Miss Florence Turneau of Boston, Mass., arrived in Charlottetown on Tuesday night.

E. J. Carrier and Wm. Carrier of Earnscliffe left yesterday on a visit to friends in Crapaud.

Hyndman & Co., of this City had advice by cable Thursday of F. W. Hyndman's safe arrival at Liverpool, England.

Paton & Co start their usual summer weekly half holiday Monday. This is the eighth year this holiday has been established.

A. Murphy of Bellevue who has been very ill from bronchitis is improving somewhat and hopes soon to be around again as usual.

The Rev. C. K. Hudson will preach in the Methodist Church Vernon River Sunday morning at 10.30, and at the Cherry Valley Methodist church at2.30. There will be no service in the Vernon River Church Sunday evening.

The new colours of the 82nd Regiment will be formally presented to the regiment this afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Parade grounds in Victoria Park. This is a very interesting ceremony and one which has never taken place here and probably will not again for many years. The colours will also be consecrated at the same time by Chaplain Fullerton.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of C. D. McLean, Clyde River, when Miss Kathleen Ramsey and Spurgeon Hickox, were united in marriage by the Rev. G. R. White, Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed on the lawn in the presence of about fifty invited guests. The wedding march was played by Mrs. J. D. Jenkins, City. The bride was attended by Miss Beatrice Hickox, while the groom was ably supported by Edmond Waller, Charlottetown. The bride was prettily dressed in a princess gown of white Batiste, trimmed with lace, The bridesmaid wore pale green voile with cream lace trimmings. The brides appearing out dress is of brown panama cloth with hat to match. The bride was given away by her mother. The presents were both numerous and costly

The following is from "The Morning Albertan," Calgary:—There is to be an exhibit of live stock from Prince Edward Island at the Dominion exhibition in Calgary and this entry was very gratefully received by the exhibition company, but President VanWart and Manager Richardson declined to let the exhibitors bring the island with them, so as to give the animals a more natural atmosphere. President VanWart refused for two reasons. In the first place there were so many exhibits coming that they could not conveniently place the province in any part of the grounds and in the second place if they allowed this to one exhibitor they would have to give the same favor to the other Maritime provinces and perhaps Manitoba as well, and to place these four provinces in the Victoria Park would be crowding it altogether too much.

On Dominion Day while Falton Moreside, North River, son of John Moreside, was crossing the bridge by the Baptist parsonage on the North River Road his young horse took fright from the inexcusable state of the bridge and jumped over the side landing in the water nearly fifteen feet below. The lad had presence of mind enough to jump and escape serious injuries. The wagon was broken to pieces and it is a miracle how the horse escaped death or broken limbs. In April the bridge was washed away and it was temporarily covered with longers and then with earth. The earth has fallen through and there is nothing but the bare longers left and some of them are so far apart as to allow a horse to step through. Ladies coming and going are obliged to get out of their carriages and lead their horses across. The bridge in its present condition is dangerous and may cause loss of life and the government should have it repaired without delay.

In the hours of the golden dawn of Wednesday a merry patty of nine from this city embarked on the str. Harland on pleasure bent. Their destination was Crapaud, and they planned to return the following day. Non of the essentials of a pleasant holiday were lacking, and the party being balanced with a wise discernment soon found that the str. Harland lent itself genially to the romance of the occasion. The trip up was delightful, and its pleasure was greatly enhanced by the kind attentions of the officers of the boat. The stay at Crapaud afforded opportunities to discover how much happiness can be extracted from such a visit under such conditions, and the return trip to Charlottetown on Thursday brought the party home with fond memories thronging their minds There was an inspiration in the trip to which all—or nearly all succumbed and the occasion is one that will not soon be forgotten. Incidentally it may be mentioned that some of the excursionists bear substantial token of the trip in various mosquito bites distributed impartially over the fair bodies of the most attractive members of the party.

The notice of the closing performance of the Mary Emerson Co., at the Opera House on Thursday evening was unavoidably crowded out of yesterday's Guardian. The play presented was Will O' The Wisp, and this romantic little drama was acted in a way that translated all its charm with a fidelity that was greatly enjoyed by the large audience. In the leading role Miss Emerson deepened the favorable impression formed on her first appearance and the play was carried out to a most successful and pleasing conclusion. The visit of this company was all too brief.

On Tuesday evening, June 30, at pastor's residence, 7 Beethoven St., Jamaica Plain, Mass, Thomas Woodman of Jamaica Plain and Miss Elizabeth J. Jardine formerly of Pownal were united in marriage by Rev. George Martar of the Egleston Square Methodist Church, the ceremony being witnessed by the immediate relatives only. The single ring service was used and the bride was most becomingly attired in a traveling costume of brown silk. After an extended tour the greater part of which will be spent at the former home of the bride in Pownal, Mr. and Mrs. Woodman will reside in Jamacia Plain where Mr. Woodman is employed by the N.Y.N.H. and H. R.R.

The singing at New Wonderland last evening was delightful and George Hennessey in his snappy Irish song "The Donovans" made instant friends from the large audiences gathered to hear him during the evening.
