The following resolution was passed: That this meeting is of the opinion that the annual sale of the pelts of the Silver Black Fox and to this end we recommend that the Fox Breeders Association or other organizations endeavour to bring about the desired end and induce those who own the best class of foxes to put a certain number of pelts on the

SLIGHT FIRE AT WHARF—A slight outbreak of fire took place on board the S. S. Minto, which has been lying alongside the Marine Wharf for the last few days. Some slight defect near the heaters caused a little oil to catch fire in the boiler room, where the men at the wheel tried to extinguish it by turning on the ship's hose and the fire was put out in ten minutes. Little or no damage was done.

MRS HENRY WADMAN—Many citizens will hear with sincere regret of the death of Mrs Henry Wadman, which occurred at North Carleton yesterday morning at the advanced age of 88. The deceased lady leaves to mourn their loss the following sons and daughters:—Mrs Norman Wright, Summerside; Mrs Peter Newsum, Charlottetown; Mrs Nell Lowther, North Carleton; Mrs Isaac Lowther, Kensington; Rev. J. W. Wadman, Honolulu, and O. B. Wadman, Crapaud.

The pastor, Rev. R. G. Fulton, will deliver the sermon from the topic: The King's Business. The organist, Prof. Thompson, is preparing a special programme of music. He will play patriotic airs from 10.45 until the beginning of the service at 11 a.m. The anthem for the morning will be "Send out Thy Light," and Lieut. Ritchie will sing a solo. There will probably be a large congregation present at what promises to be a most interesting service.

McN. Shaw, one of the most efficient and courteous insurance men, and a visitor here, in former years, in the interests of the Imperial Life Assurance Company.—St John's (Newfoundland, News. (Mr. A. UGH! ACID STOMACH, SOURNESS, HEARTBURN, GAS OR INDIGESTION

THE MOMENT "PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN REACHES THE STOMACH ALL DISTRESS GOES.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not Pape's Diapsin! It is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Pape's Diapsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet in taste, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

MARSHFIELD—Rev. Z. L. Pash will preach in the Baptist Church at Marshfield on next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

NEW MEMBERS OF THE GOVERNMENT—Mr Murdoch Kennedy and Dr S. R. Jenkins have been appointed members of the Government. There is one vacancy still to be filled.

PATRIOTIC BRIDGE—It will be optional with the ladies and gentlemen who attend the Patriotic Bridge in Prince of Wales College Hall whether they wear evening dress or not. Will all players of bridge or whist kindly be in the hall at eight o'clock sharp?

A BLIGHTED HOPE—A Charlottetown lady lately received a letter from a soldier friend who has been a prisoner in the hands of the Germans for some months. He told of the ill-treatment and insults they had received at the hands of the Germans. They were half starved at many times. One day when the guard went round delivering the letters and parcels to their respective recipients, he got a big attractive looking parcel handed to him. With trembling hands he peeled off the thick brown paper wrappings with visions of smokes, chocolates and other good things floating before his eyes. Imagine his own and his comrades feelings at discovering that the parcel held nothing but a huge bundle of tracts. The language that filled the air for the next few minutes was more forcible than grateful.

MISS HOLDSWORTH'S INTERESTING EXPERIENCES AS GERMAN PRISONER

"I will not go on the street with you. I will be killed," said he. "But you must," I said. "You will be sent a prisoner to Baden-Baden," said the guide. "Oh, but I don't want to go to Baden-Baden. I won't go," I said. "He said I would have to go or I would be shot." "Just then the hotel manager rushed in and told me to hurry to my room and lock the door. As soon as I got to my room, I shut the door and opened the window. An officer knocked loudly at the door, and on my opening it he entered the room without ceremony.

"You have got a spear, a soldier told me you had," said the officer in fairly good English. "Perhaps that is what he means," said the civilian and pointed to my umbrella. The officer grabbed the umbrella, examined it, and then threw it into a corner. That was the last we saw of him.

"As I said, we were not allowed to speak on the streets. But one day I met a Mr Hull, an Englishman, on the street. "Try to get away through Switzerland," he said, and passed on without stopping.

"I then went to the military commander. 'I want you to sign my passports to cross into Switzerland,' I said to him. "Don't you know all the awful things you have done to my country," said he. And he got a pamphlet and read out of it how jealous England had been of Germany's greatness and how she had oppressed her.

"These are dreadful things," I said, "but we women did not do them." "Perhaps not," he replied, "but your nation did."

"Will you sign our passports?" I asked him again. "He then had a long talk with another official. Finally he said: 'Yes, I will sign them at ten o'clock to-morrow morning.' "I hurried home to tell my friends. "Oh, that awful man, he will never do it," said a French lady. "He threw my husband into jail," she continued, "and he insulted me."

However, at ten o'clock the next day, he signed the passports. We got across the border into Switzerland, under escort to Basle, the capital of Switzerland, to Zurich and from Zurich to Paris, and there embarked for home.

While in Basle especially, which was neutral territory, they were very well treated, the Austrians being kind and attentive. They saw large numbers of prisoners being taken to Belgium by detachments of German troops. The appearance of the German soldiers was magnificent, and judging by their lordly bearing and behaviour they well might have been going to conquer the whole world. It was a grand sight indeed." Miss Holdsworth had also seen some saddening spectacles from the window of her hotel of the wounded being driven back from the battle line to the hospitals in the city. "Canadians ought all to be drowned. The whole nation of them ought to be drowned," was the savage remark a German officer made on hearing of the nationality of the ladies. It was a tremendous strain and for months Miss Holdsworth could not talk of those awful days in war-mad Germany.

A BAD LOT

When charged with being drunk and disorderly, and asked what he had to say for himself, the prisoner gazed pensively at the magistrate, smoothed down a remnant of grey hair and said:—Your honor, 'Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn.' I'm not so debased as Swift, as dispirited as Poe, as debauched as that will do," thundered the magistrate, "Ten days! And officer, take a list of these names and run them in. They're evidently as bad a lot as he is."

A Remedy For All Pain

"The efficiency of any drug," says Dr. C. P. Robbins, "is known to us by the results we obtain from its use. If we are able to control pain and disease by means of any preparation, we certainly are warranted in its use. One of the principal symptoms of all diseases is pain, and this is what the patient most often applies to us for, i. e. something to relieve his pain. If no other remedy is promptly taken, the patient is most liable to trust in us for the other remedies which will effect a permanent cure. One remedy which I have used largely in my practice is Anti-Kamnia Tablets. Many and varied are their uses. I have put them to the test on many occasions, and have never been disappointed. I found them especially valuable for headaches of malarial origin, where quinine was being taken. They appear to prevent the bad after-effects of the quinine. Anti-Kamnia Tablets are also excellent for the headaches from improper digestion; also for headaches of a neuralgic origin, and especially for those which are subject to certain times. Two Anti-Kamnia Tablets give prompt relief and in a short time the patient is able to go about as usual. These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for Anti-Kamnia Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headache, neuralgia and all pains."
