POST NUPITAL SHOWER - A most enjoyable evening was spent Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Irving Hogg, Wilmet, and her neighbours gathered to celebrate the bride and groom on their return from their honeymoon. The rooms were very lovely with vases of summer flowers. The bride and groom entered the strains of the Wedding March. The bridesmaids were led by Mrs. Brenton; four tiny tots, Patricia, Frances, Phyllis, and Gwendolyn Clarke, led in two decorated carriages with lovely gifts, which were led by Miss Lillian Hogg and Miss Huestis. The bridesmaid was Miss Fannie Mann, assisted by Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Max Robertson, Mrs. Hogg. Mr. Hogg on behalf of himself and his bride, thanked all for their generosity, and as refreshments were passed all too quickly. Upon the taking their leave, Mr. and Hogg expressed the wish that the next would come and visit at any time. - S

ELMO-BROWN NUPITALS - Mrs. Mary's Church, Indian River, was the scene of a pretty wedding. Miss Mollie Keyhoe was united in marriage to Mr. Willard A. Brown. The bride was lovely in a dress of satin and lace with other accessories to match, and wore a corsage bouquet. She was led by Miss Ella Dunphy. The ceremony was performed by Mr. George Mulally. The bride and groom were escorted to the home of the bride's parents, where a beautiful wedding breakfast was served to the bride and her friends. The bride's gift was a beautiful, costly present, all testimony to the high esteem in which she is held by her friends. The couple will reside in Irishburg where the groom is a professional farmer. All join in wishing a happy wedded life.

problem in a general way; and the only hope we have, in fairness to the per on who accepts relief, is to understand all the types of people and the problems attached to each geographical centre."

The commission chairman believed registration of unemployed would clarify the problem this year, and in the future.

The commission held strongly, said Mr. Purves, that the present method of indiscriminate grants-in-aid to the provinces, without any control over the ultimate administration of the monies, should be abandoned.

"This method of making grants-in-aid, without any special intent, should be replaced by more specific grants, governed by the types of need," he declared.

Important in the commission's recommendations to the Government was that which contemplates increasing the degree of employability of those receiving unemployment aid. A beginning had been made with Youth Training plans; but that, Mr. Purves said, was not enough. He recalled that approximately 50 per cent of the workless employables on relief were between the ages of 25 and 45.

The Commission had therefore recommended to the Government that a special sum be appropriated for reconditioning, training and re-training needy persons in industrial pursuits. Half of this sum should be applied to youth measures, the remainder to the older age-group.

Mr. Purves declared local voluntary committees were being created, each having knowledge of the locality's special conditions. With their co-operation it was hoped to give effect to this recommendation, not on the basis of the Government subsidizing industry but of the Government applying its financial assistance in a manner where it might be expected to produce tangible and lasting results.

This plan contemplates (A) training projects of an occupational nature; (B) short-term learning courses; not exceeding one year in duration, devised to provide theoretical training concurrent with specific employment; (C) work projects incorporating reconditioning, training, and conservation features, for the purposes of restoring morale and conserving natural resources; and (D) training projects of a physical nature to assist in the maintenance of health and morale pending employment.

The report recalled that the Government had already appropriated $1,000,000 for youth training, and urged close co-operation in the working out of local plans arising out of the grant.

children, stop at the Red Cross booth to chat with the attendants and to be weighed. The layout is most attractive and features health rules which even during the big Fair are not forgotten by the Red Cross.

In the S. P. C. A. booth is shown literature and posters appealing for kindness and care of all animals.

Commenting on the Ayrshire classes which he judged, Mr. Gilbert McMillan of Huntingdon, P.Q., said that there was a very fine display of animals especially in the senior female class. Other very good but were a little irregular. The senior females, however, were as good as were to be found in any fair in the country, Mr. McMillan declared.

A fine showing of animals were to be seen in the Jersey and Guernsey classes which were completed early yesterday. Mr. G. R. Rathby of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ont., did the judging.

