ANOTHER BATTLE

Just Before The Pro- tocol Was Signed

THE ENGLISH PRESS

Rejoices Over American Success—Cuba Will be Contented and Prosper- ous—Manila Rebels Will Treat Prisoners.

WASHINGTON, August 14—(Special)—The President is being warmly congratulated on the successful termination of the war. Shortly before the protocol was signed a fight took place in Manzanillo Harbor and the Spanish surrendered. The feeling is that if America gets only Porto Rico and the Ladronez the result will far outweigh the money cost of the war while if she secures the Philippines and Cuba the result will be an immense benefit.

MADRID, Aug. 13—(Special)—Reports from Manila, via English sources say that rebels are illustrating the Spanish prisoners.

Spain has thanked France for her friendly offices for peace. The English papers all rejoice at the American success and predict that Cuba in twenty years will be a peaceful and prosperous island.

Sagasta and the cabinet are satisfied there will be no Carlists uprising.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13—(Special)—All restrictions placed on messages to Spain and the West Indies by the United States government have been removed.

Spaniards Reach Home.

GIBRALTAR, August 10—The steamer Nesperia, one of the Mediterranean branches of the Anchor Line, which left New York during the afternoon of July 24, having on board eighty Spanish prisoners taken from the Spanish merchantmen captured by American warships, has arrived here. The Spanish sailors were transported to the railroad and were conveyed to Algeiras, the Spanish seaport on the west side of the Bay of Gibraltar.

MORE YUKON GOLD.

A Second Valuable Cargo Arrives—Men With Big Fortunes.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 10.—The big shipment of Klondike gold which was sent from Dawson up the river to Skagway on the Ora, arrived in Vancouver yesterday. With gold and drafts to the amount of between half a million and two million dollars on board, according to various estimates, the steamer Farralton, Captain Roberts, arrived in port. This is by far the largest amount of gold which has ever arrived in Vancouver at one time from the north, and as the Klondikers distributed themselves around town to make purchases before the steamer sailed for Seattle, they made quite a showing of wealth. Parser Coglian had about $100,000 in gold dust in his safe. "But that was not nearly all the dust on board," he said. "For one man, J. C. Campbell, of Seattle, had two men carrying a sack of dust that weighed 15000 pounds that would not go inside the safe, at last he would not trust it there. I think there were a million and a half on board, counting both drafts and virgin gold. W. R. DeWitt is another of the rich men with $20,000 in gold and many drafts."

Captain Roberts' estimate was rather higher than that of the purser. "I think there were two and a quarter million on board," W. Gibbs, of Nanaimo, who went in three years ago, had a good deal of money. One night the men were playing poker coming down on the boat and I saw Gibbs draft some for $50,000, and one or two for about $100,000 each. He would have $250,000 in drafts, at least, beside a few thousand dollars in gold dust. There were 60 miners from Dawson, and not one of them broke. Their gold ranges from $2,000 to hundreds of thousands. They left Dawson about July 25th, and came up the river on steamers Ora and Willie Irving."

John Lyons, of Santa Rosalia, Cal., was one of the passengers. He is a grizzled miner of the sixties in California and says the Klondike does not compare with California in the early days. "I came out on the Willie Irving, leaving Dawson on the 23rd, and I like everyone else who stays there a year or more, I brought a little gold. There is probably $300,000 or $400,000 on the steamer. There are too many people, in fact, the country is over-crowded. Probably twenty thousand men are there in Klondike to-day. I don't think there will be famine this year, for grub is really nearly as cheap as it would be here."

A party consisting of David Brown, P. D. Brown and T. D. McKellar, of Whatcom were among the passengers who came out by the Ora. Rueben Brown opposed a bench claim on the Bonanza opposite No. 7. He was, besides, the discoverer of the Eureka, and had been an active man during his three years stay in the Klondike. The party first went to Circle City. On the bench claim they cleared up $30,000 and after paying wages, royalty, etc., Brown had $12,000 or $13,000 remaining, which he brought out in gold dust. David Brown, who had been in there a year, had a $10,000 lay on Eldorado with McKellar, and they had also been working for wages for the first-mentioned of the party. They believe there was between $500,000 and $800,000 in gold on board.

John Creits of Seattle, went north a year ago. He had a bench claim on Bonanza and held the property at the price of $30,000. He only brought out a few thousand dollars, but intends going back again, and his general opinion of the gold fields is very optimistic. There have recently been some small finds, and people who went in this spring are among the lucky ones who have secured good bench claims. The usual turnout of these new claims was from one to two ounces per day.

