PASSION WEEK
This is the week when Christ bowed low with grief. Entered the garden as the day declined:
Took those who understood Him best aside,
Then left them there to watch the white road wind.
How human were those friends whom He did trust
To watch the lonely hours so dark,
To keep Him company, while He retired to pray
Alone! Returning found them all asleep!
None but the Father could them understand
The anguish and the loneliness He felt.
In agony He prayed: "Let this cup pass
If 'tis Thy will!" In heaviness He knelt.
Thus in this Passion Week we bring our cares,
Our sorrows, loneliness and agony,
To Him who bore our griefs upon the cross.
That we may know His sweetest sympathy!
Ethel M. Hall.

Mr. Morton Dew, who for many years associated with W. K. Rogers Agencies Limited, has inaugurated a modern insurance counselling service, with offices in the Eastern Trust Building in Charlottetown.

Mr. Dew, who is widely and favourably known in the insurance field, will bring to the insuring public the benefit of his wide experience in providing modern tailored-to-fit insurance coverages. Leading Canadian, British, and American insurance companies will be represented, and all classes of insurance handled. In addition, facilities are available for National Housing Act and other mortgage loans.

BIBLE LESSON

"And when He had sent the multitudes away, He went up into a mountain to pray." — Matthew 14:23

Christ at the end of a most strenuous day sent away even the disciples so that He could go aside and pray. He kept Himself related to His great Source of Power. Prayer is one of human nature's greatest spiritual needs. Alas, that so many of us so often seem to fail to recognize that need! The price we pay is the loss of power. We become like wicks with all the tubes burned out; and when a rich concert is "on the air," we are "dead" and our lives make no music. We have not maintained our power. How we rob the world when we let our power lie "dead" instead of making our lives vibrant with current and energy! How we rob ourselves of joy and achievement!

Everal, gracious Father, grant that Thy Holy Spirit may direct our thoughts. Our hearts are burdened with thoughts at the thought of all Thy mercies, but far beyond all thought and thankfulness is the story of Thy great redemption. Long suffering love and the Cross of the Saviour of mankind were necessary to reconcile us to the
