Mr. Justice Tweedy Addresses Seniors At Queen Square

Yesterday afternoon, during school hours, the senior pupils of Grades IX and X, Queen Square School, were privileged to hear an address given by Mr. Justice G. J. Tweedy in the school auditorium.

His Lordship spoke to the boys on law. He pointed out the educational qualifications necessary to become a lawyer as well as explaining such phases of law as the common law and statute law. He also stressed how necessary it is for one in any profession to keep well informed on new developments in his field of work. In other words one's work has only begun when he or she has become a lawyer, doctor, teacher, etc.

At the conclusion of his address a sincere vote of thanks was tendered His Lordship by the chairman, John Walsh. The vote of thanks was moved and seconded by Lewis Paoli and Damien Leonard. The above three pupils are members of the Grade IX jr. class.

The principal, Lieut. Col. L. F. MacDonald, made fitting reference to Mr. Justice Tweedy's visit and his timely advice to the senior grades.

The address is one of a series sponsored by the School Improvement League to give practical vocational guidance to the senior pupils of this city.

Grain Prepared For Distribution To Game Birds

Fifteen to 20 members of Pheasants Unlimited and other interested sportsmen, met last night at the Livestock Marketing Board premises on Fitzroy street where some two tons of grain were bagged preparatory to distributing it by plane over the week-end in a move to provide supplementary feed for game birds. It is feared that the upland game birds are suffering from lack of food since the arrival of deep snow at Christmas.

Last night the grain was packed in 15-pound paper bags. It was mixed with grit, about a half-ton of the latter being used.

Mr. J. A. Gillies, manager of the Marketing Board, supplied the grain at cost. It was pointed out that only grain, free from weed seeds was used.

It is hoped to make perhaps two flights in a Paul Sharp plane today, dropping the first feed. Then, if weather conditions are favorable, another four to six flights will be made Sunday.

Officials of Pheasants Unlimited last night said they would welcome reports from persons in rural areas, telling where birds appear to be in need of food. Also, after the grain is distributed they said they would appreciate reports on results. It was suggested that rural school teachers and pupils might contribute valuable data.

Farmers already in quite a number of cases are known to be feeding birds. Pheasants Unlimited officials said they would be glad to do what they could to arrange to have feed supplied to farmers requesting it.

Provincial And Federal Gov'ts. Exchange Acres

An exchange of 11 acres of Dominion Experimental Farm land on the North River Road for 62 acres of the Beach Grove property, owned by the Provincial Government, has been decided upon, it was learned yesterday.

The disparity in areas of the properties involved in the exchange is made up for, an agricultural official said last night, by other considerations. The 11 acres which the Experimental Farm is willing to exchange is much more valuable land per acre than the Beach Grove area since it is located near the City and therefore can be converted into much needed building lots.

On the other hand, while it is understood the 62 acres to be exchanged are infested with mustard and have no water, Farm officials do not consider those factors harmful for the specific purpose for which they require the additional acreage -that of carrying on certain field experiments.

The WEEK at S.D.U.

There was great joy and jubilation at St. Dunstan's on last Tuesday afternoon when His Excellency Most Rev. James Boyle, D. D., Bishop of Charlottetown, announced that word had been received from Rome that Very Rev. R.V. MacKenzie, Litt. D., Rector of St. Dunstan's, had been named a Domestic Prelate by His Holiness, Pope Pius XII. It seems most fitting that the news of Msgr. MacKenzie's honor should be received on the eve of the Silver Jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood. The students, alumni, and many friends of Msgr. MacKenzie rejoice with him in the honor that he has received. The ceremony of investiture will take place in the near future.

In spite of the heavy falls of snow during the holiday season, everyone is back at the College (Landrigan arrived this afternoon after a vacation in the U.S.A.)—that accounts for everybody). We have a few new students among us; some of them are here for the first time, others are resuming studies which they discontinued some years ago. We noticed in particular Mike Hennessey, who left here two years ago; his presence on the Saints' line-up this winter will be a decided asset to the hockey team.

