Plan to Weed Out Incompetent University Students

OTTAWA, Sept. 27—(CP)—A policy of weeding out incompetent students from universities will be continued under decisions reached at a national conference of Canadian universities held here last month and now being applied by National Selective Service, it was announced today by Labor Minister Mitchell.

The Policy, make known to mobilization boards across Canada by Arthur MacNamara, Selective Service director, provides in part:

"That any student, either man or woman, of the age of 18 1-2 years or more who fails to pass any term or yearly examinations required by his or her university or college be refused permission to continue his or her studies in the university or college concerned until he or she presents a permit so to do issued by the appropriate National Selective Service officer."

Comments on New Regulations For College Students

Commenting on the new regulations for the postponement of Military Service of students, Rev. R. V MacKenzie, Rector of St. Dunstan's University said that this was no snap judgement on the part of National Selective Service, but a decision reached after due consideration, and consultation with the National Council of Canadian Universities. Fr. MacKenzie said he attended a meeting in Ottawa on Aug. 30th, when the heads of all Canadian Unversities met with Mr. Arthur MacNamara, Director of National Selective Service, and a number of his staff. Mr. MacNamara explained very fully the positive shortage of Canadian man power, both for the Armed Services and for essential industry.

"All deplore this interference with the education of large numbers of Canadian students; just as we deplore the cause which brings it about — the war. But we do appreciate and commend the truly democratic manner in which the change was inaugrated, nemely; by a discussion of the whole situation with educational men of the country. If the war continues over a period of years, it will mean a definite shortage of graduates in certain categories.

"We know, however, that England and United States have long since adopted measures much more severe than those outlined here."

Fr. MacKenzie said he did not expect the courses of students would be interfered with until midyear, as it would take some time yet to complete arrangements for carrying the new order into effect.

Another New Road In Northwest

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 — (C P) — The Haines Military Road, running from Tidewater in southeastern Alaska to join the Alaska highway north of Whitehorse, Y. T. now is in actual operation and will be completed some time in December, Brig.-Gen. J. A. O'Connor, U. S. Army, commanding Northwest Service Command, said today in a prepared address.

The Haines road is of great significance, Gen. O'Connor told the Vancouver Board of Trade, cutting off the long open - sea voyage across the Gulf of Alaska, and permitting maximum use of the Inside Passage, "that fabulous mountain - protected arm of the Pacific Ocean which may be navigated by barges, tugs and small inland steamers."

Per Acre Potato Yield Here Down From Last Year

Blight has cut down the yield of potatoes in this province by one-third compared with the full crop in 1942, it was estimated last night by persons closely connected with the industry.

It is expected that the average yield per acre, field run, will not exceed 150 bushels compared with 225 a year ago. And the one-third drop in production will probably mean an even bigger drop in the quantity of potatoes of marketable size since vines in a great many fields were killed before the tubers reached full growth and large numbers of small potatoes are the result.

Increased interest is being taken in blight resistant varieties which have been introduced into the Province in recent years. But the rub seems to be that the more blight resistant a potato is the poorer the quality for table use. On the other hand the Green Mountain, the best table potato, is the most susceptible to blight.

Nevertheless the interest of farmers in the new varieties is growing and indications are that the acreage will be increased next year.

Of this year's 40,000 acres planted to potatoes 1,700 are in certified seed of two blight resistant varieties, the Sebago and the Katahdin. The acreage is evenly divided between the two.

Mr. S. G. Peppin, in charge of seed potato inspection in the Province said last night that of a total of 16,500 acres on which application was made for certification for seed purposes only 8,600 were passed. This area is 900 acres under the 1942 total.

Mr. Peppin said digging was starting this week, whereever farmers have completed their grain harvesting. And the senior inspector said that where the potato vines have been dead for two weeks the sooner the potatoes are taken out of the ground now the better.

He said it would not be known until digging becomes general just how much damage has been caused by blight rot.

OTTAWA, Sept. 27—(CP)—The Evening Journal said today it was "understood" that Edward Johnson, General Manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will be the "unanimous choice," as successor to Rev. J. S. Thomson, retiring General Manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

The Journal said it learned this morning that Mr. Johnson's name was placed before the CBC Board of Governors at its last meeting "as the man who should be the New General Manager."
