Anderson of Charlottetown, Royalty received a bright and gorgeous diamond May 27th, from his son, Fred who is a member of the 6th Mounted Rifles which participated in the heaviest of the recent fighting in France. Accompanying the letter was a copy of "The Listening Post," a small newsy paper full of witty prose and poetry, printed in France by permission of Lt. Col. W. O'Brien, D. S. O. commanding the 7th Canadian Infantry Battalion. The paper is edited by Capt. W. F. Orr, whose news editor is Lt. Cpl. H. Mayor. The following letter from Major W. B. Prowse may be of interest to the "women of Prince Edward Island":

Y. M. C. A. WORK.—Capt. Harold C. Cross in writing from Shorncliffe says that he is kept quite busy with the Y. M. C. A. work at Caesar's Camp in the Shorncliffe area, but may be moved at any time. The Canadians are well thought of as far as behavior goes. The boys appreciate the Y. M. C. A. to its fullest, especially in the evenings after a hard day's work when they can sit in the hut and enjoy the fine programs nightly provided.

Although not officially announced it is known through private letters that the 98th Siege Battery is now in France. This is the first Canadian Battery a Prince Edward Island one at that, to land in France, and will be the first to reach the trenches. It is a Battery in which Prince Edward Island has already expressed its pride and in which it will yet taken even a greater pride. That it will maintain the splendid reputation won in England during its training and testing those who know the calibre of the men of which it is composed are assured. Every Islander will watch with interest and sympathy any step in the future history of this fine body of men under Major W. B. Prowse and his gallant officers.

The June term of the Supreme Court opened at Summerside yesterday, Mr. Justice Hazard presiding. The following composed the Grand Jury: Andrew Bowness, Kensington, (Foreman) Artemas Clark, North Bedouque; C. J. Wright, New Amman; John Dawson, Tryon; Sydney Richardson, Thomas Lauchlin, St. Eleonors; John Riley, Cape Wolfe; Jesse A. Wright, North Bedouque; Wm. Mutart North Carleton; Harry Darby, Abrams' Village; S. M. Hicks, Summerside; Beloni Gaudet, Miscouche; John A. Hackett, Tignish; James Tappin, Black Banks; Sylvain Gallant, Piusville; Stephen M. Arsenault, Abrams' Village; Leo Pratt, Lot 14; Felix Arsenault, Wellington; Peter J.

Bulger, Cape Wolfe; Michael Fitzsimmons, Montrose; John Townsend, Travellers' Rest, Lauchlin McNevin, Tyne Valley.

The criminal docket this year is a heavy one, there being seven indictments before the Grand Jury. The Grand Jury brought in true bills in the following: The King vs. McPherson, Murder; The King vs. Acker and Miller, stealing. In the case of the King vs. Juvet, charged with shooting with intent to do bodily harm the Jury found no bill. The following cases are yet to come before them: The King vs. Cahill, incendiarism; King vs. Palmer, Perjury; King vs. Kayes and Morin, stealing foxes.

The civil docket is not heavy. McPherson, Acker and Miller were arranged and pleaded not guilty. Among the lawyers present besides the local lawyers are Attorney General Mathieson, J. J. Johnston, Gilbert Gaudet and C. D. McCallum, Charlottetown; Messrs. Tanton and Rogers Alberton.—C.

"GHOSTS" AT THE PRINCE EDWARD.—One of the most powerfully dramatic plays ever reproduced in film, Ibsen's "Ghosts," was the chief feature at the Prince Edward Theatre last evening when there were full houses at both performances. "Ghosts" is a problem play dealing with the subject of heredity and vividly portrays how what is bred in the bone—or blood—develops and comes to maturity in the offspring. The theme is not a pleasant one—one of Ibsen's plays is—but its painful realism is a welcome change from the average film shown on the cinematograph. Seldom is such acting seen out of the capitals of the world. It holds the spectator spellbound from the first scene of the first act to the last scene of the fifth act. Ibsen shows how the cultivation of a love for strong drink in the child of a parent given to the use of intoxicants ultimately leads to his enslavement and ruin body and soul, and how a child of passion, notwithstanding her careful upbringing, finally throws respectability to the wind. There is no happy ending to the play. Ibsen tries to prove that there is no earthly salvation for those with the hereditary taint of moral weakness. The lesson to be drawn is that those cursed with organic weakness must be safeguarded from temptation until they themselves have obtained the mental mastery. Every parent should see this play, everyone having the interest of the community at heart will learn something from its powerful though silent portrayal on the screen. An antidote to the realistic drama is provided by the production of a highly diverting comedy entitled "The Rocky Road to Love."

A telegram received yesterday brought the sad news that Lieutenant Ralph Rogers, son of Mr. Joseph Rogers, Kensington, had been killed in action. Lieut. Rogers enlisted with the 55th Battalion and crossed to England with that unit early last November. Shortly afterwards he took a three months course in an Infantry Training School in London. Early in May he crossed over to France, and within 24 hours of the time he left England was in the front trenches. No stronger commendation than this could be expressed of Lieutenant Rogers' standing as a man and as an officer. The London school in which he trained is under British Government inspection and his success is indicated by the fact that he was qualified as an officer at the front the moment he left the school. As a man and as a soldier, during his almost lifelong residence in this his native province, and during his stay at Valcartier, he was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him and was especially loved and trusted by the soldier boys under him and who will sincerely mourn his death. He was 32 years of age and leaves to mourn his widow, formerly Miss Lawson, daughter of Mr. John A. Lawson of this City and two children, also his father, his sister Miss Edith Rogers and his half brother Mr. W. K. Rogers both of this City. To those who mourn his untimely death the Guardian extends its deepest sympathy.

Made from pure, rich tobacco, every ounce of which is carefully selected, then blended according to our process.

King George's

NAVY PLUG

Has a delicious, non-irritating sweet taste—and it is universally recognized that, sweetened tobacco is much more healthful than the old fashion "strong", unsweetened plug.

It leaves a long, lingering flavor and guards the teeth from the ravages of "acid mouth", the cause of nearly all tooth decay.

TOASTED CORN FLAKES

TRUST the children to know what is good to eat. Kellogg's is a warm favorite with them because they like the delicious crispness of the delicately toasted flakes. Mother knows that Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes are good by the way the youngsters thrive on them. They contain much of the nourishment that little bodies need, and their extreme digestibility makes them kind to little "tummies."