In the show horses class, three fine Clydesdales stallions are on exhibit, "Nero" and "Gilbert" owned by Mr. P. J. Mart of Huxford, and "Kingston" shown by the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

An unusual display of hand weaving is shown in the main building by Miss Dorothy M. Fraser of Lewisville, N. B. The articles, including bags, table runners, neckties, cloth by the yard, and a very handsome table cover in gold and black, all woven by Miss Fraser on her own loom.

MR. DUNNING'S MESSAGE

Before the commencement of the races yesterday afternoon, Hon. C. A. Dunning, Dominion Finance Minister, was introduced in front of the grandstand by Colonel D. A. MacKinnon, president of the Exhibition Association and was warmly applauded.

"I hope you are not afraid that I am going to inflict a speech on you," Mr. Dunning said. "You didn't come here to listen to me; and I came here because this represents an opportunity greater than any other that I know of, to meet the largest number of Island people in one place. I have never before seen so many of you gathered together, and I am particularly pleased that such large numbers are patronizing this great Provincial Exhibition. It gives me an opportunity to thank you for the great kindness you have always displayed towards me, and to express the hope that I may be able to serve you well."

"I want to congratulate particularly the management and organization of this great Fair. I do not suppose that it is possible anywhere to see gathered in one place such an exhibit of products of Prince Edward Island, both of vegetables, fruit, and farm products generally, and particularly that splendid display of animals which I know so many of you are interested in."

"When I hear—and I frequently do—from Prince Edward Islanders scattered all over Canada and in parts of the United States, I shall be able to tell them something to refresh the memories that I know they cherish of former Exhibitions here. You know one of your most valuable export products has always been your young men and women. They are to be found all across Canada and in the United States, and it is a pleasure to know that a great many of them are doing well, thanks to the training which they received in this grand Island Province."

Ladies and gentlemen—On with the show! I hope everybody has a good time, and good luck to you!" (Applause.)

A KIDNEY REMEDY That Really Flushes the Kidneys

To neglect the first symptom of kidney trouble might lead to very serious results. Your kidneys contain thousands of little filters, each one having special work to perform. If some of these filters become clogged, poisons and uric acid enter the blood stream. The result is a headache, a dead, heavy pain. The uric acid deposits a fine granule in the joints, causing a pain known as rheumatism. Nox Kidney Flushers really flush the kidneys, flushing them in a healthy, sound condition. No more getting up at night—no more backache. That kidney condition is replaced by a natural clear skin. Your eyes become bright and your headaches disappear. Each package of Nox Kidney Flushers contains a full month's treatment. There is only one Nox Kidney Flushers in the world. It is a general health, Your Kidneys and Liver will function perfectly. Why not start today on the road to good health, let Nox Kidney Flushers bring you good health. On sale at—The Huestis Drug Co. Ltd., Charlottetown; Carruthers Drug Co., Montague; Sorris Drug Co., Souris; C. H. Horton, Murray River; The Taylor Drug Co., Kensington; and W. M. Callbeck, Bedouque.

MOORE & McLEOD LTD.

A most attractive booth is that of Moore & McLeod Ltd. The scene represents a semi-open air room of a large mansion, with an entrance opening onto a balcony at the rear. The walls are finished in gilted paper in two tones of yellow embellished with silver moulding and azure blue border and trim.

The dividing columns, rails, and balustrades are finished in green marble, and the floor is of cinnamon marble. An effective arrangement of gladioli and phlox set in each marble column adds a dainty touch of color to the display. Ferns atop two white columns, flanking each side of the circular balustrades at the rear lend themselves to complete the floral decorations.

At the rear masking the sky background are cellophane curtains in a light blue tint which adds a pleasing contrast to the panelling and marble columns. The cellophane curtain effect is carried out also at the front on both sides of the pillars.

The front of the booth is a reproduction of the store front recently installed by this progressive firm.

