

The WESTERN GUARDIAN

AND PRINCE COUNTY CHRONICLE

WESTERN GUARDIAN

AGENT—Mrs. John Pond, 44 Water Street East—Phone 289-1
SUMMERSIDE AND PRINCE COUNTY

News, Subscriptions, Advertising should be left with Mrs. Pond

The Guardian may be bought daily at any of the following stores in Summerside:
Bell Bookstore, Water St.
Toronto Bakery, Water St.
Gourley Drugstore, Water St.
Mark Gaudet, 67 Granville St.

The Guardian will be delivered to any home in Summerside by Carrier Boy at 2c per day or 10c per week. Phone 289-1 for this service or give your order to the boy responsible for deliveries on your route.

—This column is reserved for news of local interest but advertising of a newsy nature may be inserted at 2 cents a word strictly payable in advance.

—FILMS DEVELOPED at Taylor Drug Co., Kensington.

—LOWEST PRICES on Purina Chow and Cubes. Robinson's Bakery, 1105-6-5-7.

—FREIGHTS IN PORT—The S. S. Florida made her usual fortnightly call at Summerside this week leaving a quantity of freight. S.

—VISITING ON THE MAINLAND—Miss Elphie MacQuarrie Summerside spent the weekend with friends on the mainland. S.

—FOR RENT—Corner store building now occupied by Service Grocery, Central Street, Possession June 30. Apply Court Davie Store. L-95-6-5-31.

—TIGHS BREAKWATER TO BE REPAIRED—The contract for repairing the Tighs Breakwater has been let to F. Schurman, C. O. Ltd., Summerside, for $28,033. Work will commence immediately. S.

—ATTENDED RETREAT—Among the clergy who attended the retreat for Anglican Clergy in Charlottetown last week were Rev. G. R. Harrison, St. Mary's Church Summerside; Rev. Harry Davie, Port Hill; and Rev. Benjamin Freeman, Kensington. S.

—RECEIVED DEGREE—Mr. John A. Jardine, son of Mrs. J. W. Jardine of Wilmet Valley, received the Degree of Bachelor of Divinity, at Union Theological Seminary in New York City at the recent convocation there. Mr. Jardine is a graduate of Mount Allison University, and of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax. S.

—BOWLING ALLEYS—Summerside won one game and Charlottetown the other in two matches played at the Capitol Alley on Thursday evening with a tied team from Charlottetown. The total score in the first match was 200-100. The second game was Charlottetown 309, Summerside 326. J. Peterson, Charlottetown, was high three and also high single 326. S.

—ALBERTON COURT—Magistrate Darby held court at Alberton on Friday when several prohibition cases were disposed of. Two cases against parties from Tighs on charges of selling were dismissed. Several parties from DeBlis were up on charges of selling. The charges were laid under the Excise Act, one was found guilty and fined $25.00 and costs and the others were dismissed. Two continuing cases from the vicinity of Tighs were each fined $10.00 and costs. S.

—Y'S MEN'S CLUB—The regular weekly supper meeting of the Y's Men's Club was held in the Baptist hall where the Ladies Guild served a delicious supper. Mr. William Smallman presided the meeting but through some important motions. It was decided to donate $50.00 to the Y's Men's Camp. Also a sum of money was voted to send six boys to the Maritime Religious Educational Camp which closes this summer. It was decided to hold the annual dance during the third week in June. Mr. Thomas White was appointed superior of the bathing houses at the Marine Wharf and the official opening will be held in the near future. Meeting adjourned. S.

—CLOSING MEETING OF JUNIOR W. A.—The closing meeting of the Junior W. A. of St. Mary's Church was held in the parish hall on Friday afternoon. The leaders, Mrs. Gotthard Baker, Mrs. Earle Simmonds and Mrs. Morrison were present and discussed the games and presented the prizes. The young people gave a very good showing of work for the year. Besides making three quilts, the children have made bead work and other little neck racks for the children of the Indian Mission. Those receiving prizes for perfect attendance were Ruby Key and Althea Palmer, equal; second in attendance Ruth and Mary Simmonds equal. George Key received a prize for woodwork. Others receiving prizes for excellent work were Florence Vincent, Laurice Peters and Ethel Martin. The children were given a treat before the meeting closed. S.

