"For three years, I suffered great pain in the lower part of my body, with swelling or bloating. I saw a specialist, who carefully examined me and gave me several tonics to take, which did not help me. Then he told me I must undergo an operation. This, I refused to permit. I heard about 'Fruit-a-tives' and the wonderful results it was giving because this medicine is made from fruit juices, so decided to try it. The first box gave great relief; and I continued the treatment, taking six boxes more. Now, my health is excellent—I am free of pain and swelling—and I give 'Fruit-a-tives' my warmest thanks!"

A letter received from Boston from James Campbell, gives the details of the death of his sister, Mrs. Mary E. Bishop, who died very suddenly on February 13th of this year at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Senter in South Boston Mass. Mrs. Bishop had been in the best of health for years and her sudden death was a sad blow to her immediate family, and to a large circle of friends, to whom she was greatly endeared by her loving and sunny disposition. Mrs. Bishop was the third daughter of the late Angus Campbell and his wife Mrs. Mary Campbell of Nine Mile Creek. Besides her mother she leaves three sisters, and three brothers to mourn their loss, one daughter Margaret, and one son Roy Bishop who are inconsolable at the death of their mother, who had been a true comrade and constant companion to her children. The burial took place in Nashua, New Hampshire in the family plot of her son-in-law, Charles Senter, with whom she had made her home since his marriage to her daughter Margaret. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Rutledge of South Boston from the Text "Weep not for me, but weep for yourselves."

The doors are open for five in Japan, nine for China and three for the Indian work in Canada. His death was caused from a hemorrhage of the stomach. He was found in bed, and had died in his seventy-seventh year, and had always been well and active. He was born at Augustine Cove, but for the past twenty years has made his home in Summerside. Last fall he left to spend the winter in California, and was enjoying excellent health. A Canadian naval patrol boat—a new vessel of about 300 tons ran ashore on Tryon Shoals at 5 o'clock on Saturday morning. She remained in that situation until 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon when she was towed off by the C.G.S. Brant. Another ship, a Canadian naval vessel, the name of which like the first, censor regulations do not permit of publishing, arrived on the scene just as the Brant had succeeded in floating the stranded ship. All three steamers arrived in Charlottetown Sunday evening. There was also a custom tug in port yesterday, and three American towboats also called on their way to Chicago.

Just outside the town the horse threw its rider and ran for over four miles before it was caught and brought back to its owner. Fortunately all that sustained injury was the dignity of the young lady, who is to be congratulated that such was the only injury sustained.—G.

KINDLY REMEMBERED.—The St. John Telegraph says: The congregation of St. David's church was called upon this week to bid goodbye to Miss Frances Laird. Miss Laird will spend a vacation of two or three weeks on Prince Edward Island afterwards returning to Toronto. On Tuesday evening the members of the young women's welcome circle at the close of a social gathering presented to Miss Laird a Morocco bound Bible and on Wednesday evening the members of the session made her the recipient of a fine travelling bag.

PAINT PRICES NOT TO ADVANCE.—The following from a Toronto Exchange may be of interest to local painters and others. It is not expected that paint manufacturing companies will advance the price of their product any further at the present time. An official of a prominent paint manufacturing concern expresses the view that the price of paint is now around the top. Some of the ingredients had a decline in price while others were higher than they were some time ago and on the whole, it looks as if there will be no further advance in the near future. The paint business is keeping up remarkably well, he said, in view of the small amount of new buildings now being erected. Demands from country sections for repainting, houses, etc., are quite active and these at all times represent a large proportion of the business in paint.

A wave of genuine sympathy and sorrow passed over the whole community, when on the afternoon of May 21st, it became known that the Spirit of Milton Sheran had passed away, in Amherst at the early age of 28, after a brief illness of only seven days, of measles. The late Milton Sheran left home on March 24th to don the King's uniform; and trained a few weeks in Charlottetown, and then removed to Amherst where he passed to the great beyond. The heart felt sympathy of the whole community goes out to the grief stricken father and mother, two brothers and one sister. Milton was a young man of which any home could well be proud of, and possessed qualities that endeared him to all. The remains were sent to the old home in Gladstone where the funeral was largely attended by friends from far and near, who came to express their sympathy for the grief stricken members of the home. All that is mortal was laid to rest in Murray River Cemetery.

Mr. Scovill, who is a graduate of King's College, has been rector of St. Jude's since 1900, where he did a most valuable work in the Diocese of Fredericton, where in many of the Diocesan undertakings, he took the laboring oar with credit to himself and great advantage to the Diocese from which few men will be more missed. We regret greatly, says the Church Work, his departure from the Maritime Provinces, and wish him every success in his new field of labor.

SAVE FOOD
In a time needing food economy many people are not getting all the nourishment they might from their food. It is not how much you eat, but much you assimilate, that does you good.
The addition of a small teaspoonful of Bovril to the diet as a peptogenic before meals leads to more thorough digestion and assimilation, and thus saves food, for you need less.
