Jury Finds Accused Not Guilty

Frank Gallant and Harry Gallant were found not guilty by a petit jury at Summerside yesterday. They were charged with conspiracy to distill illegally alcoholic spirits and the trial had been going on for nine days. Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell was the presiding judge.

After receiving a charge from the court that lasted two and three quarter hours the jury retired at one fifteen and returned at four o'clock with their verdict.

The accused, on motion of the defense, were then discharged from appearance in court, subject to the same recognizance to appear and stand trial on a second count of indictment. The second count is that they conspired to defraud the government of certain duties in respect to alcohol manufactured in Canada. The two counts originally constituted one indictment but were severed by the court previous to the beginning of the trial.

The jury were: Frank Sweet, St. Eleanors foreman; Wm. Trainor, Albany; Renford McNevin, Coleman; Brenton Ramsay, Alberton; Lawrence Peters, Bloomfield; Joseph C. Gallant, Nail Point; Earl Corney, Summerside; Prusha Lyle, Central, Lot 16; Ernest Rogers, Linkletter; John Brooks, Linkletter; Wm. Cameron, Lot 16; and James S. McKinnon, Grand River.

Counsel for the prosecution were P. J. Hughes, K.C., Fredericton, N. B., and R. S. Hinton, and for the defense, H.F. MacPhee K.C., Charlottetown, J. Watson MacNaught, K.C., and W. Henry Noonan. S.

Another Trial Opens In S'side

The case of John (Holman) Gallant charged with conspiracy to distill alcoholic spirits contrary to the Excise Act opened yesterday at Summerside with Mr. Justice A. E. Arsenault presiding. After the jury had been selected court was adjourned till Monday, Nov. 15 at 11 a.m.

In the selection of the jury Harrison MacFarlane of Bedeque who was on the jury panel was challenged by the defense on the legal ground that he was not indifferent between the King and John (Holman) Gallant. A two man jury was selected to decide this matter and their decision was that he was not indifferent and therefore could not be allowed on the jury. This was the second case on which this man was successfully challenged for the same reason. S.

MacDonald, Young Star In Mirthful Musical "Cairo"

— Brimming over with melody and mirth, "Cairo", Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer's newest musical film, starring Jeanette MacDonald, opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre.

Robert Young teams with the singing star for the first time in the romantic comedy poking fun at Hollywood's conception of spy dramas. Ethel Waters, famed colored actress and singer, has a featured role in "Cairo."

Miss MacDonald has a made to order role. She plays Marcia Warren, a famous American movie star who is stranded in Europe when war breaks out. Young is a small town newspaper reporter sent abroad to cover the war. He meets Miss MacDonald in Cairo, where the singer is giving a concert for British soldiers. The plot is given an amusing twist when Young begins to believe Miss MacDonald is a spy and she thinks the same about him. He is hired as her butler and the hilarious situations come thick and fast. All the time-worn cliches of movie spy dramas are hauled out by Director W. S. Van Dyke II, who lets his stars lampoon them for all they are worth.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Webb, 73, was held in the Reformed Baptist Church, Westchester, Nova Scotia, following a short service held at the home, Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The church was filled to capacity with sympathizing friends, who had gathered to pay a last tribute to one held in high regard during her entire lifetime spent in their midst. The pastor of the church conducted the services. The hymns sang by the choir were "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" "Face to Face with Christ My Savior" and the Pastor and his wife sang very feelingly "There'll be no disappointment in Heaven" and Ross Webb sang a solo "The Christian's Good Night".

Mrs. Webb is survived by five sons: Ray S. Webb, Midgic N.B.; Russell and Leo, Westchester, N.S.; Bligh in Londonderry, N.S.; and Ivan, with the Canadian Army in Ontario; three daughters, Mrs. Ella Maberry, Camden, N.S.; Mrs. Etta Embree, Springhill, N.S.; and Mrs. Douglas Fraser of Central Bedeque, P.E.I.; fourteen grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren; two brothers, Mr. Edward Hollingsworth, Camden, N.S., and Sydney Hollingsworth in Western Canada. Her husband predeceased her sixteen years ago.

Four sons were pallbearers, Russell, Leo, Bligh and Pte. Ivan Webb of Ontario, and two nephews, Hestler Hollingsworth and B. Hollingsworth. Interment was in Westchester Cemetery in the family lot. The floral tributes were numerous and very lovely.

