

HEART WAS SO WEAK Had to Stay in Bed

Mrs. F. Wilson, Lethbridge, Alta., writes:—"My heart was very weak, and I had to stay in bed for five weeks with it."

"My aunt advised me to take as she had taken them with good results after a very bad operation. "I took them and some time after a doctor came to examine me for life insurance and he said there was nothing wrong with my heart."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all druggists and dealers, or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SMILES

"Even a blunt person may be thoroughly impressed before she sees the point."

She: Neighbors used to drop in for a call. He: Now they call in for a drop

She: I'll never marry a man unless he has a good job. He: So that's why you save your favors for the young minister eh?

IN THE SECOND RIB "Was the villain of the play stabbed in the second act?" "No—stabbed in the second rib."

THE HELPING HAND She: It is really important that I should go down town this afternoon but I can't get up enough energy to start. He: Well, will I help you any if I was to suggest that you do so?

An English inventor's baby carriage that can be folded to the size of a suit case for carrying also can be used as a bath tub.

ECZEMA IN RASH ON HANDS Troubled For Three Years. Healed by Cuticura. "I was troubled with eczema on my hands for three years. It appeared in a rash and then formed blisters. It troubled me much worse in winter so I could hardly put my hands in water or be near heat. My hands were terribly inflamed and all disfigured. I had to wear old gloves to keep from scratching. "I saw a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and sent for a free sample. I got relief from it so I bought more and after I had used them for three months I was healed." (Signed) Miss Beatrice Aiken, Highwater, Que. Use Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for daily toilet purposes. Sample Each Free by Mail. Address: Canadian Agents: "The Canadian Family" Dept. 505, 125 St. James St., Montreal, P. Q. Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

MISS BROWN OF X. Y. O.

By E. Phillips Oppenheim (Copyright 1927 by E. Phillips Oppenheim)

FRANCES, half an hour later, her evening gown thrown carelessly over a chair, lay flat upon the bed, the rest of her costume entirely negligible. She was smoking a cigarette, her hands clasped behind her head, watching Miss Brown, who was boiling a kettle. "Absurd idea of mine to want tea," she murmured. "I often have tea myself before I go to bed," Miss Brown confided. "We old maids need something."

FRANCES, half an hour later, her evening gown thrown carelessly over a chair, lay flat upon the bed, the rest of her costume entirely negligible. She was smoking a cigarette, her hands clasped behind her head, watching Miss Brown, who was boiling a kettle.

"You let him kiss you?" Miss Brown asked severely. "I meant to," Frances confessed. "In the end he was so horrid about it that I escaped with just a touch on the corner of my cheek. Do you like being kissed on the lips, Edith?"

MISS BROWN turned around. "No man has ever kissed me on the lips in my life," she declared. Frances looked at her for a moment and nodded. "Well, I might have guessed it," she said. "You are telling the truth, too, which makes it more awful. No man has kissed me for a long time, and I know one thing for certain now—Mr. Frankland never will."

"How you could have conceived the possibility—" Miss Brown began sternly. "Listen!" Miss Brown interrupted, sitting upright with a start. It was past 2 o'clock, and the little street had been deserted ever since the closing time of the public house at the corner. The silence, however, was suddenly almost fearfully broken.

From somewhere in the direction of Curzon street came a confused clamor of voices—voices shrill and yet raucous, voices which somehow or other reminded the two girls, listening now side by side at the window of a pack of wild animals in full cry—and in the nearer distance, along the pavement, closer at every moment, came the stumbling footsteps of a man running.

MISS BROWN shivered. She had a momentary accession of weakness. Surely the tragedy of the morning had been sufficient. "Put out the light, Frances," she whispered. Frances shook her head. What impulse possessed her she never knew, then or at any future time. She touched the spring which released the blind and stood at the window, and almost as she did so, the tall form came cumbering in, as she did so, the tall form came cumbering in, as she did so, the tall form came cumbering in.

"What about Mr. Frankland then?" Frances demanded. "He's as simple as an idiot—apart from his work, that is. There's only one way he could possibly appeal to any one but the lowest. And he did appeal to me for a time. I wondered all sorts of things. I liked his look of strength—even the smell of cigars about him. I didn't dislike his dissipated eyes. He was forceful and irritable and used to getting what he wanted, and like a child in letting you know what he wanted."

