Baseball Meeting At Summerside

An organizational meeting for the Midget and Bantam Baseball Leagues to be sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Summerside was held on Saturday afternoon but there was only a small turnout of boys interested in joining the leagues.

Only 12 midgets and 18 bantams turned up, not nearly enough to form a league. A practise has been called for the midgets on the diamond this afternoon at four o'clock and on Tuesday at four for the bantams. How these practises are attended will determine the attitude of the club towards the sponsoring of these leagues.

Saturday's meeting was attended by G. M. Mulholland, chairman of the sports committee, Charlie Hogan, club president, Harold Moyer and George Walker, sports organizer at the school.

To Scatter Ashes of Sam Bredon

ST. LOUIS, May 16—(AP)—The ashes of Sam Bredon will be scattered over the Mississippi River from an airplane by his widow, probably early next week.

There will be no public funeral service for the former owner of St. Louis Cardinals baseball club. He died Tuesday night at the age of 72.

The baseball magnate headed the Cardinal organization for 27 years and led the club to nine National League pennants and six world championships before he disposed of his holdings for about $3,000,000 in 1947 because of falling health.

Philadelphia Athletics, slow in getting started this year, although manager Connie Mack had pointed them at the American League pennant, showed their stuff to fine advantage Sunday when they whipped the leading New York Yankees twice, 8-7 and 7-6.

The champion Cleveland Indians also bawled twice, 6-0 and 2-0, to Chicago's White Sox. Boston Red Sox shut out Washington Senators 3-0 while St. Louis Browns broke even with Detroit. Detroit won the opener 9-3 and St. Louis the nightcap 12-4.

Elmer Valo's fourth straight hit won the second Philadelphia-New York game. Valo's blow came in a seven-run, sixth-inning rally by the A's.

The A's were in there fighting all day long. The first game went 11 innings with Sam Chapman hitting two homers and driving in four runs. The second game was called at the end of six because of Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law.

Bill Wright pitched a five-hitter for his fourth straight Chicago victory in the opener against Cleveland and handed Bob Feller his second loss.

Al Gettel won his first decision in the nightcap with a four-hitter. Rookie Gordon Goldsberry's first homer with one on won the night game.

Boston's Joe Dobson posted his first victory as he limited Washington to four hits.

Boston's Sid Hudson for a run in the fourth inning after two walks. Bobby Doerr hit into a double play, but Al Zarilla's single scored Ted Williams from third.

Doerr's single—Zarilla's grounder—sending him to second—and Sherry Robertson's fumble of Bill Hitchcock's grounder presented the Red Sox a 2-0 lead in the ninth on doubles by Dom DiMaggio and Johnny Pesky.

Dobson was in trouble only once, when the Senators filled the bases with none out in the fifth, but he disposed of Al Evans on a foul to Pesky and Hudson then hit into a double play.

In the first Brownie-Tiger contest at St. Louis, Detroit's Hal Newhouser was helped to win by Vic Wertz' grand-slam homer.

World-Famous Golfers To Meet At Toronto In June

World-famous golfers from the United States, South Africa and Canada—possibly the greatest array of golfing talent ever gathered together on a Canadian course—will be converging on the Toronto St. George's Club late in June, with their eyes on a bonanza of more than $10,000 to say nothing of a couple of handsome trophies.

The attraction is the Canadian Open Tournament which gets underway at St. George's June 22.

The $10,000 in prize money is put up by the House of Seagram, with the 1949 Canadian champion to get $2,000 in first prize money as well as custody of the Seagram Gold Cup for one year and a replica of the trophy as a permanent possession.

In addition, the leading Canadian professional gets possession of the Rivermead Trophy for a year and the lion's share of special prize money distributed exclusively among Canadians.

With $2,000 of the general prize money going to the winner of the four-day, 72-hole competition, the runner-up receives $1,400 and the man who places third gets $1,000. Fourth prize is $800 and fifth is $500. From there on the "take" graduates down until the man in 20th spot collects $50.

Special prizes for leading Canadians are offered in addition to the main prizes. The top Canadian pro gets $250 and the Rivermead Trophy. Second prize is $200, third $125, fourth $100, fifth $75 and sixth $50.

In search of these prizes, the pick of the best golfers on the continent—to say nothing of South Africa's fabulous Bobby Locke—will play 18 holes each day June 22, 23, 24 and 25. Lowest score of the four days takes top money and the Seagram Gold Cup, unless an amateur takes the championship, in which case he gets the cup but not the money.

Chances of an amateur taking top spot are not very bright, of course, but the possibility cannot be overlooked—not with fellows like Toledo's play-boy Frank Stranahan and Vancouver's steady rising young star Walter McEroy listed among the probable entries. McEroy, top Canadian at Vancouver in last year's Open, generally is considered as needing another two or three years' experience to make him a decided threat; but Stranahan has won just enough big-time U.S. tournaments that none of his professional competitors will sell him short.

THE GUARDIAN, CHARLOTTETOWN

MAY 16, 1949

Local baseball squads in both the senior and junior ranks made good use of the fine summer weather over the week-end to get in some brisk practice sessions in preparation for the opening of their various leagues in the near future.