A Parker, of St. Paul, told a reporter that the French gulch bench properties are claiming a good deal of attention and will probably make a good showing. The year's output at Dawson is believed to be $10,000,000, from the latest figures, but Dominion and Hunker Creeks will not show up for what they are really worth, until after they are more thoroughly worked and prospected this winter. There is a good sale at prices mentioned above for claims among companies and their representatives at Dawson.

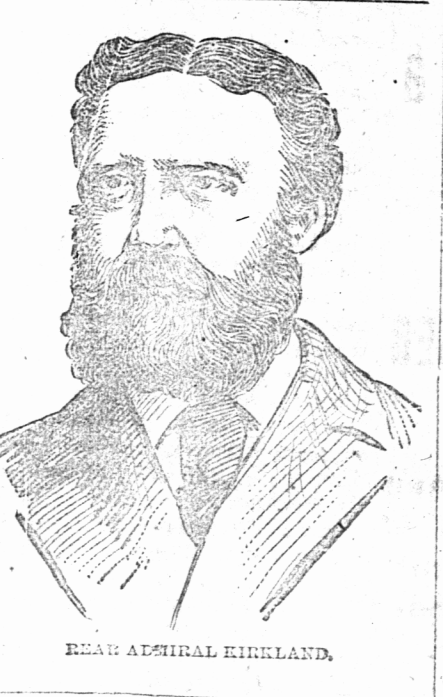

Two well-known Nanaimo miners named Kuffer and Gibbs, who formerly worked in the Vancouver Coal Company's mines, are credited with being wealthy men. They had $10,000 apiece, and Gibbs is also credited with having many drafts as referred to by the captain. Another source says that Gibbs brought out between $25,000 and $30,000. They were in the country a year and a half. Kuffer says the Hunker washup will be very large before completion.

ADMIRAL KIRKLAND DEAD.

VALLEY'S, Cal., Aug. 13.—Admiral

REAR ADMIRAL KIRKLAND.

Kirkland, Commander of Mare Island navy yard, is dead.

New York, Aug. 10.—Hiram S. Maxim the inventor of the Maxim gun, and a staunch American, has received a letter from Lord Wolseley, commander of the British army, who expresses the warmest advocacy of close union between the United States and Great Britain.

Mr. Maxim arrived from England last Saturday. He says that everywhere he found the greatest enthusiasm when the project of a union of the branches of the Anglo-Saxon race was mentioned. The inventor has begun a campaign for the unity of the race on his own account. It was in reply to a communication from him advocating his cherished plan that Lord Wolseley wrote this letter, which follows:

"Dear Mr. Maxim—Your letter of the 13th inst. is intensely interesting to me, and I fully endorse all you say about the absolute necessity of the closest possible union between all sections of the Anglo-Saxon race. If we two nations—Great Britain and the United States—were one in our aims and objects, and determined to have that peace on earth which ensures goodwill among men, no foreign nation would dare fire a shot without our leave."

"I am sending on your letter to be read by others for I think your proposal far more than a dozen Wel-Hel-Well's or Scudans' and to the United States far more than Cuba, Manila and the whole kingdom of Ferdinand and Isabella thrown in."

"I will let you know by and by. With very kind regards to you and Mrs. Maxim, believe me to be, Very truly yours,

"WOLSELEY"

"To Hiram S. Maxim, Esq., No. 18 Queen's Gate Place, S. W."

"Recent talk of complication with Russia," said Mr. Maxim yesterday, "has brought the attention of England all more to the discussion of an alliance with the United States. It is the general feeling that Russia is trying to crowd England out of the trade with China. Englishmen feel that they should have the moral support of the United States, and that in matters of keeping open the port of China for trade the two nations who are so near akin should stand together."

WILL BEAVEN SUCCEED?