"It was only one side of me he appealed to. He has gone now, so I can think of him dispassionately, but if he'd known how to lower his voice just a little now and then, given the least sign of any real sentiment, if he'd lost for a moment, his cocksure, bullying manner—well, I don't know. He might, as some idiot of a novelist said, have just caught the tide of opportunity. "He didn't, anyway. He isn't capable of it, and I never want to see him again as long as I live. He's behaved like the worst kind of beast. When he found he couldn't have his own way and was never likely to, he just abused me. What fools they are, these men, Edith. They could get so much more of what they want in this world if they'd only take the trouble to learn how."

MISS BROWN'S face under the shaded light was absolutely unsympathetic, almost severe. "My dear Frances," she said, "I don't think that like with the chickens is agreeing with you." "Well, I've got to go on with it," was the somewhat despondent reply. "Every boy I have is sunk in those rotten little huts and all the machinery for making them. Edith, it's you who has all the luck. You've got a job you're crazy about. You're somehow or other become a romantic figure in some sort of an intrigue, and you've got a young man who, whenever he's near, can't keep his eyes off you. What's your new employer like?"

Best Way to Loosen Stubborn Cough

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling, throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, throat-tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get 16 ounces—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaricol, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with an absolute satisfaction of money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

"No one. And I do wish you'd leave off this habit of talk, Frances."

"Must talk according to my moods, child. I've been in this sort of mood for a month now. I think when I get back to the country, though, I shall stay there. London to me always means amazing anticipation and crushing disappointment. I shall take up a hobby. Isn't a hobby the finest sign of accepted spinsterhood or something like that? I shall probably—"

"Listen!" Miss Brown interrupted, sitting upright with a start. It was past 2 o'clock, and the little street had been deserted ever since the closing time of the public house at the corner. The silence, however, was suddenly almost fearfully broken.

From somewhere in the direction of Curzon street came a confused clamor of voices—voices shrill and yet raucous, voices which somehow or other reminded the two girls, listening now side by side at the window of a pack of wild animals in full cry—and in the nearer distance, along the pavement, closer at every moment, came the stumbling footsteps of a man running.

MISS BROWN shivered. She had a momentary accession of weakness. Surely the tragedy of the morning had been sufficient. "Put out the light, Frances," she whispered. Frances shook her head. What impulse possessed her she never knew, then or at any future time. She touched the spring which released the blind and stood at the window, and almost as she did so, the tall form came cumbering in, as she did so, the tall form came cumbering in.

"What about Mr. Frankland then?" Frances demanded. "He's as simple as an idiot—apart from his work, that is. There's only one way he could possibly appeal to any one but the lowest. And he did appeal to me for a time. I wondered all sorts of things. I liked his look of strength—even the smell of cigars about him. I didn't dislike his dissipated eyes. He was forceful and irritable and used to getting what he wanted, and like a child in letting you know what he wanted."

"It was only one side of me he appealed to. He has gone now, so I can think of him dispassionately, but if he'd known how to lower his voice just a little now and then, given the least sign of any real sentiment, if he'd lost for a moment, his cocksure, bullying manner—well, I don't know. He might, as some idiot of a novelist said, have just caught the tide of opportunity. "He didn't, anyway. He isn't capable of it, and I never want to see him again as long as I live. He's behaved like the worst kind of beast. When he found he couldn't have his own way and was never likely to, he just abused me. What fools they are, these men, Edith. They could get so much more of what they want in this world if they'd only take the trouble to learn how."

MISS BROWN'S face under the shaded light was absolutely unsympathetic, almost severe. "My dear Frances," she said, "I don't think that like with the chickens is agreeing with you." "Well, I've got to go on with it," was the somewhat despondent reply. "Every boy I have is sunk in those rotten little huts and all the machinery for making them. Edith, it's you who has all the luck. You've got a job you're crazy about. You're somehow or other become a romantic figure in some sort of an intrigue, and you've got a young man who, whenever he's near, can't keep his eyes off you. What's your new employer like?"

President's Address of Poultry Meeting

(Continued.) PRESIDENT'S REPORT To the Delegates and Members of the P. E. I. Co-Operative Egg & Poultry Association.

Your Directors have pleasure in reporting on the business of the Association for the year ending, December 31, 1927; that the high standard set in previous years has been sustained and in some respects surpassed by the operations of the past season.

The Gross Value of Eggs, Live and Dressed Poultry amounted to $425,175.00. The volume of eggs handled in 1927 amounted to 1,194,680 dozens, an increase of 65,239 dozens over the previous year; the average production per member also increased from 306 to 327 dozens, a splendid average gain.

The outstanding feature of the past year's business is the average price per dozen returned to members; this amounted to 30.26c an increase of approximately 1-2c a dozen over 1926; and is the highest average price paid members since 1921.