During the holidays several student conferences were held in various parts of Canada. In Winnipeg the N.F.C.U.S. held its third post-war session; St. Dunstan's was represented by "Navy" Len MacDonald and Clifford Murphy. Many topics came up for discussion at the conference, chief of which were reduction of fares for students, establishment of scholarships by business firms, and the possibility of forming a Dominion intercollegiate athletic union. After the delegates from St. Dunstan's and some other colleges had left, the conference voted to join the I.U.S. (International Union of Students), whose headquarters is at Prague. The Union is said to be at present Communist dominated; but the delegates felt that nothing could be done by remaining on the outside. It was thought that the best thing to do was to join the organization with a view to counter-balancing the Communist influence.

Several of the Catholic colleges of the Maritimes held a C.F.C.C.S. conference at Halifax early in January. Mr. A. P. Campbell and Wilf Driscoll represented the St. Dunstan's unit. The meeting discussed ways and means of helping the students of Europe, especially those of the Catholic colleges. It was felt that unless something is done to relieve the distressing conditions under which those students find themselves, many of them will be induced to join the ranks of the Communists.

It is reported by eye-witnesses that the students in those colleges have no books, very little food, and in some cases no desks on which to work. It was decided at the conference in Montreal last fall that each Canadian College would adopt some college in the distressed parts of Europe and help those students as much as possible by sending them gifts of food, books, money, and anything else that might be of help to them.

The St. Dunstan's unit of the C.F.C.C.S. has adopted a college in Cracow, Poland; and already plans are being made to raise funds to send them food, books, and clothing. Mr. Driscoll, president of the S.D.U. unit, has informed us that they plan on holding a dance for that purpose in the near future.

The St. Dunstan's basketball team started off the new year well by defeating the Navy 55-30 last Saturday, but they dropped the second game to P.W.C. 48-39. Their next opponents are Ray's Millionaires; a win over the Millionaires would put the Saints in a tie for first place. So, lets see you take them, boys!

The Saints made their debut in the City Hockey League on Thursday night against Summerside. The score: Saints 8, Summerside 2. The Summerside team elected to play it rough from the opening whistle, and at times it was difficult to tell whether it was a hockey game or just a wild melee. However, in the second and third periods the teams settled down and play was smoother and faster. The ice was not as good as it might have been, and, as a result, the Saints forwards found it difficult to control the puck. However, we think it was a very good start. Interest in the C.H.L. is not as keen on the campus this year as usual; everyone seems to be waiting for the opening of the intercollegiate series. The Saints are the intercollegiate champions; and whether they can hold the championship or not is the question that hockey fans here are most concerned with.

We regret to report that Loyola MacCarthy has entered the hospital for treatment of a minor injury which he received last fall during football practice. His classmates did not forget him, however: On Thursday afternoon they arrived at the hospital in force with flowers and fruit; in the evening he was visited by the many friends that he has made at the socials.

"Slugger": "This is great; I wonder how long the treatment will continue."

Blacquiere: "I didn't have anything to do with it."

Box Of Food Is Appreciated By British Clergyman

The following letter has been received by Mrs. J.T. Rodd, Charlottetown, who is P.E.I. secretary for Social Service for the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of England in Canada. Mrs. Rodd said the writer of the letter, Rev. Noel Brown, was one of two clergymen in the Old Country to which the Auxiliary had sent boxes of food.

The letter, dated in December at Stamford Hill, said in part:

"It is not possible to put into words our thanks and appreciation. It is not only a gift (and a very welcome one) but it is also an outward and visible sign of a unity inspired by a common speech, a common faith and a sense of "family feeling" — all rooted and founded and held together by that unity which comes from the fact of our membership in the only family of God, His Church....

Later in the letter Rev. Mr. Brown said of his parish in London.... "there is no poverty as I knew it in pre-war days. But we are all rather short of food, and some people are not so good at managing as others. There is a good deal of sameness about our food and anything that will give a little variety is a boon. My wife's eyes nearly fell out of her head when she saw the rice — as she likes it (I don't) and we haven't seen any since the early days of the war.

"Actually we are ourselves used to a little austerity, as we had 20 years in East London before we came here. And there was poverty and squalor there. From 1930 I had a parish in Stepney and I was there during the early intensive bombing. Fortunately my family was not with me. I lost my church and vicarage, though it is surprising how much I was able to salvage of my belongings...."

HEADS CHILDREN'S

ing to the report of Mr. W.J. Brawders, agent of the Society. Of those, 37 are in their own homes, 45 are in foster homes, 14 are in orphanages, and four are in the reformatory.

