Oysters
OTTAWA, May 22.—(By The Canadian Press)—More encouragement from the Government to stimulate the development of oyster culture in Prince Edward Island was urged upon Hon. Alfred Duranleau, Minister of Fisheries, by A. E. MacLean (Lib., Prince) in the House of Commons Saturday. Mr. MacLean recalled that several years ago the Government had taken over the oyster beds off the Prince Edward Island coast with a view to prosecuting the scientific development of the industry.

Will Give Bonus
OTTAWA, May 22.—(By The Canadian Press)—A bonus for the reducing plants utilizing dog fish on the Pacific Coast was urged by A. W. Neil, (Ind. Comox-Alberta) speaking in the House of Commons Saturday. There was no need to emphasize the destructive nature of the dog-fish, Mr. Neil said, it was a curse to the fisheries. These reducing plants tended to destroy large numbers of these pests and incidentally gave work to the fishermen. They were operating at a loss and could not keep up much longer. Mr. Neil therefore urged that the Government extend some assistance. The acting Minister of Fisheries did not make any comment on the suggestion.

Saturday Sitting
OTTAWA, May 22.—(By The Canadian Press)—Before deserted galleries and a slim attendance of members the House of Commons put in its first Saturday's sitting. And it developed into a fish day. Problems facing the fishing industry in the Maritimes, the Pacific Coast, inland waters and Hudson Bay in the north, were discussed when Hon. Alfred Duranleau, acting Minister of Fisheries presented his estimates.

Prorogation has been set tentatively for next Wednesday. Many members already have left for their homes and attendance in the House was small. Every item in the fishery estimates was passed in a last minute rush before 6 o'clock after a discussion lasting most of the day. Then, with the House in a generous mood, different ministers rushed into the Chamber to take advantage of conditions. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were appropriated in the space of a few minutes. Leaving a single item in each department whose estimates had not been cleared altogether, the House adjourned a few minutes after 6 o'clock until Monday morning.

N. S. Fishing Industry
OTTAWA, May 22.—(By The Canadian Press)—The Nova Scotia fishing industry commanded the attention of the Commons on Saturday. Replying to an earlier question, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, declared that the reason why the import tax was not made operative against Newfoundland fish was based on the apprehension of fishermen themselves. They feared that if it's excise duty were imposed, Newfoundland would retaliate against the fishermen getting their bait in Newfoundland waters. A defence of the Malagash salt industry was made by R. K. Smith, (Cons., Cumberland) who replied to statements made some days ago by William Duff (Lib. Antigonish

Urges Nationalization of Radium Deposits
OTTAWA, May 23.—(By The Canadian Press)—Nationalization of the radium deposits in the region of the Great Bear Lake was urged upon the Government by Milton N. Campbell (U. F. A., MacKenzie), in the House of Commons

Guysborough) to the effect that the Nova Scotia fishermen did not use salt mined at Malagash. Mr. Smith read a series of telegrams from concerns interested in the fisheries to show that Malagash salt was in every way suited to all manner of fish curing.

He was supported by H. B. Short, (Cons., Annapolis). Mr. Short agreed with Col. the Hon. J. L. Ralston, Liberal, Yarmouth Shelburn), as to the unfortunate results to the lobster fishermen of the western shore of the present season's operations. Lobster catches had dwindled in the last few years from a value of $850,372 (1930) to $264,239 (1932). The figures applied to the western shore of Nova Scotia. He opposed bonusing the fishing industry on the ground that in so doing the government would lay itself under the obligation of establishing bounties for all other industries dealing in natural production.

Onesime Gagnon (Cons., Dorchester) entered into a long discussion on the legal situation respecting the Dual Administration of fisheries as between the Dominion and the Province of Quebec. He urged that steps be taken to find ways and means of preventing this Dual Administration and suggested the establishment of a fishing bureau in Quebec.

