Exploration Scheme Is Advanced

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, April 17—Plans to employ 900 men this summer in a great national exploration scheme seeking gold and water were announced today in the Commons as part of the Government's new public works scheme. Many of the men will be geologists and university students.

The administration made known details of a program that will send to the field 180 geologists to be launched on a mission to what Minister of the Interior, W. A. Gordon called a "geology that will challenge the courage and enthusiasm and capacity for effort of the Canadian people for thousands of years."

The government will spend $1,000,000 on the work, allotting about $400,000 each on parties that will work in eight provinces, the Yukon and Northwest Territories. The parties will not prospect for the yellow metal but will explore likely mineralized areas to estimate possibilities of prospectors meeting with success in subsequent searches.

GERMANY

tonight, after the Council of the League had passed the joint resolution on treaty repudiation, was the indirect indictment of Germany made by Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Foreign Commissar, in his speech before the Council.

Concern over the political situation in Europe was freely expressed after his arraignment of "a state whose armaments lead to apprehensions" that they are intended for "violation of world peace."

DEAD SILENCE

Litvinoff's scorching words gained added emphasis because of the calm, matter-of-fact voice in which they were pronounced. Leaving forward across the Council table, he read his speech in English and the Council room listened in dead silence.

"What is to be done," Litvinoff asked, "if a state demanding or selling the right to armaments is ruled by people who have announced to the whole world a foreign policy program consisting of a policy of revenge, the unlimited conquest of foreign territory and the destruction of the independence of entire states?"

Geneva observers agreed that today's action was equivalent to serving notice on Germany that treaties and international obligations must be fulfilled.

GERMAN MENACE

Europe has lined up to defend itself against any German menace, they commented further, and states here, described as believing conciliation and concessions useless, were represented as determined Germany shall understand any future repudiation of treaties endangering peace will not be tolerated.

That Germany would be angered by the Council action, as Berlin dispatches said she was, was expected here. A British spokesman commented:

"We expect German disapproval, but it is better to get it over with."

Premier Addresses Teachers' Federation

So far as the profession is concerned the Premier stated they had tried to raise the standard and in line with this they had secured the services of Mr. Lloyd Shaw. Unfortunately Mr. Shaw saw fit to sever his relations with the Prince Edward Island department and give his services to a sister colony. Probably we cannot blame him, the speaker said, as they paid a larger salary. Fortunately the Department had been able to secure the services of Mr. Howard Court, B.A., a man well qualified to carry on the work.

Reference was made to the change in the School Act making the date of the annual school meeting one week later. This has been done in order that teachers taking the normal training course at the end of the regular college year may know whether they are properly qualified teachers before the school meeting. Raising the age at which licenses are issued by one year was a step in the right direction too, the Premier thought, and stated that personally he is in favor of advancing the age another year.

Continuing his reference to the improvement in the teaching profession the speaker expressed the opinion that the people are duly appreciative of the fact. They work to give their children the best education they can afford. Giving them the best that the schools and colleges can give is much better than leaving them a few hundred dollars which may soon be dissipated.

Teaching Temperance

The Premier stated he had been enquiring about the book on temperance which had been placed in all the schools two years ago, and found that it is being used. If we are to have improved temperance conditions in this province it must be obtained through education, the Premier believed. By use of the text book on temperance, and by practical demonstrations, the teachers can do much to bring to the mind of their pupils the dire effects of alcohol.

Attention of the teachers was diverted to the necessity of war-

Great Advance

Looking back over the past few years the Premier stated that he thought a great advance had been made in education and in public health in this province. They have been difficult years, the rebuilding of Prince of Wales College building being one of the major problems which he as Minister of Education had to face. Even yet, he said, he was the target for all sorts of criticism so far as the building is concerned. He reminded the teachers that great educationists from other provinces marvel at the completeness of the Prince of Wales College building for the amount of money expend-ing pupils to be careful of auto traffic. A two or three minute talk to the pupils a few times each month throughout the year on this subject was advised by the speaker.

The Fish and Game Assn. also have in mind short talks on the preservation of trout in the streams of this province.

If it can be made a point of honor with the boys to protect the trout, the speaker said he felt sure the boys will do what they can.

One thing we are backward in in the schools of this province is in music, Premier MacMillan stated. There should be more music in the schools and a start should be made in college. It is hoped at the beginning of the next session, he said, to make some provision for instruction in the rudiments of music.

Library Demonstrations

The library demonstration which has been begun in the Province was referred to, and the Premier expressed the hope that before long every school in the province will have a certain number of books at its disposal. He felt, he said, that the demonstration is going to be most beneficial to the people and helpful to teachers and pupils.

In education and public health this Province has made greater advance than any other province in Canada in the opinion expressed by leading educationists and public health men of this country, the Premier stated.

