It is a well known fact that meat, particularly fat meat should be largely consumed during the cold weather. Fat meat with a good digestion produces heat. We do not purpose to go into this subject scientifically (even if we could) but ask your doctor if we are not correct. We also maintain that any food improperly digested has a weakening and debilitating effect on the system—hence the chill and inability to resist cold when the stomach is out of order.

Mac's Fruit Salts. We sell a gross a month of these salts. They are fully equal to any of the preparations sold from two to four times the price. THEY WERE FIFTY YEARS WEDDED. The Boston Globe of Monday prints excellent photographs of Charles and Mrs. S. Wood, of East Boston, who have celebrated their golden wedding and gives the following story of their lives: Fifty years ago today Charles and Mrs. S. Wood of 219 Leyden street, East Boston, were married, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Chester Field of the old Saratoga street M. E. Church. Tonight the couple will observe their golden wedding with a reception in the Orient Heights M. E. Church. Mr. and Mrs. Wood are probably the oldest couple residing in East Boston, which has been their home since 1852. Up to twenty years ago they made their home in the down town section, then they moved to Orient Heights. Both enjoy the best of health. For the reception tonight an elaborate programme has been arranged by the members of the Orient Heights church. Mr. Wood was born in 1834 in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, and Mrs. Wood was born in Milton N. S. a few years later. Both came to East Boston in 1852 and two years later were married. Mr. Wood has never used tobacco or intoxicating liquor. He has an uncle who is 105 years old. Mr. Wood is a great grandfather, his great-grandson being Charles Robert Wood of Tacoma Wash. who is seventeen months old. For many years Mr. Wood was employed as a ship carpenter, and built and designed many yachts with his brother, Samuel Wood. During his many years in the ship carpentering business Mr. Wood worked for Donald McKay and D. D. Kelly, and helped in the construction of several of the yachts that were built at Jeffrey Point. He was the youngest of fourteen children, several of whom are now living. He has a sister in Hyde Park, Miss Mary Wood, who is ninety six years old. Mr. and Mrs. Wood in the earlier days attended the Saratoga street M. E. church and the Meridian street Bethel church. They were among the founders of the Orient Heights M. E. church.

EDITOR'S MAIL. CIVIC POLITICS.

SIR:—How is it with the many aspirants for civic honors? With the single exception of B. C. Prowse, Esq., not one of them has publicly announced his views of civic issues. An individual, personal canvass is actively progressing, but how this can be consistently or successfully conducted without any previous public announcement, must always perplex the voters to whom the good Government and well being of the city are superior to the individuality and personality of the candidate. Such a canvass, aside from the needless expenditure of much time and energy, cannot but arouse the suspicion of trimming. What would be representative of the people, whether federal, provincial or civic, has ever sought the suffrage of his fellow men without first publicly announcing his views upon the main issues of the contest about to be waged. Public meetings, without a previous public expression of convictions and intentions, cannot but be disappointing to both audience and speaker. A brief concise card in the Press would remove many annoyances, would bring to the public the knowledge of how you will act and where you stand upon the issues in question. Such a card, however, will commit the author to certain lines of action and prevent any trimming. Is it that the present aspirants fear to thus commit themselves that they have not publicly proclaimed themselves as already stated. This neglect on their part is very likely to arouse in the minds of all thoughtful serious electors some suspicious of trimming. Come gentlemen aspirants, give us your "Card." Let it be brief and concise but also let it be explicit. WARD FIVE. January 13th, 1904.

AFTER THE HUSTLE AND BUSTLE of Christmas perhaps there is someone forgotten, to whom you intend sending a present. Send Something For a New Year's Gift. To All Who Are Interested in Shorthand and Typewriting. Every young man and young woman going out into the business world, should have a thorough knowledge of Shorthand and Typewriting. Good stenographers are in great demand, but fair ones with but little knowledge of office work have a poor chance of securing a position. This is an exacting age. Business men are willing to pay good salaries to stenographers who can do their work correctly. The mere knowledge of shorthand does not make you a stenographer. Can you do all kinds of typewriter work? Can you make carbon copies? Can you use the Mimeograph? Do you understand the copying of letters? —the filing of letters? Do you know the correct forms for all business letters, leases, deeds, partnership forms, etc., etc. If the outline of a letter is dictated to you, can you put it in proper form? Unless you get a thorough drilling in all the above, you will never become a good stenographer, and will never be able to secure and hold a first-class position. We teach all of this work in our training office, in connection with the Shorthand Department, All leading Commercial Colleges are introducing those training offices. We were the first to introduce one on the Island. To the beginner in Shorthand we would say, "You will not find the study difficult under our teaching." To the student who already has some knowledge of Shorthand, but who never has had an opportunity of being trained in office work, we say, "This is your chance." Don't think of trying to do ammanuensis work without having a thorough training in above lines. Compare the work of our students with that of others. Call at our College and see us work. We shall be pleased to have you call at any time during College hours. Very respectfully yours, W. MORAN, Principal. Union Commercial College, Offer's Building, Queen St.
