North Cured Him Of Tropic Fever

LONDON, April 17—(CP)—Captain Critchell Bullock, who spent a severe winter in the Canadian North West Territories in 1935, is back in England, secretary to the Citizens League which advocates military conscription in Great Britain.

A strapping, big man with a military bearing, the captain went to Canada 16 years ago after long service in the tropics. First with the 18th Bengal Lancers and later with the Desert Mounted Corps in the Jordan Valley where the temperature rose once to 132 degrees in the shade.

Scout News and Notices

Due to the Courses which have been conducted in the past two weeks by Mr. Ralph Johnson, Executive Field Secretary, there has been a great increase in the interest in the Boy Scout Movement in Montague.

At first a very successful Leaders Course was held but the Course for Patrol Leaders which was held last week, exceeded all expectations, and it will be a great benefit, not only to the Montague Troop, but also to the Georgetown and Cardigan Troops as well. There were 8 boys from Georgetown and 4 boys from Cardigan who took the course.

The Montague Scout Troop has been in existence for a number of years, and a few years ago, the citizens of Montague contributed generously to the Baden-Powell Financial Campaign for Scout work, but this is the first opportunity that Scouts and Leaders have had to benefit from Scouting Courses, as these courses were never held in Montague before.

On Thursday evening Mr. Johnson officiated at a Rover Sea Scout Investiture, which was most interesting and impressive. Those investing were Dr. L. A. Johnston, C. R. Boehner and Clifford Hughes. Among those attending the Investiture were W. A. McLagan, Assistant Provincial Commissioner for Kings County, A. G. Parks, chairman of the Montague Group Committee, Reverend W. L. Outhouse, Scout Master of Montague Troop, and Gordon Coffin, Scout Master of Troop at Halifax.

Australia Seeks Her Own Defence
BRISBANE, April 17—(CP)—Australia could not again send an army to a European war, said Postmaster-General Cameron of the Commonwealth government in a speech here reported by the Australian News Letter.

Britain might be so fully occupied with her own resources for an indefinite period, Australia's first duty therefore was to defend herself and her second to assist other British countries with means of living and waging war.

"We have neither the resources nor the inclination to attack others, but we are mightily determined to defend our own, with ammunition to nobody," declared Mr. Cameron.

GOWAN BRAE INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of Gowan Brae Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. A. McInnis on April 8th with an attendance of fourteen members and three visitors. Meeting opened with a song by Evelyn Shanahan. Roll call was answered by pinning the hat on the donkey. Minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. It was decided to see about having flag pole repaired, and to make arrangements about white-washing the school.

A message of appreciation to the Women's Institute from the family of Mrs. Hannah Mullally was read for their kindness and sympathy in their recent sorrow. Two other members expressed their thanks for gifts received during their illness.

Reports of sick committee was heard and new ones appointed as follows: Mrs. A. McGillivray and Mrs. William Howlett.

On entertainment committee prizes were won by Mrs. Charles McDonald and Mrs. Cecil Smith. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. William Howlett, roll call to be answered with Garden Hints. Meeting closed by singing National Anthem.

In Memoriam

MRS. JAMES DUCK

These passed away at Covehead, on March 15, 1939. Mrs. James Duck, nee Mrs. John, the late James Duck who died in Nov. 1936, just three months after they had celebrated their diamond wedding. Mrs. Duck's maiden name was Susanna Harper, her birthplace, Suffolk, P.E.I. Her married life was lived in Suffolk, Pleasant Grove and Covehead. When quite young she attended Christian instruction and united with the Methodist Church, and throughout a long and useful life she held fast to that doctrine. She was always happy to converse with friends on matters of faith and religious life. She was a loyal member of the W.M.S., and Christian ministers were always sure of a warm welcome at her home, which was always open for church meetings.

Mrs. Duck was a good wife, a devoted mother, and a warm friend. Of her family of five daughters, three predeceased her. There are left to cherish the memory of a good Christian mother, Bertha, Mrs. Edmund MacMillan, and Jean, Mrs. George Kieley, both of Covehead; thirteen grandchildren and one great grandchild, and one sister Mrs. Rebecca Keizer of York, P.E.I. Her largely attended funeral service was held on March 18 in the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Kieley, with whom Mrs. Duck made her home since her husband's death. Her remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at York beside those of her husband, where the service at the grave was conducted by the Rev. J.A. Nicholson of York and Rev. Thos. A. Wilson of Covehead.