Form A Government

Vancouver, B. C., August 10.—The Cabinet crisis is the topic of the hour in Vancouver. It is not believed here that Hon. Robert Beaven will be able to form a cabinet. The Opposition leaders will not work under him as he left their ranks at the general election and sought election as an Independent. He was defeated. Any attempt to hold another general election will be seriously condemned. Mr. Beaven does the Opposition. The regular Opposition were much surprised at Lieutenant-Governor Melnes' action. They do not think he treated their opponent Premier Turner properly. Thus the News Advertiser, the chief month piece of the Opposition says—

"The Government of Mr. Turner and his colleagues were brought to a sudden and unexpected end yesterday. The Lieutenant-Governor, it is stated, considering that the result of the elections did not show how the people had such confidence in the Government as would justify it in making further expenditures or appointments, notified the Premier to that effect on July 14th. As Mr. Turner did not signify his intention of resigning it seems that yesterday His Honor asked for the resignation of the ministry, and so brought the administration to a summary end."

"It is impossible, indeed, it would be unfair to Mr. Turner and his colleagues, to say whether the Lieutenant Governor was justified in the extreme step which he has taken, until further details are known of all their circumstances. For ourselves, we have considered it was not unreasonable that the Government should desire to remain in office till the result of the Cissiar elections was known and then decided either to resign or call the Legislature together immediately and abide by its decision. In the meantime it would, of course, have entered on no undertakings of importance, have made no new appointments or authorized any expenditure beyond those requisite for the ordinary administration of provincial affairs."

"This, we think, would have been a strictly constitutional course, and one which no intelligent and fair-minded opponent of the Government could have adversely criticised. As we have said, there may, however, be matters which have not transpired to the public, and which have caused the Lt.-Gov. to take the course that he did yesterday."

"Further returns received from Cissiar show that the people have such confidence in the late Turner Government have fully maintained the lead show by the returns from the first poll heard from. There are still eight places to hear from but they do not poll many votes."

PHILADELPHIA IN LINE.

Trades League Anxious for Closer Business Relations with Canada.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. Aug. 10.—At a special meeting of the Board of Managers of the Trades League of Philadelphia, held on Aug 5, the following communication was prepared and forwarded to the Hon. Chandler F. Anderson, secretary of the Joint High Commission, State Department, Washington:—

"Sir,—On Dec. 9, 1897, the board of managers of the Trades League, of Philadelphia passed the following resolution: 'Resolved, that the Trades League of Philadelphia, an organization of upwards of two thousand firms, regard with deep interest the overtures now being made by the Dominion of Canada for closer and better business communication between that country and the United States.'

"All good principles of business and of international courtesy demand that our relations with our closest neighbor should be reciprocal as the best interests of our country at large will warrant."

"The common interests of humanity civilization, commerce and progress of the American continent demand that such overtures offered in good faith should be received with good will and an effort made to reach a basis of reciprocity which would be alike fair to the United States and to the Dominion of Canada and conducive to increased trade relations between the two countries."

"We note that you have invited correspondence or suggestions for the consideration of the joint high commission appointed to settle the differences between the United States and the Dominion of Canada, and therefore the board of managers of the Trades League of Philadelphia at a special meeting held on Aug 5, 1898, take the opportunity thus offered of reaffirming the recommendations contained in the above resolution, and to further state that as recent events have shown that the government and the people of Great Britain and Ireland are both in friendly and helpful sympathy with the United States in the present war, in our judgment it would be the best of good policy to recognize this generous sentiment by bringing the trade relations of the two countries as closely together as possible, believing that in obliterating trade restrictions we reduce possible friction and inconveniences that are liable to arise between ourselves and Canada (separate), as we are, by only a border line of three thousand miles) to a minimum, and that such action will tend to the material welfare and prosperity of both countries."

PRESS OPINIONS.

In Britain and Europe on the China Situation.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—(Special)—The papers all express the growing indignation of the country at the prospects of affairs in China.

The French and European press is gleeful over the situation and say America has had enough war and will only give England a moral support.

The Russian papers praise Salisbury for his efforts to prevent a misunderstanding between the two countries.

SULTAN OF MOROCCO DEAD.

Brigands on the Rampage—Vesuvius in Eruption.

LONDON, August 13—(Special)—It is reported that the Sultan of Morocco is dead.

Mount Vesuvius is in eruption from a new crater.

The Hungarian Cabinet has resigned.

Armed brigands stormed a monastery near Toltraes, Roumania, killed two monks, wounded many others and pillaged the monastery.

REBELLION IN CHINA.

Rebels Gain Victories With Considerable Bloodshed.

TACOMA, Aug. 13—(Special)—Steamer advices from China show an uprising in Southern China has resulted in many defeats of the imperial troops with losses as high as 1,500.

The rebels expect to form an alliance with the black flag troops.