Write the average price to all members for all grades is 30.26c. Thirty-five members received from 33c to 35c a dozen average. Special mention must be made of Mr. James Stavert, Central Bedoune Circle who marketed 1569 dozens during the year at an average price of 38.59c a dozen.

Mr. Samuel McPherson, Martineville Circle, again leads the list for gross production, having shipped 3034 dozens at an average price of 32 1-4c a dozen. Preston McLeod, New London North, 1705 dozens. James M. Compton, Bangor, 1479 dozens. W. S. Hugh, Southern Kings, 1669 dozens.

Thirty-two members shipped one thousand dozens or more, Mrs. Edson S. Ross, of Lot 46 Circle shipped 1189 dozens, making a clear profit of $359.00 on eggs and poultry, from a flock of eighty hens, and 150 chickens raised during the season.

Your directors wish to compliment these members on the excellent work they are doing by demonstrating to their fellow members the possibilities in the poultry business, when co-operative principles are followed.

Edmunds Circle heads the list for Circle production with 87,278 dozens, a gain of nearly 4000 dozens over 1926. Southern Kings follows closely with 57,372, a gain of 2000 doz. Bangor retains third place with 46,417 dozens.

Springfield Circle had a gain of 11,544 dozens, North Side 7304, and Bloomfield 5541 dozens. In addition the following circles had gains of 300 dozens or more, Rustico, Websters Corner, Hope River, Murray Harbour North, Grand River, Glenwood, Progress, Mt. Carmel, Central Bedoune, and Central Lot 15.

A new Circle at Covehead was organized. Owing to insufficient collecting arrangements, Tryon, Tracadie Cross, Tignish and Lot 46 fell very much below their usual quantities; a scheme for better coordination has been suggested by the Association Manager to these circles, your directors express the hope that these circles, and all others, will endeavor to fully realize the benefits and advantages of complete and loyal support to the Association.

The Community Hatchery was operated very successfully during the 1927 season. The number of chicks shipped here up to average. Owing to limited hatching capacity, orders for approximately nine thousand chicks had to be declined. The loss of this business together with the increased interest in Day Old Chicks by the members, induced us to increase the capacity of the hatchery by adding a Jamesway Incubator of 14,000 egg capacity. This machine is now installed and brings the total capacity of our hatchery up to 28,000 eggs.

Open the way to Healthful Cleanliness

Simply open the little port-holes in the top of the package and out comes Old Dutch Cleanser to bring you Healthful Cleanliness—so important to every home.

Old Dutch simplifies housework, it is safe, thorough, economical. There's nothing else like it for porcelain and enamel, aluminum, glass ware, cooking utensils, tile, painted woodwork, floors, windows, refrigerators, stoves, etc. Protects the surface and assures its longer life.

Chases Dirt—protects the home Made in Canada

CARDIGAN HEAD SCHOOL Grade III. (Sr.) I. George Nicholson, 2. Malcolm Hayter. Grade III. (Jr.) 1. Earle Johnson, 2. Samuel Lowery, 3. Bertha Hayter. Grade I. I. Jennie Lowery, 2. Neil Nicholson. Perfect Attendance—Leslie MacDonald, Louis MacDonald, Earle Johnson, Rose Sullivan, Marion Sullivan and William Sullivan. Gladys Birt. (Teacher).

Grade VII. (Sr.) 1. Louis MacDonald, 2. Leslie MacDonald, 3. Ross Sullivan. Grade VII. (Jr.) 1. Marion Sullivan, 2. Laura MacDonald, 3. Inez Nicholson. Grade V. 1. Alexander MacLeod, 2. William Sullivan, 3. Winifred Ferguson.

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL MEETING. Mr. Samuel McPherson, Martineville Circle, again leads the list for gross production, having shipped 3034 dozens at an average price of 32 1-4c a dozen.

General Store, Stock in Trade, Lobster Factory and Equipment, ETC. AT MURRAY HARBOUR SOUTH. The undersigned, as Trustee for Prowse & Sons, Limited, Authorized Assignors, of Murray Harbour South, will receive tenders for all or any of the following lots, at its Charlotte town office, up to noon, Saturday, March 17th, 1928.

(1) Store Building, Can Shop, Mutton Factory and Wharf property situated in the Village of Murray Harbour, School Assessment valuation $6000. (2) Stock in Trade in General Store at Murray Harbour consisting of the following:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Approx. Valuation. (a) Hardware 5100.00, (b) Boots & Shoes 1000.00, (c) Groceries 1200.00, (d) Dry-Goods 2200.00, (e) School Books and Stationery 100.00, (f) Patent Medicines 270.00, (g) Fixtures 500.00.

