In Memoriam

FRANK H. DIXON

The many friends and acquaintances of Frank H. Dixon, Bellerica, Mass. will regret of his death which took place Dec. 20, 1939. Mr. Dixon was born at St. Peter's Bay in 1862, he was the son of the late John Dixon and grandson of the late Rev. Mr. Douglas.

He operated a saw mill and carding mill at St. Peter's Bay. In 1899 he moved to United States where he afterwards became an employee of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway, about eight years ago he was superannuated. His wife, Velma Coffin predeceased him twenty-eight years ago.

Mr. Dixon leaves to mourn two sons, Frank in Maine and George in Bellerica, his funeral was held from Waterman Chapel, 495 Commonwealth Ave., Boston. WOMAN LOCATED—Mrs. Harry Smith, whose whereabouts has been sought by Post Office authorities, is reported to be living in New Glasgow, N. S. This information was telephoned to the Guardian, on Saturday, by a cousin of this woman. Mrs. Smith is conducting a bakery business in New Glasgow at present.

STILL CROSSING — The ferry Fairview continued its trips yesterday between this city and Rocky Point on the south side of the harbor. Schedules were at the mercy of the ice but the Captain Jerry Doucette continued to con his craft along the lane he has kept open since ice blocked the remainder of the harbor. He hopes to keep his ship on the service until the ice makes sufficiently thick to enable residents of the Rocky Point area to cross to the city with horse drawn vehicles.

BAD WEATHER — Unpleasant weather greeted yesterday morning churchgoers, as a light fall of snow accompanied by a cold 28 mile an hour gale from the Northwest whipped across the Province. Late last evening, however, the gale lessened in intensity as the wind abated somewhat. At 8 p. m. it was blowing at the rate of 20 miles per hour and the temperature had dropped to 9 above, from the 13 above, registered on the thermometer at 8 a. m., Mr. Warren Burns, Weather Observer, announced last night. Late in the afternoon the sky cleared and Prince Edward Island caught a welcome glimpse of the sun.

Y'S MEN'S MEETING—The regular weekly supper meeting of the Summerside Y's Men's Club was held in the Baptist hall and was largely attended. Mr. R. L. Willett presided. The speaker of the evening was Judge D. E. Shaw, who gave a most interesting talk on entertainment in the good old days, outlining the many forms of entertainment which featured in the days that are passed. Mr. L. R. Allen moved a vote of thanks, seconded by Mr. Harold Crockett. Guests at the supper were Lieut. Allan Holman, Lieut. Regina'd Muttart, James Larabee, Carman Johnson and Ross MacKenzie.—S.

SUPREME COURT TOMORROW

The Jan. term of the Supreme Court opens tomorrow in the Supreme Court Building, Chief Justice J. A. Mathieson, Mr. Justice A. C. Saunders and Mr. Justice A. E. Arsenault will be in attendance. It was not known definitely last night who would preside at the sitting. One indictable offence appears on the docket. A man charged with murder will be tried. A case of causing bodily harm, tried at the June sitting will probably be heard at this sitting of the Supreme Court. When this case was last heard the jurors disagreed. Two civil cases and four appeals from Magistrate's courts will also appear on the docket. The Grand Jury will be sworn in tomorrow. Petit Jury cases will not be heard until next week.

FIRST TRIP TO MAGDALENS—The winter mail service to the isolated Magdalen Islands was inaugurated Saturday when pilot H. S. Jones, superintendent of the Canadian Airways here landed his big twin-motored Dragon at Upton Airport in Charlottetown after completing the round trip. The plane took off from Upton Airport at 9.10 a. m. and was back here again atten minutes after noon. 800 pounds of mail were carried on the outward trip and 270 pounds on the return. Flying conditions along the route, 85 miles of it over water, were fairly good, the pilot said. The next trip is slated for early this week. Seven students are awaiting transportation to this city, enroute to their schools.