—PERSONALS—Mr. Harold Schurman is in Montreal on business. S.

—It is pleasing to report that Mr. Justice A. C. Saunders is improving from his recent serious illness.

—WHY HAVE SORE FEET?—JUST RUB IN MINARD'S KING OF PAIN MINIMENT

—Support Government—Mr. J. Caldwell (C. O. P. Rose-town-Biggar) and John Blackmore, Social Credit leader, announced their groups would support the Government. Mr. Caldwell said that if the Liberal Party had carried out its promises to reform the Senate, machinery for meeting such cases would be available. Mr. Lapointe said he shared Mr. Caldwell's hope regarding the Senate reform but it could only be done by an amendment to the British North America Act.

—Mr. Cahane declared he spoke only for himself when Mr. Dunning presumed he spoke for the Conservative Party. A few minutes later every other Conservative in the House voted against the motion taken by the veteran Mon-

Monday & Tuesday

DEANNA DURBIN

in "That Certain Age"

With MELVYN DOUGLAS

ALSO PETER SMITH SHOWS AT 7:15—9:15

MATINEE TUESDAY AT 3:30

CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE

real member. Only 37 members were present for the formal division Mr. Lapointe declared was essential because of "the importance of the issue." All present except Mr. Cahane, Liberals, Conservatives, C. P. members, Social Crediters and Independents, rallied to the support of the bill as originally passed by the Commons.

Stands Firm On the return of the Commons' decision to the Senate Liberal Leader Dunning suggested Senator Meighen second the motion that the Senate should not insist on its amendment. This the Conservative Leader refused to do although he agreed not to oppose the motion.

Refusing to retreat from his stand that the bill was a mistake he recalled the attendance in the Senate was not large and the vote was only 14 to 11. He was not prepared to set the will of a few Senators against that of almost the entire membership of the House of Commons.

"We are taking kangaroo leaps into national socialism and all that it involves," he declared. He was not impressed by the majority for the bill in the House of Commons. Elected representatives of the people dare not oppose legislation out of which a large number of people hoped to derive benefit.

Never having sat in the House of Commons he was unable to share Senator Meighen's feelings. He believed the bill was "away and above party considerations."

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

Where Dunning believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it, he believed the bill would be laid down by the provincial governments if their provincial legislatures were to pass it.

The Farador's

Work Of Healing

The use of the Farador is spreading in all directions throughout the Maritime Provinces. Splendid cures of rheumatism, bronchitis, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema and many other ailments are taking place.

Mr. W. E. Enman, representative, will be in Charlottetown, 266 Sydney Street, for two or three weeks. Ask for literature with long list of cured and satisfied users. L-103-6-5-21.

1940 Meeting To Be Held In Saint John

TORONTO, June 1—Delegates to the closing session of the 39th annual meeting of Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire today passed resolutions declaring their readiness to defend their liberties and asking the Canadian Government to stand behind England. An invitation to hold the 1940 meeting in Saint John was accepted.

The resolutions were passed unanimously. The first read: "That we women of Canada associated in the National Chapter of the I. O. E. in annual session, call upon His Majesty's Government of the Dominion of Canada to declare clearly that such liberties as freedom of thought, or worship, or speech, or of assembly are regarded as sacred, and therefore we the Daughters of the Empire stand prepared to the full extent of our resources not only to defend them for themselves, but in solidarity with the nations of the Commonwealth are ready to join with all the other freedom-loving states in their preservation."

The second resolution, also to be forwarded to the Federal Government, read: "That we petition the Government to stand firmly behind the Motherland in case of national emergency."

