New Saskatchewan Tax Proposal

REGINA, Sept. 8—(CP)—Failure of the Dominion and Provincial Governments to evolve a more equitable distribution of the national income was the reason why the Saskatchewan C.C.F. Government was considering imposing a tax on outgoing interest from capital invested in the province, Premier T.C. Douglas said in an interview today.

Mr. Douglas said he did not believe Ontario and Quebec would agree to a more equitable distribution of the national income unless "some sort of economic or political pressure is brought to bear on those provinces."

Stalin Honors Tito

LONDON, Sept. 7—(CP-Reuters)—Marshal Stalin has conferred the order of Suvorov, first class, the highest Soviet military decoration, on Marshal Tito "for outstanding successes in the task of direction his troops against Hitlerite Germany, the common enemy of the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia," the Moscow radio said today.

EMMISSARIES DISAPPEAR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 — (AP) — State Secretary Hull said today the Bulgarian Emissaries who went to Cairo several weeks ago seem to have disappeared.

He said he thought maybe they went back to Bulgaria or perhaps to Moscow.

An attempt to arrange an armistice with Britain and the United States was broken off when the Bulgarian government changed last week and Moscow's declaration of war further obscured the diplomatic situation.

BLACKBURN, England — (CP) —For five days recently the river that normally flows through this town was lost. A heavy rainstorm caused the river to burst a big sewer under the river bed, making a cavity into which the river flowed.

The PENALTY of LEADERSHIP

One of the penalties of those with a reputation is the name of being high priced.

MacLean Funeral Service is no higher priced than any other establishment and in many cases lower.

"How much will the family spend?" never enters into our calculations.

Our wide assortment of funeral merchandise gives our clients the greatest freedom of choice and we make no effort to influence their selection.

Regardless of the cost of the service selected, every funeral that we conduct, receives the same careful, conscientious attention.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Freeman Reeves, who departed this life on Sep.. 9, 1943.

No one knows how much I miss her
No one knows the bitter pain
I have suffered since I lost her
Life has never been the same
Though her smile is gone forever

When they sometimes see me smile
But they little know the heart ache
That the smile hides all the while.

Scouter's Notes

At seven o'clock on August 15th a group of enthusiastic scouters including men and women set out from Charlottetown and hiked to Southport to have a weaner roast.

Upon arriving at their destination a cheerful campfire was soon started by Harry Pineau, scout master of the first Charlottetown troop.

While waiting for the weaners to be roasted, the scouters enjoyed a sing-song which was under the direction of Frank Costello, S.M. of the sixth Charlottetown troop who was capably assisted by Miss Adele MacLean, cub leader of the Zion pack, and James Trainor leader of the first pack. Miss MacLean must certainly be complimented on the fine way in which she assisted at the campfire, especially in the singing.

After the sing-song, lunch was served to the scouters by Robert Chandler S.M. of the Salvation Army Troop and Lorne Macdonald T.L. of the sixth troop.

At about eleven o'clock the scouters, after having a very enjoyable time, hiked back to Charlottetown.

Summerside News

On Labour Day Scouts from the three troops in Summerside assembled at the High School grounds from where they set out on a hike to Brown's Woods. This hike which was under the capable leadership of Chester Macdonald, scout master of the first Summerside troop, was the fourth one which they had this summer.

Visiting scouters who were present on this hike were Frank Costello, S.M. of the sixth Charlottetown troop, and Lorne Macdonald T.L. of the sixth troop.

After the scouts had finished cooking their dinner and had cleaned up their site, many enjoyable scout games were played. A very good game of softball was played in which Chesters team came through successful with a score of 21 to 9, thanks to the umpire.

After an enjoyable supper the scouts procured the wood for the campfire which was soon cut up. The campfire measured up to the usual standard of scout campfires. All the old songs stunts and skits were recalled.

When the campfire had been extinguished the scouts hiked back to Summerside after having had a very enjoyable day.

