Dr. Shaw Speaks At O'Leary

"We in Prince Edward Island are best able to interpret the people of Newfoundland to the rest of Canada and the relationship of the new province to Canada will probably be cemented by our people," said Deputy Minister and Director of Education for Prince Edward Island, Dr. Lloyd W. Shaw of Charlottetown in the O'Leary United Church on Thursday evening, Oct. 27th.

The lecture was under the auspices of the four Young People's Unions on the O'Leary pastoral charge of the United Church, namely, Brae, West Devon, Bloomfield and O'Leary. The president of the O'Leary Y.P.U., Miss Hester Botes presided, and cordially welcomed the large congregation and the guest speaker, Dr. L. W. Shaw, who was introduced by the minister, Rev. W. G. Dickson, who had known Dr. Shaw as a student at Mount Allison University, Sackville, N.B.

The scripture was read by Miss Hester Botes, prayer was offered by a former minister, Rev. George Gough of Cavendish, P.E.I. Rev. Mr. Gough was the minister at O'Leary for ten years from 1937-47. The school children sang very appropriately "The Ode to Newfoundland." A fine film, "Inside Newfoundland" was shown by Mr. Henry Clarke of Alberton. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Dr. Shaw by Mr. A. J. Matheson and seconded by Mr. E. B. Ellis. The Benediction was pronounced by Rev. C. O. Howlett.

TEXT OF LECTURE

With the addition of a tenth province, Canada has not only added to her territory and resources, but also by 320,000 of the finest people in the world who are scattered over 1300 settlements located in a thin strip bordering the 7,000 miles of coast. There are few roads and people travel by boat. For this reason the people of Newfoundland are strong individualists who cling to their customs and traditions.

In our new province may be found dialects such as Somerset, Irish brogue, Yorkshire, spoken with even greater purity than in the Old Country. The reason is that the people have been cut off to such an extent that their language has not been altered by outside influences. It was the result of generations of fishermen and seamen risking their lives daily on the waters.

The speaker mentioned some peculiar laws of the early fishing admirals, such as making it a punishable offense to plant seeds in Newfoundland. The purpose of this was to prevent sailors from deserting their ship and living without fishing.

Another law with the same purpose made it an offense to build a house with a chimney. Both of these laws were broken in some extent. The wooden chimney, peculiar to Newfoundland, was made of hollow logs held together by wooden pins.

Dr. Shaw said that people in the country used to recognize people passing by their horses. So in Newfoundland everybody knew everyone else by their boat. If they saw a strange boat rounding the headland, down would come the wooden chimney for fear of the fishery inspectors.

Dr. Shaw said words in Newfoundland often had different meanings than here. They speak of a "wonderful" day when it is raining or snowing hard or a "wonderful" pain when anyone is very sick.

Another example is the word "abroad" which in Newfoundland means "apart." He had watched a Newfoundland worker on his car. "Something is wrong with the carburetor. I guess I'll have to take it abroad."

Still another example is "putting it off." To us it means "cancel" but not in Newfoundland. Dr. Shaw and his wife were invited to a musicale. It was raining heavily. His host replied "they were putting it off" and he thankfully settled himself for a comfortable evening at home. The next day his host asked him why he had not shown up. "Sure they put it off," he replied. "Fine entertainment it was too."

Dr. Shaw mentioned a railway siding near Port aux Basques where wind, because of the peculiar geography of the district, often reaches such a gale and such a force, that it will blow a train off a track.

From his ten year experience (1934-44) in Newfoundland as Director of Education, Dr. Shaw told many more experiences. It was one of the most interesting and instructive addresses ever heard in O'Leary.—O.