Another resolution passed unanimously pledged the delegates to undertake "an active campaign to bring to the attention of the Canadian people 'the rights and privileges which are ours, and also that the members of the order pledge themselves to exercise their franchise in all municipal, provincial and federal elections."

Reporting for the film committee, Mrs. H. S. Angus of Toronto recommended that members register disapproval of pictures displaying cruelty to and unnecessary suffering to animals, especially by horses. She also recommended that provincial chapters report to their provincial governments if the percentage of British and Canadian news is less than 50 per cent of the news reels showing in their provinces.

"In the United States one finds at least three or four young tennis players coming up each year—youngsters who turn out to be stars," he said today. "But these stars' seeds are sown in the early years of their career to the game. They are able to afford it either through their own means or through some form of backing."

"They play eight or nine months of the year, while the most we can get in up here is five or six months. The American players start from the south in the winter and work their way through tournaments up to New York. Our players can't be expected to compete against them."

Laframboise thinks that Canada's best tennis players should come from the Pacific coast, where they have "the opportunity of playing in tournaments during the winter in the United States and the advantages of a longer summer season than in the east."

Only one member of last year's Davis Cup squad comes from western Canada, southern Doug Cameron, who played a singles match against the Japanese, headed by Vancouver, Bob Murray and Laird Watt, from Montreal, while Ross Wilton, a former Montevideo, now resides in Toronto.

All four have announced their intention to forgo Davis Cup tennis this year.

not "afford enough time to tennis."

"In the United States one finds at least three or four young tennis players coming up each year—youngsters who turn out to be stars," he said today. "But these stars' seeds are sown in the early years of their career to the game. They are able to afford it either through their own means or through some form of backing."

"They play eight or nine months of the year, while the most we can get in up here is five or six months. The American players start from the south in the winter and work their way through tournaments up to New York. Our players can't be expected to compete against them."

Laframboise thinks that Canada's best tennis players should come from the Pacific coast, where they have "the opportunity of playing in tournaments during the winter in the United States and the advantages of a longer summer season than in the east."

Only one member of last year's Davis Cup squad comes from western Canada, southern Doug Cameron, who played a singles match against the Japanese, headed by Vancouver, Bob Murray and Laird Watt, from Montreal, while Ross Wilton, a former Montevideo, now resides in Toronto.

All four have announced their intention to forgo Davis Cup tennis this year.

not "afford enough time to tennis."

"In the United States one finds at least three or four young tennis players coming up each year—youngsters who turn out to be stars," he said today. "But these stars' seeds are sown in the early years of their career to the game. They are able to afford it either through their own means or through some form of backing."

"They play eight or nine months of the year, while the most we can get in up here is five or six months. The American players start from the south in the winter and work their way through tournaments up to New York. Our players can't be expected to compete against them."

Laframboise thinks that Canada's best tennis players should come from the Pacific coast, where they have "the opportunity of playing in tournaments during the winter in the United States and the advantages of a longer summer season than in the east."

Only one member of last year's Davis Cup squad comes from western Canada, southern Doug Cameron, who played a singles match against the Japanese, headed by Vancouver, Bob Murray and Laird Watt, from Montreal, while Ross Wilton, a former Montevideo, now resides in Toronto.

All four have announced their intention to forgo Davis Cup tennis this year.

not "afford enough time to tennis."

"In the United States one finds at least three or four young tennis players coming up each year—youngsters who turn out to be stars," he said today. "But these stars' seeds are sown in the early years of their career to the game. They are able to afford it either through their own means or through some form of backing."

"They play eight or nine months of the year, while the most we can get in up here is five or six months. The American players start from the south in the winter and work their way through tournaments up to New York. Our players can't be expected to compete against them."

SAYS GERMAN LEADERS MUST BE SOLDIERLY

Hitler Charges Britain and France Pursuing Policy of "Encirclement."