ST. PAUL'S ANGLICAN CHURCH

On Sunday morning St. Paul's Anglican Church welcomed to her midst her new minister, Reverend A. Ledrew Gardiner fromerly Rector of St. James Church, Halifax-Armdale. In a few well chosen words, he, on behalf of himself and Mrs. Gardiner extended to the people of the congregation sincere appreciation for the many acts of kindness shown them since they arrived on the Island for the first time last week. Reverend Mr. Gardiner also extended affectionate greetings to the congregation from Dr. and Mrs. Raymond.

Taking as his text for the morning "By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place . . . went out, not knowing whither he went", Epistle of St. Paul to the Hebrews 11:8. Reverend Mr. Gardiner compared his coming to St. Paul's Church as a new minister, with the change from the old year to the new. As God takes away the old year and gives us a new one, fresh, unspotted and unspoiled, the future of which is unknown, so has He directed our new Rector to come to us to minister to us in a future unknown to any of us. Reverend Mr. Gardiner asked his congregation to ever keep fresh in their memories the blessings and friendships of the former ministry and to pray for those who, until recently have ministered to us. In closing, the Rector said, "Let us join hands with each other and let us place those clasped hands in the hand of God and step out into the future with confidence."

The choir under the capable direction of Mr. Albert Dinnis, with Miss Earle as organist, sang very beautifully the anthem "Arise, Shine", F. C. Maker. The morning service was followed by celebration of Holy Communion.

At the evening service Reverend Mr. Gardiner took as his text, "His name was called Jesus"—the Gospel of St. Luke, Chap 2, verse 31, and showed that the name "Jesus" means Saviour. He pointed out that the harder one tries to resist sin the more impossible it is to drive it away, and that only Jesus can take it away. For this to be effective two things are required of us—relaxation and obedience to His will. At this service the choir rendered very effectively "The Cherubic Hymn". Reverend Mr. Gardiner was assisted at the evening service by Mr. Burleigh Taylor.

FIRE SATURDAY — A roof fire, caused by sparks from a flue brought the firemen to the residence of Peter Gallant, Victor a Ave., at 7.45 Saturday. An adaptor hose was used to extinguish the blaze. There was little damage.

FUNERAL SERVICES—The funeral of Mrs. Thomas MacQuarrie was held Friday afternoon from Canoe Cove Church. Rev. B. W. Goodwill conducted services at the church and grave. There was a short service at the Cutcliffe Funeral Home, Thursday conducted by Rev. J. H. Bishop. Pallbearers were: Messrs. L. E. MacKinnon, Charles MacDougall, Neil Taylor, James MacDonald, Hector McNevin and Albert MacDougall. Interment Canoe Cove Cemetery.

POLICE BUSY—Several of petty thieves were frustrated in their attempts in the early hours of yesterday morning by City Police. A car parked on the North River Road was being burglarized when Police arrived on the scene about 2 A. M. The thief ran but was caught after a short chase and the officers found that he had taken some papers from the "cubby" hole of the auto and had also damaged the radio in the machine. He was placed under arrest. Later, about 3 a. m., Police stopped two men and found that they had 3 dressed chickens concealed in their clothing. It was later discovered that the men had stolen 2 of the chickens from a local business house, after having bargained with the watchman for one of the birds. They were both arrested on a charge of theft and the watchman was charged with theft by a servant.

PLOWS BUSY —Snow plows in the Province were kept busy over the weekend in a fight to keep the roads open in face of a heavy ground drift. Working throughout the night on Saturday, the plows were forced to turn out again yesterday on account of the morning's gale. L. B. MacMillan, Deputy Minister of Public Works and Highways, said last night that the plows were still working but no word had been heard from some of the crews. Early yesterday a new heavy plow arrived in the City after clearing the highway to Borden. The plow returned over the same route but was unreported since early in the day. Working towards Morell, one of the plows was reported to have reached York but returned to the City later. Another plow left for Montague reached Alexandria then returned to Charlottetown. The plow working from Montague was unreported. Mr. MacMillan said. Several trips were made to Beach Grove Inn, in an effort to keep the road clear for the soldiers. Other plows will leave here early today to open all paved highways for motor traffic.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