Fifteen of the wards are 18 years of age or over and the majority are working and "getting along satisfactorily". Those in foster homes, the report stated, are being well cared for.

Those wards who are being taken care of by the two orphanages are well looked after and "the Society owes a deep debt of gratitude to the superintendents of both orphanages for the splendid manner in which the children are being trained and educated".

During the past year, the report stated, there were eight investigations into family disagreements and three interviews — at the request of the parents — were held with wayward children.

There was a notable decrease in the number of juvenile delinquents during the past year. Twenty-eight juveniles were before the Court in 1947 as compared to 65 the previous year. In the majority of cases petty theft constituted the majority of offences, the report stated.

Owing to the death of his wife, Mr. Brawders was absent from the meeting and his report was read by the secretary-treasurer, Major T.E. MacNutt.

Following this report, and in view of the fact that Mr. Brawders had previously informed the Society that he would no longer be able to carry on as Agent for the Society because of other duties, the following resolution was passed:

RESOLVED, that this annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society wish to place on record its appreciation of the faithful, untiring and successful effort which Mr. W. J. Brawders has put into his work as Agent of this Society, during the many years he was officially employed, and for his having voluntarily continued in the same capacity to the present time.

FURTHER RESOLVED, that the meeting tenders to Mr. Brawders its very sincere sympathy in the great loss which he has so recently sustained by the death of Mrs. Brawders.

Speaks On Child Welfare

Dr. MacMillan then introduced the guest speaker, Mr. F.R. MacKinnon, Halifax, Director of Child Welfare for Nova Scotia.

Mr. MacKinnon, who gave a stirring and inspiring address on child welfare and the organization of Children's Aid Societies, said that although this work could be put under the jurisdiction of the Government and be carried out by it, it was really up to private citizens and their organizations and societies to carry on this work so that they will have something to say in the carrying out of child welfare work. He stressed that public interest and support by citizen participation is the main factor in carrying out such work to a successful conclusion.

In referring to the developing of a strong Children's Aid Society, he pointed out that the first step was to have a strong and well organized Board, and that to carry on the necessary work efficiently, requires at least one full time executive officer on that board. He also referred to the financial status of such a Society, and gave a detailed outline of how this important factor of the society is being carried out in other Provinces in the Dominion.

Mr. MacKinnon spoke on other phases of such a society, and said that when a Society is obliged to take children from their parents, who are not in a position to give them the proper care and necessities required, the society must be prepared to be a good parent and have the means and machinery to look after them. "It is our responsibility to see that those children are taken care of as future citizens, and if we fail in this, we fail as a Society."

Dr. MacMillan thanked Mr. MacKinnon for his splendid address and gave a brief review of the activities of the local Society, after which the election of officers was carried out as follows:

President, Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, O.B.E.

Vice Presidents, Rev. G. C. Webster and Rev. Father W. J. McCardle.

Hon Solicitor, Mr. Donald MacKinnon, K.C.

Secretary Treasurer, Major T. E. MacNutt.

Council: Rev. J. T. Ibbott, Rev. Canon E. M. Malone, Rev. Father Baldwin, Rev. T. E. McLennan, Rev. T. H. B. Somers, Rev. J. D. Lavison, Rev. M. D. Dunbar, Miss MacLean, Sister St. John of the Cross, Sister Mary Henry, Miss Eva Beers, Miss Ruth Ross, R. N., Lieut.-Col. P. S. Fielding, Mrs. J. F. Lantz, Major Alan Nicholson, Lieut.-Col. L. F. MacDonald, Kiwanis representative, Earl Taylor, Gyro representative, Walthen Gaudet, Kinsmer representative, Mrs. W. G. Bruce, Mrs. H. S. Henderson, Lieut.-Col. L. T. Lowther, inter-Church Laymen Council representative, Mrs. J. D. MacGuigan, Mrs. Parnell McMahon.

Various members of the Society brought up questions of interest which were answered very capably by Mr. MacKinnon, after which a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. MacKinnon for his valuable address. The vote was moved by Mr. H. F. MacPhee and seconded by Mayor MacDonald.

LONDON — (CP) Hard work and clean living bring health and happiness, said Mrs. Jane Ridley on her 101st birthday.