The Charlottetown Knights of Columbus squad, a leading entry in the City Junior League this year, got in their first practice session of the season on the old diamond at Victoria Park yesterday morning, with some 21 youngsters turning out under coach Charlie Ryan, who put them through a stiff workout.

Most of the practice session was devoted to a series of snappy infield and outfield drills as well as a moderate amount of batting practice with all members getting a turn at the plate. Coach Ryan stated last night that a lot of the youngsters were in evidence during the practice session.

Charlie was also proud of the fact that his present battery of four pitchers were also showing plenty of "stuff" on the ball, and with two of them right-handers and two southpaws, he doesn't think he will be lacking anything from the "hurling" department of his team. The boys who were testing them up were Jack O'Ready and Don McLean, both of the year's Provincial Junior champions the Junior Recke, and Red MacKenzie and Jackie Burke, two regulars of last seasons K. of C. squad.

Another leading contender for this year's Junior City title, the Charlottetown Kinsmen squad, were also out getting in a timely practice session during yesterday morning on the Memorial Field diamond, while later on in the morning, the City's entry in the Maritime Border Baseball League, the Charlottetown Abwegels also got in a good work-out session on the same diamond.

The entry list in the Maritime Border Baseball League suffered a bit of a set-back at yesterday's meeting at Amherst, N. S., when Springhill withdrew from active participation due to the fact they have decided to enter a team in the Maritime Senior Baseball League, and the Summerside Air Force team, who had previously asked for admittance into the league, announce they have decided, due to various circumstances, to enter the Summerside Town League instead.

This cuts the original four or five team League down to three entries, but there are still possibilities of bringing it back up to four, as there are prospects of a team from Dieppe, N. B., entering the League. But as yet nothing definite has been decided, although the team has made enquiries and show a decided interest in taking part in the competition.

Although no schedules were drawn up at the meeting as was previously intended, it was decided that the League will still operate with three teams, and starting date and schedule will be drawn up just as soon as it is known just what the Dieppe team plans to do.

Golf Pro At Green Gables

Cecil "Bubby" Dowling, who last year in the N. B.-P. E. I. amateur golf tournament stroked his way to the open and amateur championships, has been appointed golf pro at the nine hole Green Gable golf course, it was learned last night.

"Bubby", who rotates from golf club to hockey stick as the seasons roll by, has been one of the Island's best golfers for the last three or four years. But it was not until last year that he achieved the heights that were expected from him ever since he first attracted attention at the local course. He comes from a real golfing family as he has two brothers and a sister performing over the local fairways. Maurice, or better known to Island sport fans as "Mousie", is also regarded as in the Island's circle of good golfers and Wilf is looked upon as being one of the best golfers at the local course, while Rita, Bubby's sister, is one of the better women golfers at the Belvedere course.

Dowling, who has been performing over Maritime golf courses for the last five or six years, has been a member of the Willingdon Cup team for the past two seasons. Last year he ranked second in N.B.-P.E.I. scores at Hamilton with a respectable 154 which was made up of 78 and 76.

The Bleber colt, third in the Derby, returned $450 and $330 while Noble Impulse paid $340 for show.

The others finished in this order: King Ranch's Curandero Sixth, Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Model Cadet, seventh; Clifford Moores' Old Rockport, eighth, and Sylvester W. Labrot, Jr.'s Taran, last.

Paestian was three lengths ahead of Noble Impulse and there was only a nose difference between the next two horses, Sun Bahram and Ponder. The victory— not exactly unexpected since Capot was leading in the 1-4-mile Derby at the Preakness distance— netted $79,965 to John Hay (Jack) Whitney and his sister, Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, the Greentree owners.

It is a foregone conclusion that he will give to his new job all his time and energy and golfers may be sure that "Bubs" will help them to improve their game to the best of his knowledge.

Baseball players call the minor leagues the twilight leagues. By playing all their games during the week at night the minor leagues are forgetting the commodity that sells baseball— sunshine— says Ralph (Toronto Telegram) Allen.

Ralph suggests that the minors go in for some mid-week afternoon games. Allen admits that without night ball the minors would soon starve. But he wonders if the uninterrupted diet of night games offered fans is the best thing for the game and the club's pocketbook.

"Isn't it possible that an occasional week day afternoon game might draw at least as many people as the same game played at night and moreover serve the purpose of getting people into the parks who don't come now at all?"

Ralph believes that there are a lot of business men who would be only too happy to knock off one afternoon a week to sit in the sun.

TORONTO, May 15—(CP)—Baseball players call the minor leagues the twilight leagues. By playing all their games during the week at night the minor leagues are forgetting the commodity that sells baseball— sunshine— says Ralph (Toronto Telegram) Allen.

Giants And Braves Win Encounters To Remain Deadlocked

(By The Canadian Press) New York Giants and Boston Braves are staging the first big battle for first place in the National League.

In single games Sunday, both teams won and remained deadlocked for top spot. The New Yorkers, playing at home, coasted past Philadelphia Phillies 7-3 with Monte Kennedy turning in
