Mandate Over Gibraltar?

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A suggestion that Great Britain share the control of Gibraltar with the United States was made by Henry Morgenthau, today, on his return from a seven months' trip abroad, primarily as chairman of a committee appointed by President Wilson to investigate pogroms in Poland.

Referring to his previous advocacy of the acceptance by the United States of a mandate for Constantinople, Armenia and Anatolia, Mr. Morgenthau said:

"Our people will expect Great Britain to welcome us in the Mediterranean and the near East, not as a rival or competitor, but as a full partner with all rights, privileges and responsibilities. I have thought deeply as to how Great Britain can demonstrate her willingness, and think the best way would be by her giving us an equal control of the Straits of Gibraltar."

Mr. Morgenthau said he offered the suggestion on his own initiative without the knowledge of any governmental authorities. The idea did not occur to him, he said, until he was bound for New York by the Adriatic. Asked if he knew how English statesmen would feel toward such a suggestion, he said:

"I was told by leading English statesmen that they would be willing to accept almost any conditions for the United States to assume these mandates.

"The British are extremely anxious for us to take this mandate. The question is if we do so, whether we would have absolute safe access and ingress to the Near East. The open door is needed at all times. Owing to certain propaganda here there seems to be a feeling of doubt among Americans as to what sort of treatment would be accorded them. A certain bridge is needed over which these people can get together. I think Americans would consider it the greatest earnestness of co-operation by Great Britain if she would share with us one of her dearest possessions. If we invested hundreds of millions in the Near East, and put our fleet in the Mediterranean we would want to have the absolute right to go there when we liked and as we liked.

Mr. Morgenthau declined to reveal his conclusions as to Polish pogroms in advance of his official report. He expects to present that to Secretary Lansing tomorrow.

Referring again to the question of mandates, he said:

"If the United States does not rise to its responsibility we will be looked upon as shirkers."

He expressed confidence that the people at large would assume these responsibilities.

When You Wake Up Drink Glass Of Hot Water

WASH POISONS AND TOXINS FROM SYSTEM BEFORE PUTTING FOOD INTO STOMACH. Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do. For every ounce of food taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment. A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast, each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the alimentary canal before eating more food. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside bathing.
