MOST SUCCESSFUL ISLAND FAIR BROUGHT TO A CLOSE YESTERDAY

Grand Horse Parade and Auction Sale, the Feature of the Last Day.

EXHIBITS WERE ALL REMOVED IN THE AFTERNOON

Notes on Some of the Special Displays on the Grounds—Criticism of the Classing of Exhibits—The Prize Winners in the Various Classes of the Show.

The Provincial Exhibition of 1902—long looked forward to with pleasant anticipation by many in Prince Edward Island and the neighboring Provinces, is over—the exhibits have been removed and nothing but the debris remains to mark the most successful fair in the history of our Island Province. Successful it has been in point of numbers, in financial profit and in the favorable impression that it has given to many visitors of the Garden of the Gulf.

The attendance on Wednesday and Thursday was never larger and seldom have people been better satisfied by what they saw, what they heard and the treatment that they received while in the City. At ten o'clock yesterday the parade of horses on the Exhibition grounds took place. It was highly spoken of by horsemen and considered the best ever shown here.

The sale of stock by R. Bearsto commenced at 11 o'clock. Following are the sales, all being the property of Dr. Dodd, Charlottetown: Two year old horse, sired by General Burnett, sold to Donald McMillan for $58. One year old colt sired by McQueen, sold to Donald McMillan for $28. Foal, sired by Fleetwood, sold to Jas. Pickard for $20. Mare in foal, sold to Ellsworth Shaw for $40.

from the other Provinces, many expressed to The Guardian their dissatisfaction with the absence of information regarding the variety and ownership of the stock exhibited. At St. John, the name and address of every exhibitor was written on large cards in characters that could be read at a distance. Exhibitors make a great mistake in not ticketing their live stock and other exhibits with their name and address. It will be of great advertising value to themselves and visitors, and newspaper men will greatly appreciate the information.

EXHIBITION NOTES.

The new potato digger recently invented by Peter Schurman of Summerside which has been on exhibition on the grounds during the week has been examined by a very large number of farmers and others all of whom highly appreciate its qualities and bespeak for it a foremost place among the agricultural implements of the age. Mr. Schurman intends giving practical illustrations of its use on one of the neighboring farms to-day.

The handsome mare owned by James McMillan, West River, which gained the 2nd, prize at the Exhibition and sired by young barrister owned by McLean & McLeod, Lot 43, was yesterday sold to J. H. Reid, Oxford, N. S., for the large sum of $128.

The Bug Death.—Chemical company had an excellent display of this preparation in the north east end of the building. They claim that it will feed the plant, prevent blight, produce better quality. It is non poisonous and kills all bugs that feed on vines.

Amos Monaghan of Kinkora had an exhibit of threshers and faners and The Hall Manufacturing Co., Summerside, were showing one of their popular horse powers.

The National Cream Separator Manufacturing Co., Guelph, Ontario, had a stand near the main entrance. The machine is easy to clean, easy to operate and skims from 300 to 450 lbs an hour.

Northeast of the main building the Nova Scotia Carriage Co., had a large display of carriages and sleighs of all the latest varieties. The goods of this popular firm is handled in the Island by J. E. Grant & Co.

The McLaughlin Carriage Company had four carriages on exhibition. They were fine specimens of the latest construction in that line.

Adjoining the manual training exhibit was the booth of the Singer Sewing machines where these popular machines