KASSEL, Germany, June 4—(AP)—Reichsruhrer Hitler today told a crowd of German war veterans that Great Britain and France are pursuing a policy of "encirclement," reviving international practices which he said led to the Great War.

Hitler declared there have been fundamental changes in Germany, the chief being a determination not to neglect armament and defense as he said they were neglected by the Kaiser's Government before 1914.

Today, he said "Germany is imperiled by threats no matter what what removal of soldiers."

The former corporal told his Great War comrades at arms that Germany's leaders must be soldierly.

"I have seen to it that anyone who has anything to do with the leadership of the state is a 100 per cent soldier," he said. "I have never observed that any person cannot measure up to those responsibilities he will be dismissed from his post—no matter who he may be."

"It is my unalterable determination to see to it that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy."

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

Hitler declared that the highest leadership of the state and army think of the French and British as a common enemy.

PRAYERS ARE THE WAY WE SAY "THANKS" FOR GOOD THINGS IN LIFE

The good little Quintuplets say their prayers every night before going to bed.

(Copyright, 1939, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

SAYING our prayers means talking to God. Every night we should thank HIM for giving us our food and a home and things like that. They are called blessings.

And we should thank HIM to bless us and all the people we know which means please to make everybody happy and well, and help them if they have troubles.

Sometimes we know that we haven't done our best. Maybe we were naughty. So we pray to God to help us to behave better the next day, and to say we are sorry.

BEFORE you go to bed, it is good to pray, and to ask God to watch over you all night while you sleep.

God loves little children and although you cannot see HIM, he wants you to know about HIM and to trust HIM. Maybe you do not understand all the words of your prayer just now. But God will understand. He knows what you are trying to say.

This gives warmth in effect as well as in appearance and is well worth the extra cost.

"I have quite a new suggestion for the loose coverings and curtains and ideas I've tried myself and found most successful. Instead of having the chairs and the settee covered in the same color, use the same material but in three different shades. I would select peach, soft blue and delicate green in cotton damask.

"The curtain could be made in the peach, but you could have them in the green or blue if you preferred. If you have a little odd furside chair, I should do this in a green velvet—the same tone as the green of the settee. A contrast in shades is always helpful in a furnishing scheme, and we must remember that, too, when we come to the cushions. I suggest matching your three colors in furnishing satin, piped with the shiny side, and some with the shiny side, piped with the dull. Have the velvet cushions piped with a ruche to give an air of richness. I have parchment lampshades edged with velvet.

"For the bedroom I want to use yellow, or rather primrose, for the walls and ceiling, and have the paintwork one shade deeper. The wardrobe and chest of drawers would look nice if painted to match. For curtains I've found you a chintz with a primrose ground to match the walls. It has groups of brightly-colored flowers scattered over it, and this same chintz can be used to border the plain green dressing table frill and bedspread. You could use the chintz for these, but I think it would be rather too much and the plain green makes an effective break.

"Now you'll find the room wants a contrast and I advise you to pick up the pink and green in the chintz. Cover an armchair with a dull surface furnishing satin in rose pink and find a green cushion into it. You'll find this sudden touch of different colors brings the whole room to life and gives it life, warmth and originality."

RE-DECORATING DREARY ROOMS

If you have a sitting-room or bedroom facing north which is "old" and dreary-looking, an interior decorator says:

"Let us take the sitting-room first. I should have the walls, ceiling and woodwork all in the same color. Its trade name is flesh but cream, yellow and peach. The effect of this color in dark corners has to be seen to be believed. It positively glows. If your plans include a new carpet, I should suggest beige, a plain all over Wilton, and have it fitted to the skirting—

Reviewed and approved by Dominion Headquarters The Boy Scouts Association.

ROY POWERS, KING'S SCOUT—

THAT RHINO DOESN'T EVEN SEE US

SAY! HE'S AS BIG AS AN AUTOMOBILE!

OH BOY! HE'S BEGINNING TO SUSPECT!

