PYROIL LUBRICATING PROCESS

Guarantees Easy Starting and 100% Protection in COLDEST WEATHER
Simply Add to Regular Oil

NO WONDER you're worried when winter's icy fingers grip the delicate mechanisms of your car. Even the best of lubricating oils and greases cannot instantly circulate when you step on the starter button and gears tug at the motor to start it spinning. Then, metal-to-metal clash is virtually inescapable—often resulting in serious damage. But, PYROIL Lubricating Process will set your mind at ease. PYROIL provides positive protection against damage or wear throughout every vital part of motor and gear system, until regular lubricants freely circulate.
PYROIL is a concentrated super-lubricant. Merely added to crankcase oil, to the gasoline, transmission, free-wheeling mechanism, and differential, it establishes and perpetually renews on all wearing parts an indestructible, wear-resisting, self-lubricating surface which becomes virtually a part of the metal itself. This Pyroil Surface prevents metal-to-metal wear which must otherwise occur when oil is sluggish or partly frozen. PYROIL Surfaces are impervious to intense cold, to heat or to the washing effects of raw gasoline and thin oil.

Ends Winter Worries
PYROIL is internationally used and attested by leading industries and foremost authorities. It is manufactured under a highly specialized patent protected process. Positively harmless; no harmful chemicals. Guaranteed 100% satisfactory.
PYROIL guarantees protection under grueling conditions. It minimizes wear, reduces noise and vibration, increases power, seals rings, frees valves, frees carburetors. Saves 10 times its cost!
