders after the first period of a game exciting only brief flashes of Ranger power.

The Rangers picked off a goal in each period with Dutch Hiller, Alfie Pike and Bryan Hextall as the marksmen.

The Leafs were without two-thirds of their ace line, Spry Apps remaining out because of a broken collarbone and Gordie Drillon, who returned to the lineup Saturday, being kept out because he didn't feel well. Without these stars there was no kick to the Leaf drive.

Instead of the title being decided on a two-game total goal basis it has now been decided that the title and trophy will go to the team winning the best out of seven games with games being staged every Tuesday and Friday until a winner is declared.

Both teams will present changed lineups from the ones that operated during the regular schedule of the league. Royals will have the same lineup for the games that last year captured the Maritime Province title and judging by the form they have been showing in recent workouts and the manner in which they defeated Summerside intermediates, it is a recent game the "stars" will have a tough time hurdling the obstacle the juniors will set up.

Navy strengthened by the added presence of Walter Lawlor, coach of the Royals, Plum McDonald, Jimmy Hogan and several others will also present a formidable lineup and the series should be produced in the best hockey seen here in the past.

Complete lineups of both teams will appear in Monday's issue. Fr. Oswald Murphy president of the league presided over last night's meeting.

Defence Star Becomes Property Of N. Y. Team In Surprising Hockey Deal

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Boston Bruins management announced tonight it had traded Eddie Shore, its National Hockey League all-star defenceman, to New York Americans for right winger Eddie Wiseman. President Weston Adams said no cash was involved in the transaction.

Shore, according to Adams, has been notified to get in touch with Manager Marvin (Red) Dutton of the Americans for instructions. Wiseman will report to the Bruins in Detroit tomorrow night and will dress for Sunday's game with the Red Wings.

From Chicago, Manager Art Ross of the Bruins wired the following: "I am convinced that Eddie Shore no longer was interested in playing hockey in Boston, the Bruins acceded to his final wish that he become associated with New York Americans. When I informed Shore of the trade, he wired me:—

"Deal with Americans satisfactory to me," accordingly I again talked with Dutton and completed final arrangements. I then notified Shore that he was the property of the Americans and to contact Dutton for instructions."

The announcement was made on behalf of Manager Red Dutton who in Montreal earlier today said reports the Bruins would sell "me" but that "we'd be glad to have him."

It was announced Wiseman would report to Boston tomorrow. Dutton was said to be hoping that Shore, who manages Springfield Indians of the International-American League, would be in Montreal tonight, Tuesday night, against Montreal Canadiens in New York.

Forestry School Gives Young Men More Confidence
OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—(CP)—Thousands of young Canadian men work each summer in Canadian forests under the national forestry program to reduce fire hazards and dress up the woodlands as a tourist attraction. E. Roy Cameron of the Dominion Forest Service, Ottawa, told the Canadian Society of Forestry Engineers in convention here today.

There has been some misunderstanding in the public mind as to the true aims of the National Forestry Program, said Mr. Cameron. The primary objective is not to train forest workers, but rather to increase the morale and physical fitness of the enrollees and to give them confidence in their ability to handle themselves in any work they may secure.

The purpose of the forestry instruction is twofold: first to enable the enrollees to understand the reason for the work they are doing, and second, through the enrollees, to spread a knowledge of the value of forests amongst the general public.

Many Camps
There were 27 Dominion government camps and a number of similar camps operated by the provinces, which share the program with the central government. Government forestry experts lectured on physical and mental training, and in working hours the boys cut roads and trails, lay telephone lines, build fire control towers and clean up underbrush and dead or malformed trees along the tourist routes.

Some work crews build tourist camps, lay out ski runs, and build dams in streams to improve fishing. Enrollees frequently are attached to regular government forestry parties to gain actual experience in forestry work, including insect surveying, tree diseases, inspection trips and fire hazard surveys.