The display in the booth is devoted mainly to linen and blankets of which Moore & McLeod carry one of the largest stocks in any well east of Montreal. Here you will see the famous "Kenwood" line of blankets in all varieties. These are in three classes: the "Kenwood Coverlets" which are used for throws, spreads, or auto wraps and which suggest the art of peasant handicraft; also the "Kenwood Famous" blankets. These are shown in plain colors. They come in a great variety of shades and are finished with a four inch satin binding. Then there is the "Kenwood Ramcrest" line. These carry the workman's hand and backing of the Kenwood factory but are a less costly line, and come in plain colors only.

The linen display is a credit to the entire showing. A fully set dinner table occupying the center of the booth is seen complete with a hand-embroidered Chinese linen tablecloth 72 x 90 inches. There are shown here all varieties of linens from China, Ireland, Madeira, Italy, Portugal and Scotland. Scotch Lace table cloths of finest quality are to be seen also.

The entire work and execution including designing, construction, and erection of this booth is the work of Mr. Gerald Madigan of the staff of Moore & McLeod, and was carried out in the construction department of that firm on the third floor.

A visit to this booth will be well repaid. Inquiries regarding price, etc. will be gladly answered by the courteous attendant in charge.

T. G. IVES

At the booth occupied by the firm of T. G. Ives there is in addition to the display previously reported, information and estimate facilities for those interested in the new Fawcett air-conditioning systems.

A representative direct from the Fawcett manufacturers is in attendance, and Mr. Stewart Ives who has recently completed an extended course in modern air-conditioning is also at your service. The "Fawcett" system has many exclusive features and already there are Charlottetown homes enjoying the benefits derived from this great scientific home improvement.

Being automatically controlled by thermostat, this system ensures evenness of temperature and humidity in the home. That means that it renders it possible for us to regulate amount of moisture as well as the amount of heat in the air in our homes.

"Fawcett" air-conditioning promotes health because of the above facts, and makes for greater economy because of its purifying the air (which means longer life for furniture, decorations, etc.), and in addition it aids in retaining beauty because of the cleaner air and absence of worry and bother.

When used in conjunction with the Timken oil burner, the entire outfit is automatically controlled.

All you require then is a telephone to call the oil team to your home. Such a combination, once started, will operate with almost human intelligence as long as it is supplied with fuel.

When visiting the booth you will see the famous "Fawcett" line of furnaces and Better Baking Ranges featuring the new streamline "Hostess" model, the Eureka Washers and Vacuum Cleaners and you may secure full information on all lines carried by this progressive firm including Studebaker and Willys cars and Canadian-Hayes Trailer Homes.

THE "HALLMORE" TRACTOR

A great deal of curiosity and interest is being shown by the crowds as they pass along outside the rear of the Main Building. Here is shown an out-of-the-ordinary looking machine having the appearance of a cross between a tractor and an automobile—and that is what it is.

The "tractor" is the result of long study and experiment on the part of the producers and is now ready to be placed on the market. It is made by taking any old car, so long as the motor is in fair condition and converting the rear of the body to allow the attaching of a new set of heavy traction cog-driven wheels. The makers claim this economical tractor will haul as much as any ordinary tractor.

The machine work, milling, casting, etc. is done by Messrs. Hall & Stavert, and the converting and assembling is the work of Proud & Moreside—hence the name—"Hallmore".

Those who desire may have their car fitted for and built with one of these or the entire tractor car can be purchased from either of the above named firms.

Review Credit Union Movement At Conference

(By Kenneth Leslie) (Canadian Press Correspondent) (A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) ANTIGONISH, N. S., Aug. 18—Advances of the co-operative movement in Canada's Maritime Province are being reviewed in Antigonish today by delegates to the 15th annual rural and industrial conference here.

"West Arieht has a store and a credit union," Benjamin Marchand of Louisdale, Cape Breton, reported in his address to the conference. "Pondville has a credit union. Deschamps has a store, credit union, and last winter got the fever to build a co-operative ice house so suddenly that they went to the woods and in five days got out the lumber and put up a 60-foot plant. We could smell the balsam up at Louisdale."

