The Facts About Business

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—The members of the King Cabinet are using everything possible in the way of figures to show that the country is prosperous. This is resulting in some ludicrous situations. Trade figures extending back over the past year are being cited as evidence that abounding prosperity exists. To hear some of the Cabinet Ministers talk one would think that this was the most prosperous period in Canada's history.

While this is going on the Capital is being besieged by leading members of the Liberal party who are practically saying to the Government: "If you don't do something for them our people will starve. Premier Armstrong of Nova Scotia is a good Liberal, who would not exaggerate the state of affairs in his own province, and yet he told the Government straight of the serious situation that had come about through the closing down of coal mines and of steel plants. He was backed up by G. W. Kyte, the Liberal whip, by H. J. Logan, M. P., by W. F. Carroll, M. P., and by F. N. Kelly, M. P. That these there are no better Liberals in the country. There were others, too, who stressed the unemployment that existed in the Maritime Provinces.

Sir Frederick Williams Taylor, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, whose word on business conditions is accepted by all, said recently in his annual address to his shareholders; "That general trade is dull, to put it mildly, is no delusion. Taxation is heavy to an extent that discourages new enterprises. Many of our industries are running on half-time, with diminished profits or no profits at all. The cost of living is high and our population, in point of numbers, is at a standstill or worse."

Take the boot and shoe industry. Speaking at the recent convention of the Shoe Manufactures Association of Canada, President Deslongchamps said: "It is vital that the internal and external conditions responsible for the present chaotic state of the shoe manufacturing industry in Canada should be remedied, if the industry is to survive". He said that the industry was headed for bankruptcy, if something were not done to protect it from the unfair competition of European countries, a competition that has become worse through the tariff reductions of the King Government.

And yet in the face of all this, the members of the Government quote rows of figures to show that the country today is prosperous because it shipped out an unprecedented volume of wheat last year.

Some years ago Sir Wilfrid Laurier boasted that when he came into power it would not be necessary to cite reams of statistics in order to demonstrate to the people that they were well off. He said that they would know it because they would have the money in their pockets. They haven't got it today.

The best proof of this is to be seen in the circumstance that the bank deposits in our chartered banks are actually $60,000,000 less than they were when the King Government entered office. It would be difficult to find another country where this has taken place, unless possibly it were Russia.

The country has to get back to a safe and sane Conservative policy. The Liberal tariff policy has failed, and none know it better than the Nova Scotia Liberal M. P.'s who have been at Ottawa, asking the Government for more protection.

Doubts If

Should France attempt such funding, giving the United States priority over Great Britain, however, as long as Winston Churchill is Minister of the Exchequer, there would be measures taken here, that would astonish, the French and there would undoubtedly ensue a burst of public indignation against France and the United States.

"TRIBUTE"

It is impossible to express this fact in language too strong that every British citizen pays heavy taxes. They are greater than have ever been wrung out of any modern people.

A pound per head of the population (and each citizen believes it is more) goes yearly to the United States as "tribute" and the taxpayer knows no relief through corresponding payments to Britain by France, Italy and Russia, who together owe Britain more than twice the British debt to America. Here is material for a popular outcry as exists in no other outstanding international issue.

It is true that at various times British statesmen have envisaged cancellation in return for various concessions on the part of French, or Italian debts, but Churchill now is in the Treasury. Churchill is a brilliant politician who wants to be Prime Minister. A despeate attempt by Churchill to get money out of France and Italy, or at any rate, not to permit those countries to favor the United States would have a beneficial effect upon Churchill's political career.

Churchill's activities since the report that the United States was discussing the funding of the French debt, were described by a Cabinet colleague as sensational, and even if the Washington negotiations prove abortive, the indignation they aroused here has given Churchill his cue.

CHURCHILL'S CUE

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, when he goes to Paris next month, may confidently be assumed to be ready to conduct a belligerent defense of British financial interests such as has not been witnessed since the peace negotiations.

The Westminster Gazette today says:

"It is impossible for America to collect her debts and maintain the value of gold at the same time, unless Britain interferes and voluntarily returns to the gold standard; but shall we do this, and while paying America, receive nothing from France or our other Allies, and gratuitously hand to America, the additional benefit of a safe and stable value for gold? We are likely to exact something in return. America has two courses. She can collect her debts in full and suffer loss through gold inflation, or relieve the burden of European debts with a view to maintaining the value of gold through the general restoration of the gold standard, which would then be easy."

Belgian Booze

Canadian and American financiers representing millions of dollars.

Truck Load Traced.