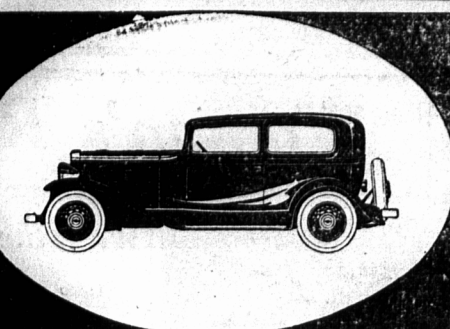

Labor Report
OTTAWA, May 22.—(By The Canadian Press)—The twenty-first annual report of Labor Organization in Canada, as issued by the Federal Department of Labor, covering the calendar year 1931, shows a decrease of 11,905 in trade union membership in Canada as compared with the standing at the close of the year previous. The report divides the labor bodies operating in the Dominion into six classes as follows:

- (1) Local branches of international craft organizations, having headquarters in the United States.
- (2) One big union, an international industrial union, with headquarters in Winnipeg.
- (3) Local branches of the industrial workers of the world, a revolutionary industrial union which seeks to abolish the wage system, with headquarters in Chicago.
- (4) Canadian central labor organizations.
- (5) Independent trade union units
- (6) National Catholic unions.

Opening Postponed
OTTAWA, May 22.—(By The Canadian Press)—The official opening of the laboratories of the National Research Council here has been postponed until a date near the end of July. The Imperial Conference will be in session at Ottawa then. The original intention was to have the official opening of the new laboratory building next week, when the Royal Society of Canada will be in session here. The building, however, is not sufficiently advanced to permit of this. The Royal Society will, however, hold its sessions in the new building.

Deaths from cancer in Canada rose from 88.7 per 100,000 of population in 1927 to 93.3 in 1930; and in the United States the deaths from the same cause rose from 63 per 100,000 in 1900 to 96 in 1930. Mr. Campbell said there was every reason to believe that sufficient radium for the world's use was in the Great Bear Lake area. It was the sacred duty of Canada, not only to her own people but to suffering humanity throughout the world, to prevent this radium supply from falling into private hands today. The House was in committee of supply with the estimates of the Interior Department under review. The facilities in the hospitals of Canada for dealing with cancer were inadequate, Mr. Campbell said, due to lack of radium. The cost of this was $70,000 a gram; and at present only one pound of radium was available in the whole world. Of this amount Canada possessed sixteen grams.

One of the recommendations of the Ontario Government Commission which had enquired into this matter was that the Federal Government appoint a radium commission to control the distribution of radium. Mr. Campbell told the House that Belgium produced 95 per cent of the world's supply, and its distribution was controlled by a trust, with the result that the price was maintained at an exceedingly high level.
Deaths from cancer in Canada rose from 88.7 per 100,000 of population in 1927 to 93.3 in 1930; and in the United States the deaths from the same cause rose from 63 per 100,000 in 1900 to 96 in 1930. Mr. Campbell said there was every reason to believe that sufficient radium for the world's use was in the Great Bear Lake area. It was the sacred duty of Canada, not only to her own people but to suffering humanity throughout the world, to prevent this radium supply from falling into private hands or if it did fall into private hands to see that it was placed under government control for humanity. In view of the control of the radium today by the Belgian trust and the price demanded the Dominion Government should take early action.

Mr. Campbell said there was every evidence that the Belgium Government was making an enormous profit out of the trust now controlling radium through the selling of radium at the present price. It was estimated that radium from the Great Bear Lake could be made available for $10,000 a gram or one-fifth of the price now being paid to the trust; but Mr. Campbell believed that with proper transportation, which would have to come, the price of the Great Bear Lake product could be reduced to $8,200 per gram.

With the publicity which was being given to the Great Bear Lake district, there might be a rush of prospectors into this territory; but Mr. Campbell warned against the many dangers which would be encountered.
He was opposed to the alienation of natural resources from the Crown into private hands.