"L'Ardoise woke up a year ago, started a credit union and put up four fish plants. Barrahead has a credit union....

"There are 25 co-operative stores now in Eastern Nova Scotia doing $2,500,000 business a year, and 16 new stores are in formation. There are 107 credit unions with 16,000 members and assets of $350,000.

"Three years ago, seven-eighths of the families in Louisdale were on relief. In 1936, after this community was awakened by the St. Francis Xavier extension department in the person of A. B. MacDonald, a credit union was formed with 35 members and $40 capital. Today there are 170 members with a capital of $1,800, most of which is on loan, and there is a co-operative store doing $1,500 business per month, and Louisdale is a community of independent, free and contented people. Richmond County is like a sea lashed up by the winds. It is raging and boiling over with activity."

In those sharp-paced words, Benjamin Marchand described the "Christian revolution" which he said was proceeding in Eastern Nova Scotia.

Miss Sadie MacDonald of McArras Brook told of the 350 women's clubs in which the women of Eastern Nova Scotia study social questions, form credit unions, weave textiles, make gloves, serve on the boards of co-operative stores.

She outlined the primary task of the women of the country which she said was to "turn people's minds from faraway fields to their own environment; to realize that right here lie latent possibilities for an adequate life."

Michael Fournier of Greenport, N. B., Ralph Currie of Black's Head, Nfld., and Cyrene MacDonald of Mt. Stewart, P. E. I., told exciting stories of progress in the unique type of education in their respective communities.

Duncan Curry of Reserve Mines, N. S., and the Rev. Paul Hanley Purley, Ph.D., of the Catholic University, Washington, stressed the motivating power behind this movement, the animating spirit of Christ.

In the afternoon session of the conference to which the delegates were welcomed by the chancellor of the university, Most Rev. James Morrison, Bishop of Antigonish, the authoritative state was viewed somewhat contrastingly by the Rev. Alex MacKenzie of Westville, N. S., who gave a glowing account of the Italy of Mussolini, and the Rev. M. J. MacKinnon of Brook Village, N. S., who made a masterly and statesmanlike presentation of the philosophy basic to this movement which, in his words, aims to "prevent the rugged individualism of the few from running wild and destroying the individualism of the many." In contradistinction to the philosophy of Fascism, Father Kinnon stated as the first basic principle of the extension work "that it must be voluntary and the result of free action on the part of the people. Despite the famous dictum of right and left, we are unwaveringly dedicated to the principle that the people of America can find a pan, not superimposed, but applied by themselves, which will lead them to freedom and a fuller life."

Separatist Movement In North China

BY C. Y. MCDANIEL Associated Press Foreign Staff TIENTSIN China Aug 12—(AP)—An underground North China Separatist movement, encouraged by Japanese, came into the open here and in Peiping today. It sought separate peace with Japan.

It urged the establishment of an anti-war and anti-communist administration divorced from the Nanking Central government in a "North China for North China" campaign.

The North China Youth Party and similar groups, through open distribution of handbills and newspaper advertisements, advocated complete break with Nanking and establishment of an autonomous government, independent of backing from "rapacious war lords and corrupt officials" for the northern Chinese.

They stressed the necessity for Sino-Japanese economic cooperation.

Twice it appeared, the President McKinley itself was in a crossfire from Chinese and Japanese guns. The devastation and loss of life that we watched must have been enormous.

Thousands of Chinese were trapped in Yangtzeppoo, Chapei, Kiang-wang and Pootung under an inferno of high explosives and incendiary bombs dropped by whole squadrons of Curtis Falcon type Japanese bombers.

The magnificent Shanghai civilian centre, a special target of the Japanese bombers, was perforated by air bombs. A new group of classic Chinese-style buildings, it had cost $5,000,000 in gold to build.

SINGAPORE, Aug. 18—(C.P.)—The first battalion of the Middlesex regiment will sail from this Straits Settlement fortress Friday for Shanghai via Hong Kong to reinforce British troops protecting lives and property in the ravaged city.
