Sergt.-Pilot Elmer Muttart was pleasantly surprised when a large number of his friends gathered at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Muttart, Cape Traverse, to wish him the best of luck and bid him farewell before he left to resume his military duties after a brief furlough. When the guests had assembled, Harold Campbell read a nicely worded, complimentary address and Jev Crooks made the presentation of a handsome Air Force ring. After Elmer had thanked his friends for their gifts and their good wishes, he was most heartily bounced, and the company joined in singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Delicious refreshments were served and a happy evening was spent with games, music and pleasant conversation, closing with God Save the King.

The Cape Traverse Young People's Union met on Friday evening, Feb. 14, at the home of Mildred Muttart, with the new president, Theama Quigley, in the chair. The meeting opened with the hymn Breathe On Me Breath of God, and the Scripture was read by Mildred Muttart. Thanking the Young People for the devotional part of the meeting, gave an appropriate reading, Mr. Barker read in prayer and after the singing of the Faith of Our Fathers, he gave a most interesting talk which was followed by a discussion. The minutes of the meeting were read and approved. A letter was read from a member who is now a patient in the Sanatorium, thanking the Young People for the Christmas gift they had sent him. John Macdonald and Deane Bell were appointed to make arrangements for a Young People's skate at the rink. Ferne Bell, Mildred Muttart and Mrs. Dick Carver were appointed a committee to arrange a meeting. Program: John Macdonald and Harold Muttart; Luncheon; Mary Muttart, Mrs. Murphy and Mildred Lowther; Devotional, David Murphy. Evelyn Bell put on a Valentine program which opened with a lively sing-song, much enjoyed by all, with Mr. Barker at the piano. Other numbers were a reading by Valentine, by Evelyn Bell; a recitation by Thelma Quigley, and a reading by Ferne Bell. Luncheon was served by the committee in charge, and the meeting closed with the benediction, followed by God Save the King.

The Cape Traverse Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Edwin MacWilliams on Thursday afternoon, February 13, with the newly-elected president, Mrs. Norling, in the chair. The theme for the worship service was "Finding the way through prayer." The meeting opened with selected Scripture verses read by the president, with responses sung as a solo. The prayer hymn, Dear Lord and Father of Mankind, was sung, followed by prayer by Mrs. Culliffe, and the Lord's Prayer in unison. Scripture selections were read by Mrs. Gordon Harvey, Mrs. Albert Muttart, Mrs. Culliffe, Mrs. Frank Muttart, and Miss Mary Muttart. The president then gave an impressive talk on the need of prayer. Eight members paid their annual fees and Miss Mary Muttart sang All For Jesus as a dedication of the offering. Some

Cape Breton Man found Hacked to death

SYDNEY, N.S., Feb. 26.—(CP)—They wrote off the name of Toud Angus (Cabbage) Heffridge today, and Sydney's hard-hitting Coke Ovens district lost one of its toughest warriors.

21-year-old stepdaughter of Heffridge's wife found the body of the 57-year-old steelworker under a bed in his tenement house. The corpse was hacked and a blood-stained axe was discovered in the kitchen.

Police said Heffridge apparently had been beaten about the head. His feet protruded from beneath the bed, his body was cloaked only in underwear and a sweater.

Police questioned relatives and other residents of the Coke Ovens, but no charge was laid tonight.

Police were informed by Gill O'Leary, a Hungarian, that the victim had been drinking last night and that they had parted at the Heffridge home about 10 p.m. Mrs. Heffridge and her step-daughter were questioned at headquarters. Both were in the house when an officer arrived.

80 died Cabbage Heffridge, a hard man who lived in a hard district. His fists carried him through countless fights in a region thickly populated by foreigners working at Sydney's steel plant.

He and death had been close since he found Cabbage with a three-inch gash in his skull, apparently dying in a squalid International Pier district shack.

Doctors were waiting for Heffridge to breathe his last until they went into his room one day and found Heffridge on a bench. A few days later Cabbage was found wandering around the woods in nearby Richmond district and two landings.

About 10 years ago, Cabbage got into a brawl with a heavier man. Heffridge used a kitchen chair on the man, but when his opponent came up in court on an attempted murder charge, Heffridge was there to testify.

His first citation was received in January, 1913, after he had risked his life to carry Mrs. W. S. Rice from a burning building. He was cited again in 1920 for the single-handed capture of two bandits.

As a captain he commanded first Richmond district and lately Ingle-district.

He is survived by two sons, John M. Annear, a member of the San Francisco police department, and Bert Annear, a Los Angeles business man, also a daughter, Miss Nance Annear, with whom he lived at 2 Linares Avenue since the death of his wife one and a half years ago.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John A. Annear, of Lower Montague, and has been a resident of California for many years.

He was a brother of Mont Annear, M.P.P., and George Annear, Lower Montague, Harry Annear, of North Dakota, Mrs. (Rev.) J. O'Brien, Sydney, N.S., Mrs. (Rev.) Theodore Ross, Black River, N. B., and Mrs. E. E. Poole, of Regina.

Last year his sisters, Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. Ross, visited him. The funeral took place last Sunday to Wood-avenue cemetery.