A significant fact was here learned when the information was forthcoming that just a few days ago a large motor truck, loaded with the liquor, successfully ran the gauntlet from th eoutskirts of Boston to a place in Northern Vermont in something less than 48 hours. The facts, apparently, did not become known until the huge load had left American territory and was well on its way to the Province of Quebec. A watch was set for those in charge of the truck, and every effort was made to have the alcohol seized, but the gang, it is thought, had been "tipped off," and succeeded in delivering the wet goods on Canadian soil, from whence it will be distributed to other points in this country.

Direct From Belgium.

Though the French possession of St. Pierre, Miquelon, has been known as the distributing centre for the majority of liquor shipments that find their way into the United States and Canada in contravention to the laws of both countries, it is stated that the Belgian manufacture is brough direct from Europe on steamers and other craft, and is only landed when the American coast is reached.

City Council

business in the year, Coun. Yeo, said it would be ridiculous to ask the city to pay inspection of goods going out of the city and province. It would also mean a good deal of extra work for the city inspector. A resolution was passed referring the matter to the Health Committee.

The City Health Officer in his report said that five cases of scarlet fever had been reported since the last meeting.

In the report of the finance committee Coun. Prowse stated that collections were coming in well.

Coun. Rattray, chairman of the street committee referred to the matter of shovelling snow from the sidewalks and bespoke a strict observance of the bye law to this effect. He thought it was the duty of police officers when they found a widow or poor woman unable to keep the sidewalk clean, to report the fact to the city surveyor and that the city should have the walk shovelled.

Resolutions were passed accepting the tenders of (1) Mr Samuel Craig for the making of eight pairs of police trousers; (2) the tender of Irwin & Co., for the printing of the City Reports; (3) C. Lyons & W. D. Gillis for 100 tons of Sydney Run O' Mine each, at $8.70 put in the cellar.

The Police report showed seventeen arrests made during the month, ten for drunkenness and seven for stealing.

Resolutions were passed for three new street lights of 60 candle power each, to be placed on West, Euston and Esher streets. Referring to the failure of the lights on Sunnyside two Saturday nights ago Coun. Foster stated that on the Friday previous a change had been made and all the lights on that block were now supplied from the front. Coun. Foster had spoken to the Superintendent who admitted afterwards that the burnt out transformer had been inadequate for the load. It had been replaced by two transformers, put up, he was informed in about twenty-five minutes, yet the stores had been in darkness from eight o'clock on, Saturday night, and no electricians could be found at the power house who could remedy the trouble. The merchants along the block had lost a lot of business.

Coun. Moran stated that he had inquired into the trouble and had been told by the Superintendent that the accident had been unavoidable, and due to a short circuit in one of the stores. The thing might have happened any place at any time. It was decided that the Light Committee should send a letter to the Power Company asking them to guard against such accidents.

A deed of conveyance to the city of a portion of land now known as McLeod street here aroused a good deal of discussion, in which Couns. McLeod, Foster, Yeo Prowse and Rattray took part. His Worship pointed out that the resolution of acceptance presented was out of order as it conflicted with the Act of Corporation. On this account it was decided to ask the deeder of the land to allow the words "for street purposes" struck from the deed.

Coun. Moran made reference to the need of a new street sprinkler Coun. Rattray stated that the matter would have to rest until it was decided whether or not the city would use oil on the streets next year. The meeting adjourned at twenty minutes to eleven.

Decrease In

it was 4.62. Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia show the slowest disappearance of the large family, by decades. Rural Quebec heads the list with an average of 5.74 to the family.

Of Canada's total population at the last census 97.6 are classified as belonging to some Christian denomination or sect.

Illiteracy is declining from decade to decade. At the last census the percentage of illiteracy for the total population over five years of age was 9.25. Ten years previously it was 10.50.

It is now three years since the last census was taken and returns are still being analyzed and classified. A method of fitting a system of curves to provincial populations also has been worked out as a basis for estimating annual changes in Canada's population. Estimates made in accordance with this method give Canada's total population as now standing at 9,226,740, an increase of 438,257 over the figure when the last census was taken.

"I was Greatly Distressed With Pains in the Back"

Mr. Alfred McNeill, Chapel Rock, Alta., writes:

"During the winter of 1920-21, I was greatly distressed with pains in my back and felt tired and depressed most of the time. Particularly during the night I was troubled with frequent urination, some nights having to rise almost every hour. I tried several different treatments without success, until finally I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they relieved my condition before I had finished the first box. I am feeling better this summer than I have for years, and although in my 67th year, can work all day without any undue fatigue."