HE HASN'T QUITE SPOTTED US! LOOK HOW HE SWINGS HIS HEAD

IT'S THE TICK BIRDS WHEN THEY FLY OFF HIS BACK HE KNOWS DANGER IS NEAR

I KNOW BABY WON'T MIND HAVING HIS GRAY HAIR WILL YOU?

BOO-BOO-DA

?

By George McManus

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

Pastoral Letter

(Continued from page 3)

God our Saviour," at all times, says St. Paul, (1 Tim 2-3), but on an occasion like this, when our Sovereigns undertake such an arduous and perilous journey for our sakes, we should have their welfare particularly in mind.

Shortly after their visit to Charlottetown, their Majesties will be on the high seas, homeward bound to their dear children, the Royal Princesses. Until they again set foot on the soil of England our prayer will be that Almighty God may bring them safely home in health, peace and contentment.

We therefore direct that, from the day of their departure from Halifax until the day of their arrival in England, inclusive, the collect "For those at Sea" be added at all Masses. ("Pro Navigantibus", No. 33 under orationes diversae, pro rege)

May God bless you all! Your devoted servant in Christ, J. A. O'SULLIVAN, Bishop of Charlottetown.

Will Continue

(Continued from page 3)

In the Hunter River poll, one rejected vote was allowed for Mr. Bell, but his majority was sufficient to contain 116 ballots, was found only to contain 115 ballots. On a check of the poll book there appeared to be 206 property voters but only 205 ballots were in the box.

In Wheatley River the same occurred—Mr. Bell gained four rejected ballots but his envelope contained only 99 ballots instead of 100 as endorsed thereon. From the poll book there appeared to be 176 voters but only 175 ballots were in the box.

In St. Catherine's poll, Mr. LePage's envelope was found to contain 90 ballots instead of 80 as declared. From the poll book there appeared to be 147 property voters but there were 146 ballots in the box.

In North Rustico A declared vote of 96 to 90 was changed on recount to 96 to 92, Mr. LePage gaining two. From the poll book there appeared to be 198 voters but there were 199 ballots in the box.

In Cymbria poll Mr. LePage lost two. He gained one in North Wiltshire, Cornwall, and Nine Mile Creek. Mr. Bell gained one in Brookfield, Riverdale, North River and Nine Mile Creek.

Small Gains On New York Market

(By FREDERICK GARDNER Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, June 4—(AP)—The stock market ended a rather spotty week on a moderately cheerful note Saturday.

While price changes were small, steel, motors, mail orders, rubbers, and specialties, generally pointed upward. Many issues, however, closed virtually even or a shade in arrears.

With numerous traders describing boardrooms for weekend holidays, the day's turnover was the smallest since May 13. Transfers totaled 175,740 shares against 382,560 last Saturday. The week's volume, due partly to the Memorial Day shutdown, was the lowest in about a year. The Canadian group followed the general trend with slight sales.

The Associated Press average of 61 stocks was up 1/4 of a point at 47.3, but on the week showed a net decline of 2.

Stocks emerging behind modest plus signs included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak and Zenith Radio.

What stocks did

Advances Declines Total Issues

205 371 104 176 458 834

Agonizing Eczema (Salt Rheum)

No rest, day or night, for those afflicted with that awful skin disease, eczema, or salt rheum as it is commonly called.

The intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night, or when the affected part is exposed to strong heat, or hot water, are almost unbearable, and relief is gladly welcomed.

To get rid of the blood cleansed by the use of a thoroughly reliable blood medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters which during the past 60 years has met with great success in relieving such diseases by its blood cleansing and purifying properties.

The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

BRINGING UP FATHER

WOW—MAGGIE'S ANTIQUE VASE—SHE MUST'N'T KNOW THAT I BROKE IT

AN I'VE GOT TO WORK FAST—SHE MUST HAVE HEARD IT DROP

I KNOW BABY WON'T MIND HAVING HIS GRAY HAIR WILL YOU?