gusts up to 60 miles an hour ripped through the province, accompanied by rain and hail, and caused untold crop damage, power blackouts, and tied up shipping.

The trail of damage the storm left in its wake included numerous breaks in the lines of Canada's major communications systems between Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal. Ottawa was literally isolated for more than 24 hours.

Cured tobacco valued at $10,000 was destroyed by fire resulting from gale-like winds at Delhi in southwestern Ontario. The tobacco had been stored in wooden bins heated to high temperatures by furnaces in their bases. The wind caused the fire to leap from the furnaces to the under dry tobacco.

The storm also caused a navigation traffic jam at the mouth of the Detroit River, near Amherstburg, where about 30 large lake freighters were stalled on their way upstream. A wind that reached 35 miles an hour at its peak whipped water back into the man-made channel, lowering water levels more than three feet and making the entrance hazardous.

Gale warnings were up on all of the Great Lakes except Lake Superior. Heavy loss was reported by fruit farmers in the Quinte district of live, expressed concern "for the welfare of our union and also with that of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada."

It came just two weeks before the annual T.L.C. conference at which the 6,000-man red-ringed Seaman's Union was expected either to be permanently expelled or voted out in the 400,000-member congress.

The strike began when the Shipping Federation of Canada, operator of more than 30 deep-sea ships, signed with the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.). The C.S.U. immediately called the walking out of the men on the S.I.U. contract was illegal because the A.F.L. union did not represent the majority of seamen on the ships.

The union charged its suspension in June was the result of "outrageous interference and foreign dictation in the internal affairs of the union." It expressed hope that eventually it might "re-occupy our rightful place" in an autonomous trade union centre, free of all foreign domination and interference.

Retaliating charges that the C.S.U. suspension was the result of A.F.L. "dictation" the union later said that President William Green of the A.F.L. had asked that delegates from affiliated unions vote for suspension at the Calgary conference.

Resistance to such suspension was justified but "on the other hand, we are aware of the painful fact that to bring this issue on the floor of the Calgary convention in the face of iron-clad dictatorial orders from abroad, would undoubtedly lead to the most serious division and internal struggle in all congress unions and perhaps even to splitting the trade union movement."

The C.S.U. had, therefore, decided to eliminate the suspension issue by withdrawing from the T.L.C. The withdrawal was to take effect from date of the letter.

The Sney-Marjolin report said: "This dollar shortage is not solely a European problem. It is a problem for the whole free world. It is our conviction that the fundations of this problem must be reconsidered at a very early date and that, as soon as the present difficulties have been overcome, the organization will have to concentrate all its efforts to this end."

The post-mortem reveals — we're getting pretty sick of holding those post-mortems — that in going down to a second defeat at the hands of the Charlottetown Abegweits, the Curran & Briggs team is in the middle of one of the most disastrous batting slumps they have ever been in. Eight hits in eighteen innings is pretty feeble clouting for those boys who have hit well all summer. Some people will tell you that there is nothing in the theory that left-handed hitters cannot hit, against right-handed pitchers. We read an article criticizing Leo Durocher for continually switching his line-up as side the slab. Wednesday gave a rather convincing argument in favor of the theory as far as C & B batters were concerned. The left-handed hitters: Gordie MacKay, Les Gaudet, Frank Outway, all got hits and Alan Stewart was a sliver. Miss Gaudet, Hank Landry, Syl Bernard, Joe Bernard, Henry Gallant, Emmet Mulholland, all went hitless.

The left-handed and the right-handed hitters were placed in alternate positions in the line-up and considering that they are forming like the old million-dollar infield of the Philadelphia Athletics indefinitely either. The law of averages says they'll have a bad day and kick the ball around as if it were a soccer match instead of baseball. If you don't mind our having another hunch, we would say that Sunday, the 4th of September, could easily be that day. Well, those two hunches should take care of things, don't you think? Maybe we haven't proved the proposition well enough to write Q.E.D. under it, but it looks pretty good to us and we're looking forward to a banner day in Charlottetown Sunday. We're not naturally hard-hearted, but we are going to enjoy the Abegweits' infield stumbling over — that old pill, and those baseballs the C & B sluggers are going to make will be well worth travelling forty miles to see. So, cheer up, Summerside fans, and get ready to celebrate.