The minster Dr. R. Moorhead Legate conducted both services in St. James yesterday. His morning text was taken from Philippians 3:10 "That I may know Jesus Christ." These words of St. Paul should be the quest of every professing Christian, said Dr. Legate. To know Jesus intimately we must study his teachings, obey his commandments talk to him in prayer, visit his house, sing his praise. His friendship is worth striving for and the rewards in winning it are without price. The choir rendered the anthem "God is a spirit"—Bennett.

In the evening Dr. Legate spoke of Jesus as a bright cheerful guide spreading sunshine in the dark places. Happiness can only be complete if we surrender our will and follow his dictates. Mrs. J. A. Lawson sang as a solo "Peace Be Still."

Abolition Of Naval Censor's Post Rumored

LONDON, Jan. 8—(Monday)—(AP)—The Daily Herald said today that Vice Admiral C. V. Usborne had consented to resign as chief of the British Naval Censorship Service and that the post would be abolished.

It was said that this would give greater authority to Sir Walter T. Monckton, director general of the Press and Censorship Bureau since October, who recently offered to resign because he said his hands were tied by the heads of the fighting forces.

"Under the new agreement," the Herald said, Monckton could "challenge decisions of the Service Departments and demand from them more news for the press and public."

Usborne declined to confirm or deny the report.

Chinese Claim New Successes

HONG KONG, Jan. 8 —(Monday) —(AP) —Chinese dispatches today declared several hundred Japanese troops were machine-gunned and drowned fleeing across a river south of Yingtak on the Canton-Hankow railroad during a general Chinese advance in northern Kwangtung province.

Cooperating Chinese airplanes and ground troops were making the advance in northern Kwangtung, semi-official Chinese sources reported.

Unofficially the Japanese admitted withdrawing from several outlying positions. The Chinese said they had recaptured Yingtak but the Japanese denied it.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

The great missionary activities of the United Church all across this wide Dominion were the subject of the morning sermon of Trinity United Church, delivered by the assistant-minister, Rev. L. M. Murray. The speaker pointed to the proud and glowing attainments already reached but pointed out a growing decrease in missionary interest which, if not checked would mean ruin and decay to the living, active weariness of the church in the world.

The choir, at the morning service sang Meade's fine anthem, "Light of the Lonely Pilgrim's Heart." The offertory election, also by the choir was "Hymn for the New Year" by Wesley. The evening anthem, "Ring Out Wild Bells," was exceptionally well rendered.

The evening sermon was delivered by Rev. Hugh Millar, who, in continuance of his series of sermons on the deadly sins of life, spoke on the subject —greed. This sermon stirringly summed up the hideous results of greed as portrayed in the records of history and religion and on the canvasses of great artists and pointed to its remedy in the spirit of love and devotion manifested in Jesus Christ.

"I GO PRETTY NEAR CRAZY WITH DRIVER'S ACHES ... So I'm grateful for the quick relief I get from Sloan's"

Driving is no child's play. Take the wheel of a bus, truck, transport or car for hours on end and you'll know how muscles can play out. Arms, legs, shoulders and back generally feel it most. But Sloan's gently patted over the weary muscles brings quick relief. Fatigue poisons in the tissues are generally the cause of the trouble. The action of Sloan's stimulates the circulation and so helps the blood carry off these poisons. And that is why quick relief follows.

There are many things that we do while at work or at play, which may strain muscles or tire them so that they soon ache exasperatingly. When this occurs, Sloan's is the sensible treatment. Better keep a bottle of this fine liniment in the house. HP

Scout News and Notices

A trek-cart used by the Boy Scouts of the 7th Ipswich Troop, England, in collecting wastepaper during the first Great War, is again in use for that purpose by the new generation of Scouts.