The pall-bearers were: Messrs. George Keiley, Wallace MacDonaid, Herbert Hughes, Frank Hughes, Ambrose Doyle and Frank Watta.

MR. NEIL A. STEWART

Friends throughout the province will regret to learn of the passing of Mr. Neil A. Stewart in his 68th year, which occurred in Rockland, Mass., on Sunday, April 9th.

The late Mr. Stewart who lived practically all his life in Charlottetown was a man of friendly disposition and loved by all. He was the son of the late Duncan Stewart of Sturton, P. E. Island, in early life the late Mr. Stewart was engaged in the produce and shipping business, at one time loading his late home. Later he conducted a successful lobster packing business on the South Shore. Moving to Boston he was employed at the Nurses' Home of the Children's Hospital for the past 15 years. His funeral service was held from his home, 20 George St., Rockland, Mass., at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, Rev. M.J. Prendergast at the solemn high mass. The funeral was celebrated at the Church of the Holy Family at 9 o'clock. Charles Morgan was organist and Horace, Fred and William McCarthy were soloists.

Pall bearers were Messrs. John Downing, Daniel Smith, Arthur Derocha, Urie Burke, Francis Boudreau and Henry Cook. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, West Roxbury.

He survived by his wife, Mary Ann (Farmer) Stewart, a daughter Mrs. Corilla Gaudette, a son Duncan, and three grand children; also a sister, Mrs. M. E. Doyle of Charlottetown, P. E. I.

NEW LONDON W. I.

The New London Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Harry Dunning on the 9th with a good attendance. The president announced and after the meeting was opened the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report of the social evening was that it was quite a success, the amount realized being $12.65.

It was agreed upon that the two quilts that were made be given to families in the district. The School Committee reported the blackboard that had been ordered for the school had been received and placed in the school and is greatly appreciated by the teacher and pupils. The sick committee reported a good many in the district are sick and had been remembered.

The secretary read one asking for new membership for a Canadian wide organization that had been recently formed to wage war on Cancer. It was decided that the first ten past presidents be made members. The government grant of $3.20 had been received.

The Questionnaires on Education and Home Economics were discussed and papers read on same. The next meeting to be held at the home of the secretary, House Cleaning Hints to be given in answer to roll call. Agriculture the topic for discussion, and the program committee Mrs. Dan Mackay and Mrs. Wilbur Mackay. The program for the evening was a humorous reading by Mrs. Cole. Collection $1.10. Meeting closed with the National Anthem and a dainty lunch was served.

ARTHUR G. HOGAN

Youthful proprietor of Island Furriers who takes pleasure in announcing that they have recently installed one of the most modern cold storage vaults for furs in Canada. This vault has a capacity for storing five hundred fur coats and the temperature can be brought down to many degrees below freezing.

Little Theatre Guild At London, Ont.

The Staff Writer of the Toronto Globe has the following further reference to the Little Theatre Guild Group from Charlottetown on their presentation of "It's Autumn Now" given in London, Ont., last Tuesday night.

Director Plays Part

It was only the second play the J.A. Lawson had directed, but you would never have guessed it. There was sparkle and punch and co-ordination in the comedy by Philip Johnson, "It's Autumn Now," presented by the Little Theatre Guild of Charlottetown. It was the second time a production from that extreme eastern city had been given in the all-Dominion playoffs.

President of the Charlottetown Guild, Mr. Lawson only undertook the job of director when no one else could be found to do it. And here in London he found himself also playing a part when I.Y. Reddin could not come to the finals.

In this costume play, which centres about a typical "ham" actor and his wife stranded in a small town in England forty or fifty years ago, Burleigh Taylor was cast in the role of the old actor. It is the first play Mr. Taylor has ever appeared in, "and I love it," he declared this afternoon. "It seems to me I've wasted the last seventy-five years of my life," avowed the character accountant, who was excellently cast, the production tonight proved.

In the play was Frances Holl-

Returns From The Antarctic

MONTREAL, April 17—Pilot J. H. Lymburner, who does most of his flying in the wilds of northern Quebec, returned to Montreal today from a "highly successful" venture into the Antarctic with the Lincoln Ellsworth expedition.

Chief pilot of the expedition, Lymburner said the party claimed 83,000 square miles of highly-mineralized territory for the United States. "But," he added, "we could not do much exploratory work, aside from dropping the claim—a metal cylinder released over the territory from an airplane. Ellsworth, whose expedition spent three months in the south Polar regions, hopes to arrange another party in 1941, said the pilot, who landed at Saint John, N. B., yesterday.