The news about the second official bow scout camp held on P.E.I. this year will appear in this paper at the same time next week.

Come on you other scout leaders on the Island, and send in some news about your troop meetings or hikes or anything else concerning scouts, cubs and scouters. Send this news into the Provincial Boy Scout Headquarters 101 Queen St. Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Good Scouting to you all.

Ch'town Teachers Discuss Problems At Convention

A one-day session of the Charlottetown branch of the P.E.I. Teachers' Federation was held yesterday opening at 10.30 A.M. in the Prince of Wales College auditorium. After the enrolment and appointment of committees, the president, Mr. Claude Wood of Southport, presided. Mr. P. W. Turner spoke on behalf of War Savings Stamps. He thanked the teachers for the splendid work they had done in the sale of Stamps—$30,000 worth having been sold in the schools of the Province. He urged the teachers to use all their influence in promoting the coming Victory Loan.

The main address of the afternoon session was given by Mr. Lloyd Shaw, director of education. Mr. Shaw recommended that the teachers make their organization as strong as possible in order thereby to increase the interest and raise the standard in education. It was very important that the teachers and the Department of Education work together for the common good, Mr. Shaw stated.

Mr. Reginald MacDonald, representing the executive of the provincial organization, complimented the teachers present in their interest in their profession and said that the teachers of the Province looked confidently to Mr. Lloyd Shaw to institute some worthwhile reforms in the Provinces present education system.

The President's address conveyed the information that while some teachers had received salary increases, the district supplements were still considered too small.

The following resolutions were adopted:

"That we as teachers pledge our unswerving loyalty to King and Country.

"That the executive of the P.E.I. Teachers' Federation urge the Department of Education to grant the teachers at least five days cumulative sick leave with pay.

"That the Department of Education be urged to conduct a summer school to further the training of the P.E.Island teachers.

"That the thanks of the convention be extended to our new Director of Education, Mr. L.W. Shaw, also to Miss Newson, Mr. MacPhail, Mr. Turner, and Mr. MacDonald and all those who have helped to make this Convention a success including the faculty of Prince of Wales who gave us the use of the College auditorium".

"That the Department of Education be asked to make some provision for the instructing of rural teachers who have not obtained a certificate necessary to teach First Aid."

The following officers were elected: President, Mr. Claude Wood of Southport; vice-President Miss Gertrude Villet, Bunbury; Secretary., Miss Louise Hessian Parkdale.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father Charles McGaughy who God called to Heaven on Sept. 7, 1940.

We are thinking of you in silence
No eyes can see us weep
But ever in our aching heart
Your beautiful memories we keep
The flowers placed upon your grave
Will wither and decay
But the wonderful love that is in our hearts
Will never fade away.

Ever remembered by wife, son and daughters. 9-9-1i

STYLE STRESS SIMPLICITY

The first group of Molyneux imports from his most recent collection made in London, to be shown in the United States is now being displayed in New York.

The group is typical Molyneaux, daytime clothes (suits coats and dresses), very simple, but with a greater use of flared and rather full skirts to make them look different. Dinner dresses, and these are exceptionally attractive, are stalk-slim.

Molyneux is only infrequently linked with period influences, and it is, of course, his practice to temper the influence so that it produces the very merest evidence of its use. This time, Directoire is suggested, but certainly only hints of it. A big Robespierre collar on a brown coat buttoned slim as a stocking; a waistline seaming of a dress that curves high at front (the back curves below the waistline); a stunning brown suit with top seaming that has a vague Directorie suggestion, and then a charming dinner dress with bodice-top (slightly above normally waistlined) and short circular capelet, both of green velvet while skirt is green.

In the fuller-skirt dresses, mostly flare-goers, but also a couple that are gathered, their coupling with a longer-waisted supple top, is also a change from the fitted basque. That Molyneux likes this fulness is seen in the black afternoon dress with very rippled tunic plus the flared skirt.