The total attendance of pupils in the schools of this Province last year was the highest for many years and the daily attendance was also high. This is the greatest index to progress that we can have. Referring to the things necessary for success in the teaching profession the Premier enumerated the following: first, the regularity of attendance; second, the quality of the teacher; third, the co-operation of the parents.

In conclusion Premier MacMillan expressed his good wishes for a successful convention.

REPORT OF C. T. F. DELEGATES

The report of the Canadian Teachers' Federation Convention was submitted by Mr. Norman MacDonald, Kensington, who reported on the business part of the convention, and Miss Jacqueline MacDonald, who gave a report of the social activities.

Mr. MacDonald, in his report, said

12 Measures Are Given Royal Assent In Senate

OTTAWA, April 17—Royal assent was given tonight to 12 measures by the Senate by Sir Lyman P. Duff, deputy to the Governor General, just before adjournment for the parliamentary Easter recess.

The bills which received the Royal stamp of approval were: Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act Amendment; establishment of an economic council; Royal Canadian Mounted Police Act amendments; Gold Export Act amendments; provision for the rehabilitation of drought and soil drifting areas in the Prairie Provinces.

Reduction in the "cut" of civil service salaries; reduction from 10 to five per cent in income tax on salaries of judges and commissioned officers of the military, naval and air forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police; Canadian Farm Loan Act amendments; Radio broadcasting; Copyright Act amendments; provision for expenditures of the Canadian National Railways during 1935; and supply for one-twelfth of the main estimates.

Paving the way for the Royal assent, the Senate previously gave second and third readings to several of these measures. On the request of Liberal leader Senator Raoul Dandurand, Rt. Hon. Arthur Melgren, Senate leader, agreed to stand over second reading of the minimum wage bill until the House reconvenes on May 21.

Maine Potato Growers Irked E. Hull's Letter

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

HOULTON, Me., April 17—Smarming under the State Department's charges at Washington that "paid propagandists" were behind Aroostook County's opposition to any tariff reduction on Canadian potatoes, growers today voiced resentment against Secretary of State Cordell Hull's open letter.

Potato growers in Maine and other states were told in the letter issued last night, that the government was of the belief the numerous protests against reduced tariffs on potatoes were "obviously the result of organized and directed propaganda." The letter charged that school children "whose views could not possibly be founded upon an adequate understand-fallen coal and stone.

As the eager crews pressed the search, hope was abandoned for the seven. It was conceded there was no chance any were still alive. For poisonous gases would have claimed any who had escaped the blast and the falling debris.

The mass of material was growing lighter as fellow workers neared the tomb of the trapped miners, 6,000 feet along the level at the southeast end of the mine. They were speeding up the search, having passed the greatest obstacle—a great fall of debris 15 feet high.

It was perilous work. All along the 800 feet that at first separated them from the missing men, the roof had been weakened by the explosion, and there was the danger that cave-ins would trap them momentarily.

But there was no lack of volunteers. Every one of the 184 men who came up out of the pit after the explosion stood ready to go below and bore through to the bottom.

Some of them had narrowly missed death themselves as the explosion ripped out at eight o'clock yesterday. Four men 1,500 feet away from the spot were flung to the ground and momentarily stunned. Many were forced to crawl over fallen material to safety, with more lumps of coal and earth dropping as they passed.

With them, as they waited the call to go below, were the wives, relatives and friends of the doomed men. They knew there was no chance any lived, but they stood about the dark colliery yard hoping some scrap of cheering news might reach the surface.

Cause of the explosion had not been fixed tonight. Late today J. C. Nicholson, general superintendent of mines for the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation; chief mining engineer T. L. McGill and safety engineer Sandy McEachern reached here from Sydney for an investigation and went down into the pit.

Possibility that the blast had resulted from the detonation of an explosive charge to loosen coal was considered in view of the fact that a shot-firing, Ross Fleming, was among the seven.

The others were: Richard Clark, 50; Sandy Beaton, 55; Abraham Hennessey, 45; Ignatz Bournish, 43; James McEachern, 28; John McEachern, 30, his brother.

The available supply of Canadian flax for the 1934 season sold well in Northern Ireland, particularly during the month of October. At the same time, the Free State Government was in the market for flax seed supplies from Canada but could not obtain them except from Northern Ireland sources.

Canada supplied 20 per cent of the total wheat imports into Japan; Australia 55 per cent, and the United States 23 per cent. Canada is also the chief exporter of lead to Japan, as well as being a leading source of lumber, pulp, newsprint and zinc.

Acquitted On Murder Charge

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

PEMBROKE, Ont., April 17—Leslie Scheunemann, charged with the murder of Herbert Berger last March 12, was found not guilty by Mr. Justice A. C. Kingstone in Assize Court today. The judge ordered him confined to county jail until final disposition of the case by the lieutenant-governor-in-council. The acquitted man showed no emotion. The jury had been out two hours and 35 minutes.
