French Passenger To Become Editor

PARIS, Nov. 11.—The shipping situation showed a large increase in both freight and passengers arriving in France over the corresponding period of last year. This is due to the partial crop failure of 1921, which forced the country to purchase large supplies of grain in the United States and Argentina. Shipments are now pouring into Marseilles in a steady stream, although the prices range about 40 francs a ton above the local figures. Added to this traffic, all of the raw materials, which France has been compelled to buy in foreign markets, are now arriving in Marseilles, Havre and Bordeaux. Among the vessels may be numbered those bearing coffee from Brazil and Madagascar, and others bringing rubber from South America and the Congo. Cotton is arriving slowly at Havre, at the rate of 2,000 tons a week. Approximately 100,000 tons have been received, of which 80,000 tons came from the United States. Shipments of cotton are greatly increased over the preceding year, due to the rapid improvement in the textile industry. The usual shipments of silk from American and Japanese ports are suspended, awaiting an improvement in exchange, but Chinese silk is coming in as a result of the exchange there. Vessels are now leaving France empty, as this will be changed in the early spring when raw materials now arriving will be manufactured ready to ship to all parts of the world, especially to the French Colonies. Passenger traffic shows a decrease from the summer tourist season, but more autumn arrivals are recorded than at any time since the war. This is said to be due to the world-wide increase in business part of the year, which has been accompanied by the arrival of many unemployed ships in French ports, but less made a speech, which was followed by three cheers for him, led already crowded and trains south by Sir Robert Baden-Powell, and ward was packed. ## His Royal Highness In Important Roles

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 11.—His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales plays many important parts in his position as heir apparent to the throne of Great Britain, and he plays them well. His popularity in the United Kingdom is growing, if that is possible; at any rate, he is generally beloved, and always heartily welcomed wherever he goes. His readiness to adapt himself to any condition or circumstance tending to bind the people to the throne is at all times noticeable, and he gives freely of his services in every good cause to which he is invited to contribute a part. An example of his willingness to please the people was recently furnished at the great Scout rally at the Alexandra Palace, London, where His Highness appeared in an exact replica of the uniform of the chief Scout, Sir Robert Baden-Powell, and took an active part in the big rally. There were between 50,000 and 60,000 Scouts, officers and cubs at the rally, every section of the kingdom being represented. The Prince was accompanied by the Duke of Connaught, who wore a similar uniform. The Duke of Connaught is president of the Boy Scouts Association. The King's materials now arriving will be manufactured ready to ship to all parts of the world, especially to the French Colonies. ## Up To Mayflower Says Boston Post

BOSTON, Nov. 11.—The Boston Post said editorially:—"In answer to the challenge of the master of the Mayflower for a race, the master of the Bluenose counters with another challenge. It opens up an interesting possibility. "And says the gallant skipper of the cup winner of this year and last. For two years the master and owners of the Mayflower have been studiously ignoring our offer to race the Bluenose against the Mayflower for a side bet of $10,000, vessels to sail from Newfoundland to West Indies, with equal cargoes of fish, load equal cargoes of salt and return to Newfoundland. We have never sought a race with the Mayflower; the seeking has been on your side. You contend that the Mayflower is a bona fide fishing schooner capable of doing what the Bluenose can do and going where the Bluenose can go. If you are still of the opinion, we suggest that instead of the sort of wires received by me today, you realize that our share of the side bet I have mentioned has been lying here ignored since last year." "And why not? The very thought of such a contest appeals to the sporting blood. That would be real; that would have the ocean tang to it that no offshore jockeying race can have. Let the Mayflower people think it over."

Dr. Chas. Morse, K. C. Of Law Journal

OTTAWA, Nov. 11.—Dr. Charles Morse, K. C., registrar of the exchequer court of Canada, at the unanimous request of the Editorial Board of the Canadian Bar Association, has accepted the position of editor-in-chief of the official organ of the association, the first number of which will appear in January next under the name of the Canadian Bar Review. The standard to be maintained by this new venture in the literary field of the law will, it is said, be a high one. As Dr. Morse's duties will be advisory and consultative only, they will not interfere with his official duties at Ottawa. He stated that they had not the power, and for many weeks Poporiz vainly appealed for arrest until finally he achieved his object. Today a Paris court, in view of his repentance, gave a lenient judgment and suspended sentence for six months.

Man Shot Down By Assassin In Taxi

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—An unidentified man was shot down by an assassin in a taxicab, as he was walking in Fifty-eighth street, near Eighth avenue, just before 8 o'clock tonight. Only a single shot was fired, after which the man in the cab, who is believed to have had a male companion, disappeared as the vehicle sped to Columbus Circle and was lost in the swirl of traffic there. The victim died in Roosevelt Hospital ten minutes after a surgeon had begun treatment for a wound inflicted by a bullet which entered the back at the right side. Though the spot selected for the slaying is within a moment's walk of the populous Circle, and the streets were thick with the shooting, no one actually saw the slaying. Truick Gray, starting in a business show at the Park Theatre, was making for the stage entrance in Fifty-eighth street when she saw a man about 25, moderately well dressed, walking east, while a taxicab in which were two men came slowly, and did not turn her head when she heard a single report, which she supposed to be that of a bursting tire or a backfire. Then she saw the man she had just observed tottering. She ran to him, and screamed as he fell. A policeman came and called an ambulance from Roosevelt Hospital. A. L. Williams, of No. 330 West

The Eyes of the World

About twenty years ago a famous scientist and investigator made the statement that "unless educational conditions are changed everyone will be wearing glasses in fifty years."

How truly he spoke may be realized when you see so many people wearing glasses today.

If you wear a pair of properly made and properly fitted glasses they will relieve your eyes and PREVENT THEM GETTING WORSE. On the other hand if you neglect your eyes they may reach the point where even glasses will not help them to any extent.

Have your eyes examined and know the conditions present.
