THE POPE'S DECISION

He will Send a Letter to The French Nation—Duke Creates a Sensation.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—(Special)—Teaching classes implore government to withdraw from the Paris Exhibition which is impossible. They also threaten to withdraw their own exhibits which is also futile as competitors would take their space.

ROME, Sept. 16.—[Special]—The Pope announces his intention to address a letter to the French nation, urging an immediate pacification for the sake of humanity and so as not to compromise the success of the Paris Exposition.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—(Special)—The Duke of Manchester has created a sensation and some scandal by appearing at Mrs. Hughes Hallett's fancy ball in an abbreviated bathing suit.

LIFE OF A HERMIT

John Vanderbilt, Strangest of the Family.

HE LIVES IN SECLUSION

In the Wilds of Pennsylvania—His Home a Marked Contrast to Family Palaces.

John Vanderbilt, a grand-nephew of the old commodore, has lived the life of a hermit on the Hexenkopf, as the Pennsylvania Dutch in that neighborhood call the isolated mountain peak east of the Lower Saxon postoffice, for 12 years. It is a wild, secluded place that the recluse has chosen for his home. He keeps to his cabin all day and roams through the fields and woods at night.

Although Vanderbilt keeps himself incommunicado, says the Philadelphia Times, his neighbors profess to know that he is very wealthy. He owns property, they say, at Bound Brook and New Brunswick, N. J., and last April invested a considerable sum of money in mortgages on some new SITUATION VERY GRAVE.

England Chartering Transports at Home and Abroad.

NORTHUMBERLAND FUSILIERS

Sail for Natal amid Great Enthusiasm—General

Stewart White, V. C., en route to Command the Troops.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—(Special)—The Transvaal situation is getting very grave. England is buying supplies and chartering transports freely at home and in America and many recruits are enlisting.

All leading papers are sending out special correspondents. The belief is that the Transvaal reply will be unsatisfactory and that country is known to be making still more active preparations for impending fight.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—(Special)—The Northumberland Fusiliers, 1000 strong, sailed to-day for Natal amid great enthusiasm. General Stewart White, V. C. also started to-day. He will command the troops.

houses in the Bethlehems. He occasionally buys edibles from his neighbors, paying them what they ask in cash. He sends his letters from the Lower Saxon postoffice, but receives his return mail at Iron Hill, Wassergass. Every morning the hermit walks to the Wassergass postoffice to receive his mail, and every evening he reads the daily newspapers. In going to the postoffice the recluse seldom takes the public highway, preferring the fields and woods. The many letters posted by John Vanderbilt at the Lower Saxon postoffice and the large mail he constantly receives at the Wassergass for a long time failed to interest his Pennsylvania Dutch neighbors, who are usually reserved and uninquisitive and accustomed to minding their own business. It was only when they heard the stories of the money that comes to him mysteriously and of the loans he has made at good interest that their attention was especially attracted to him and his manner of living. It is not so much that John Vanderbilt is a Vanderbilt of the Vanderbilts that interests them as that he has money and has the Vanderbilt faculty of making money make money even in his secluded situation. John Vanderbilt leads a very simple life in his hermitage on the Hexenkopf. His furniture is of the most primitive kind. His bed is a wooden cot covered with straw. For his fire he gathers fagots in the woods near by. He makes his own bread and lives principally upon a grule of the manufacture of which he alone has the secret. His home, which is a one story cottage, so overrun with vines and shubbery as to be almost hidden from view, is in marked contrast with the palaces of the other Vanderbilts.

Fatal Curiosity.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—While picking apart a cartridge in his home at Newark, N. J., Tuesday afternoon, Eugene H. Brienthal fatally shot his wife. The cartridge accidentally exploded, the bullet striking his wife over the heart. She was at his side, watching him illustrate the manner in which cartridges are made.

No Cure for... Bright's Disease

In its advanced stages—The Reason Why—Danger Prevented by the Timely Use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

To understand Bright's Disease is to know that in its advanced stages it is past the reach of human aid. The cells of the kidneys undergo a wasting change, which leaves them dead so far as performing their functions are concerned. Just think of having the kidneys dead. Think of the poisons that no longer perform their duties as filters of the blood.

It would be difficult to conceive of anything more dreadful, and yet this is the goal to which every case of neglected kidney disease must lead. When the back aches, when urinating is difficult or too frequent, when there are deposits in the urine after standing for 24 hours, there is no time to lose in procuring Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is not claimed that they will cure Bright's Disease in its last stages. They are an absolute cure for kidney disease, and so long as the kidneys are not entirely wasted away they will give new strength and vigor and enable them to resume their duties of filtering the blood.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will stop backache and headache in short order by removing the cause, and will positively prevent Bright's Disease. One pill a dose, 25c a box. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Estes & Co., Toronto.

SCHOONER

FOUNDERS

Fishermen Discover Topmast Off Darnley.

HAVE CREW PERISHED?

Vessel's Name is The "Avon" and Belonged to Chatham, New Brunswick.

MALPEQUE, Sept. 16.—(Special)—A great sensation was caused here to-day when it was learned that a number of fishermen of Malpeque had discovered some four or five miles of Darnley the topmast of a schooner which is supposed to be that the Avon of Chatham, a schooner of about 60 or 70 tons sunk in 14 fathoms of water.

It is thought that the schooner had come to anchor during the recent storm and had tried to weather out the gale and become swamped.

The crew, it is believed, sought refuge in the cabin, and have all perished. Some days ago the fishermen found some rope, blocks and a boom which belonged to the ill-fated schooner.

HEROES OF LUNDY'S LANE.

Bodies of British Soldiers Unearthed in a Sandpit.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., September 15.—While working in the sand pits at Lundy's Lane, Wednesday, workmen unearthed the remains of five soldiers who fell fighting in the memorable battle of Lundy's Lane between the British and American forces. The first lot of bones were dug up just as the workmen were about to quit work on Tuesday evening, and yesterday morning under the direction of Rev. Canon Bull, president of the historical society, the search was continued. The bodies had been buried in shallow trench in a line with the one uncovered eight years ago, in which the remains of ten soldiers of the 104th and 85th British regiments were found. The find yesterday included a number of buttons, a watch and a portion of an officer's tunic with gold braid trimmings, to which a lock of dark brown hair adhered. The remains will be interred in the handsome vault built as a receptacle for the bones of the soldiers of those found eight years ago. The battle of Lundy's Lane took place 88 years ago.