Mr. Ray S. Webb of Midgic was a patient in the Moncton City Hospital during the weeks of his mother's last illness and death, having underwent an tonsillectomy, and was unable to be present at the funeral.

The sympathy of many friends will go out to the bereaved family.

The Unknown Soldier Speaks

You think I've slept for years, but you are wrong,
For each Remembrance Day
I hear the tread of marching feet,
And see old comrades of another day.

I hear the children singing,
I hear the bands that softly play,
I see the tear-filled eyes of Mothers
And hear them as they pray.

I know that flowers bloom as brightly,
That little breezes softly blow,
That Robins sing above my head,
The same sweet songs of long ago.

I see a toil-worn little Mother,
Who thinks of me as hers,
Lay at my feet a crimson rose—
So many Mothers think of me as theirs.

I know so many loving hearts
Are honoring me today,
And proudly I gaze upon the flowers
That all around me lay.

Your love shall go with me beyond the sunset
Into the golden dusk of yesterday,
Where in a world of glowing scarlet poppies,
I shall dream happily of this Remembrance Day.

—Constance I. Heckbert.

New Hospital Equipment Available

The latest addition to the hospital equipment available to people of Prince Edward Island is an Automatic Resuscitator Inhalator and Aspirator Combination purchased from the E and J Manufacturing Company of Glendale, California by the Junior League of the Charlottetown Hospital. Used for the treatment of respiratory failure in all departments of the Charlottetown Hospital, it automatically adjusts itself to child or adult lung and has a wide range of use in restoration of respiration in the newborn, cases of gas poisoning, electric, surgical or traumatic shock and is the best known means of giving artificial respiration in cases of electric shock or drowning.

First of its kind in the Province and one of the very few in Eastern Canada, this equipment is one of the many gifts of the Junior League of the Charlottetown Hospital from their club funds, raised by various entertainments conducted by this group, among which are the monthly dances at the V Club and their annual Tag Day.

Congratulations are due to the Junior League for their foresight in procuring such pieces of modern up-to-date equipment to serve our Island people.

Ivan M. Gillis Wins Gold Medal

A recent issue of the National News for the Blind, which is published quarterly by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind for the information of sightless Canadians under the heading "High Honor for Young Organist" has the following regarding a Prince Edward Islander:—

"Ivan Maxwell Gillis, brilliant pupil of Dr. Charles Peaker of Toronto won the gold medal at the L. T.C.M. examinations for organ held by the Toronto Conservatory of Music this summer.

The medal will be presented to him at Convocation Hall in the University of Toronto in October.

"Ivan Gillis was born in Prince Edward Island and, after attending the Halifax School for the Blind, had taken some special courses at Dalhousie University and went to England to carry on his studies at the organ. As war became a certainty in Europe, Mr. Gillis returned to Canada, arriving in Halifax on the day war broke out. For some time he was employed as a teacher of music at the Halifax School and a year ago came to Toronto to take advanced tuition at the Toronto Conservatory of Music."

Exercise for sheep during the winter is necessary. There is a tendency to confine ewes too closely during the winter months. Prelambing trouble will be partially eliminated if the ewes are forced to move around out of doors every day. A portion of the field in a sheltered spot in the snow at a distance from the barn helps towards giving the necessary exercise.

Cattle may be seriously injured by swallowing small small pieces of metal left around the stalls or in the fields. Bits of broken wire, nails dropped from workmen's pockets, old nails from shingling jobs, nails left on window sills or on the ends of old boards where the cattle can get at them are common causes of serious trouble.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Michael J. Murnaghan, who departed this life November 11, 1941.

We little thought when you left home,
That you would not return
That you in death so soon would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn.
To think we could not say good-bye
Will always bring regret
For we who loved you dearly
Are the ones that can't forget.

Sadly Missed by Wife and Family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my sister Veronica, who passed to her eternal rest on November 11, 1931.

"Through falling leaves
of autumn comes your voice,
If you loved me, you would indeed rejoice."

Lovingly Remembered by Her Brother Joseph McDougall.

IN MEMORIAM

In fond and loving memory of our dear husband and father, Mr. Amos D. Gallant, who died November 5, 1942.

He little thought when leaving home,
That he no more would return,
That he in death so soon would sleep
And leave us here to mourn.
To think we could not say good-bye
Will always bring regret
But the hearts that always loved him
Are the ones that can't forget.

Sadly Missed by Wife and Family