Prospective purchasers may bid on any or all of the sub-lots lettered as above. The stock may be inspected on the premises at Murray Harbour or a detailed inventory may be examined at the office of the trustee in Charlottetown.

(3) Electric Light Plant (3 years old) in Store, at present supplying four residential properties, cost $1200.00. (4) Lobster Building, including land, building and wharf, situated at Beach Point, Lot 64, near Murray Harbour, assessed valuation $5400.00. (5) Equipment in Lobster Factory consisting of Boiler, 3000 Lobster traps, Canning Machinery, 7 boats, Marine Engines, Anchors, Rope, etc., estimated value $4500.00. (6) Starch Factory and Equipment situated at Murray Harbour.

(7) Farm Property at Murray Harbour containing 72 1/2 acres. (8) Farm Machinery consisting of Plows, Harrows, etc., approximate value $650.00. (9) 2 Horses. (10) Miscellaneous Real Estate, Assessed. (a) Small lot at Railway, Murray Harbour $125. (b) Small lot at Island 30. (c) Mill Site opposite Starch Factory 100. (d) 16 acres at Cape Bear 300. (11) 2 Shares Bruce Stewart & Company, Limited, par value $200.

Terms: A certified cheque for 10 per cent, must accompany each tender, payment of balance to be arranged with the Trustee. The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

THE EASTERN TRUST COMPANY 145 Richmond Street, Charlottetown, P. E. I. Dated at Charlottetown, this 7th day of March, 1928. 2993-3-7-41.

FOR SALE BY TENDER

GENERAL STORE, STOCK IN TRADE, LOBSTER FACTORY AND EQUIPMENT, ETC. AT MURRAY HARBOUR SOUTH.

The undersigned, as Trustee for Prowse & Sons, Limited, Authorized Assignors, of Murray Harbour South, will receive tenders for all or any of the following lots, at its Charlotte town office, up to noon, Saturday, March 17th, 1928.

(1) Store Building, Can Shop, Mutton Factory and Wharf property situated in the Village of Murray Harbour, School Assessment valuation $6000. (2) Stock in Trade in General Store at Murray Harbour consisting of the following:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Approx. Valuation. (a) Hardware 5100.00, (b) Boots & Shoes 1000.00, (c) Groceries 1200.00, (d) Dry-Goods 2200.00, (e) School Books and Stationery 100.00, (f) Patent Medicines 270.00, (g) Fixtures 500.00.

Prospective purchasers may bid on any or all of the sub-lots lettered as above. The stock may be inspected on the premises at Murray Harbour or a detailed inventory may be examined at the office of the trustee in Charlottetown.

(3) Electric Light Plant (3 years old) in Store, at present supplying four residential properties, cost $1200.00. (4) Lobster Building, including land, building and wharf, situated at Beach Point, Lot 64, near Murray Harbour, assessed valuation $5400.00. (5) Equipment in Lobster Factory consisting of Boiler, 3000 Lobster traps, Canning Machinery, 7 boats, Marine Engines, Anchors, Rope, etc., estimated value $4500.00. (6) Starch Factory and Equipment situated at Murray Harbour.

(7) Farm Property at Murray Harbour containing 72 1/2 acres. (8) Farm Machinery consisting of Plows, Harrows, etc., approximate value $650.00. (9) 2 Horses. (10) Miscellaneous Real Estate, Assessed. (a) Small lot at Railway, Murray Harbour $125. (b) Small lot at Island 30. (c) Mill Site opposite Starch Factory 100. (d) 16 acres at Cape Bear 300. (11) 2 Shares Bruce Stewart & Company, Limited, par value $200.

Terms: A certified cheque for 10 per cent, must accompany each tender, payment of balance to be arranged with the Trustee. The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

THE EASTERN TRUST COMPANY 145 Richmond Street, Charlottetown, P. E. I. Dated at Charlottetown, this 7th day of March, 1928. 2993-3-7-41.

Cedar Shingles

THE PRICE OF CEDAR SHINGLES IS ON THE UPWARD TREND

Now is the time to secure your season's requirements of CEDAR SHINGLES. We have on hand:

THREE MILLIONS IN ASSORTED GRADES

Extras Second Clears Extra No. 1's Clears Clear Walls

L. M. Poole & Co. Paull's Wharves P.O. Box 392. Telephone 172

High grade, finely pulverized AGRICULTURAL LIME

from Government Quarries, shipped in bulk or bags. Low Prices.

Write for particulars Brookville Manufacturing Co. Ltd. (Operators Government Lime Plant BROOKVILLE, N. B.)

3-11ns 61