Demonstrating their ready grasp of the public service principles of Boy Scout training, the newly organized troop at Port Saunders, Nfld., at once began looking about for ways to help the settlement. One of the first results was the taking of steps to provide the community with the services of a cobbler's shop.

The valuable village improvement work of Boy Scouts in India continues to expand. The Scout leaders of Jath State have laid out a program for tackling ten villages each year. The plan covers education, sanitation and physical culture. For the Scouts themselves there will be a series of camps, rallies and handicraft exhibitions.

Notwithstanding the unsettled war conditions, and the loss of leaders, the membership of the Boy Scouts in England has been rapidly expanding. This has been due in part to the public attention attracted by the really splendid service rendered by Scouts in connection with the city evacuation of children. Many evacuated lads have applied to join cub packs and Scout Troops of their new home localities.

Courageous Finland has been one of the keen Boy Scouts countries of Europe, with a membership this year of 12,358 boys and leaders. Contingents of Finnish Scouts have participated in all World Scout Jamborees, including the 3rd World Moot held in Scotland in 1939. In the present desperate struggle for preservation of the country's independence Finnish Scouts are playing every possible helpful role, aiding refugees, helping to extricate and render first aid to the injured of the bombed cities, and otherwise helping the victims of the Russian invasion.

Rovers and other older Scouts of a North Lancashire town came to the rescue when 90 small boys of 4 years and upwards had to be placed under canvas for a few days. The Scouts cooked meals, dried clothes and bedding and amused the small lads with games.

Eight cars, driven by members of the Rossland, B. C. Community Chest executive were convoyed by energetic groups of Boy Scouts in making a complete canvass of the city to collect clothing and food-stuffs for wintertime relief. The drive was one of the most successful yet undertaken.

Scouts throughout Bengal have offered their wartime services to local authorities as cyclist messengers, guides, buglers, signallers and ambulance workers. The entire mill area of Calcutta has been divided into divisions, and Scouts have the task of linking up A. R. P. and first aid centres. Plans for a big provincial Scout Jamboree were abandoned in order that all attention might be given wartime emergency service.

During a Good Turn Week at Simla, India, Scouts organized sports for rickshaw coolies, entertained with gramaphone music at the rickshaw sheds, and decorated the sheds with pictures and posters. One troop sought out all water troughs for cleaning and refilling. Another looked for caged birds, and explained to owners when necessary that the birds should not be left exposed in the sun.

A contribution of $65 toward the Vancouver War Chest Fund by the 13th, 21st and 27th Vancouver Troops was raised by the collecting, bundling and sale of 13 tons of wastepaper. The joint effort was launched through the discovery of piles of old newspapers and magazines in the basement of homes when Scouts of the three troops were on Fire Prevention Week inspection and instruction work in co-operation with the fire department.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

For his morning sermon, the Rev. Harvey L. Denton, B. D., took as his subject, "The Morning Cloud Type of Good Resolutions." Taking as his text Hosea 6:4, "For your goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the early dew it passeth away," reference was made to the long, sad casualty list among good resolutions. Of course there must be resolution before good, resolution based on faith, empowered by courageous determination.

There are sad results when one's resolutions are as the morning cloud. Such failure of purpose bodes ill for oneself—and ill for others too. Sadly do such failures reflect on the cause to which our resolutions may ally us when our commitments are not sustained.

That our resolutions may not be as the morning cloud we need an impelling motive and an expelling force— a determined devotion to our purpose and that "expulsive power of a new affection" found in "thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, with all thy mind, with all thy strength."

The morning anthem was Farrant's "Lord For Thy Tender Mercy's Sake."

For the evening service Mr. Denton took as his theme "Pharaoh's Wiles" preaching a keen vigorous and eloquent sermon. The anthem of the evening was Richardson's "O How Amiable Are Thy Dwellings."

The Communion of the Lord's Supper followed the evening service.