If, by some inexplicable quirk of fate, things don't pan out as we have outlined above, and the Abegweits take the game and the championship, let's cuss a little under our breath, get it over, and take our defeat with a smile. Let's congratulate the Capital City boys and wish them all the luck in the world in their quest for mainland honors.

The midlets and bantams of Charlottetown and Summerside are playing in Summerside Saturday. This will be the first of a home-and-home series for the minor championships of Prince Edward Island. If you have time on

S' Side Board of Trade Seeks Elimination of Level Crossing Dangers

At the opening fall meeting of the Summerside Board of Trade held last evening in the Town Hall with Mr. T.E. Hickey, the president, presiding, the Town Improvement Committee, Alan Holman, chairman, brought to the attention of the members the dangerous conditions which exist at the various railway crossings both in the town and at the town approaches. The matter was discussed at length by the Board and a resolution was adopted that the Summerside Town Council be asked to contact the Canadian National Railway authorities with a view of having suitable warnings placed at these crossings.

The general condition of the Summerside waterfront was reviewed by the meeting and Mr. Alan Holman, speaking for the Town Improvement Committee, spoke of the possibilities of converting the entire waterfront into a real summer resort beach. He pointed out that here we have the possibilities of having a waterfront comparable to any of the much publicized resorts if only some effort were made in that direction and as an initial step suggested that the entire waterfront be policed to prevent further dumping at any point and we would then as a result in a few years have beaches comparable to any and this would be an added attraction to the tourists and a great assistance to the future of the industry.

The matter of the brook at the East End approach of the town was also given much discussion at last night's meeting. It was brought to the attention of the Board that since there are no sewerage facilities for the residents living in the vicinity that eight houses are using a septic tank which was originally provided some years ago for the use of three. Furthermore this tank carries the oil drainage from the light plant, and thus there is the additional fire hazard to be taken into consideration. A resolution suggested by Mr. Alan Holman that this matter be brought to the attention of the Town Council with a view of having the condition reviewed was later withdrawn and Mr. Hickey, the President, suggested that the Council be notified and if no steps were taken that the matter be again brought up at the next meeting of the Board.

The presence of ragweed in the town of Summerside along the railway tracks was noted and in view of the efforts being made by the Provincial Government to eradicate the scourge from the province entirely, it was felt that some definite action be taken to do everything possible to not only prevent the spread of the weed but to eradicate it entirely from this area.

Mr. A.S. Hopkins gave a detailed report of the work of his committee in connection with the recent essay contest "Canadian heritage" which the board had sponsored as well as the work done on the "Get Out and Vote" campaign also sponsored by the local board.

your hands Saturday afternoon, try to get over and see the kids in action. The games will be run simultaneously, we understand, one at the High School diamond and one at the Curran & Briggs diamond.

Emmett Mulholland will not be with the Curran & Briggs team on Sunday. Emmett's brother was involved in a car accident and is now in the hospital in Lewis so Emmett is leaving a little earlier than was anticipated. We certainly appreciate having Mulholland on the ball club this year. He is a smart ball player and knows the game from A to Z.

Kinsmen Open New Club Year At Summerside

The first meeting of the Kinsmen Club of Summerside in the new club year was held yesterday evening at Leo Coyle's Restaurant. Retiring president Charles Hogan and the recently elected president Elmer Offer were joint chairmen. Bill Bryden of the Charlottetown club who is stationed at the Summerside R.C.A.F. station was a guest.

Annual reports of the past year's activities were read by treasurer Dave Carnegie, Greg Mulholland, chairman of the sports committee, and Elmer Murphy, chairman of the program committee. Retiring president Charlie Hogan then read his annual report and at its conclusion formally turned over the president's pin to president Elmer Offer.

President Offer congratulated the outgoing officers on the fine reports turned in and on behalf of the club presented past president Charlie Hogan with a past president's pin.

The sum of ten dollars was voted to assist in paying the cost of transporting children of the town to the musical festival. It was decided that regular bi-weekly meetings of the club will commence on Tuesday, September 13th.—S.
