THE DREAMER

Ah me! I wonder, was I born To weave a useful task's design— This thought has set me quite forlorn. As here I muse and dream and rhyme. Or do I take a needed space. With good intent, yet meant away For those who fill more useful places?— Yet here I muse and dream all day. Why can't I be content to be Myself and just let you be you? Unless this thought still follows me; There's work undone that I must do!

Now while I try to bear my part, If from my task I seem to shrink; I'll pray this prayer "Forgive my heart For dreaming dreams while others work?"

F. Hazel Fraser.

Reports from the different committees were given. The program consisted of two contests, and one member paid a fine. Some discussion on buying new seats for the senior department was held but particulars were left until next meeting. One new member joined. New committees were appointed as follows: School, Mrs. M. Murray, Mrs. M. Callaghan, Mrs. V. McCloskey, Mrs. J. J. Murray; program, Mrs. Peter Clarkin, Mrs. James Clarkin, Mrs. Lawrence Murray; Mrs. Dominic McDonald invited the members for the next meeting. Roll call to be answered by a donation to the grab-bag, 10c a try.

The meeting closed by singing God Save the King. After a dainty lunch was served the remainder of the evening was spent in social intercourse.

Seed Shipping Problems Discussed At Banquet Of Potato Growers Ass'n

The directors of the P. E. I. Potato Growers' Association with their manager, J. W. Boulter, held a very enjoyable banquet at the Charlottetown Hotel on Tuesday evening with about 65 of their men in charge of loading from the various loading points throughout the Province. There were also present four or five of the provincial officials, including Superintendent G. T. Montgomery, the inspector in charge of the potato stock branches and W. R. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

In the absence of President E.B. McLaren, Georgetown, who was indisposed, the vice president, Hon. Horace Wright, of Bedouque, presided and very heartily welcomed all present to the banquet.

Advantage was taken of this get-together to point out to the men who are the last to see the potatoes and turnips before they leave the Province, that the bags on which the product is shipped are in good condition, clean, and properly loaded in the cars. Almost every year there are complaints from buyers that the sacks are dirty, that they do not contain the full weight and are carelessly loaded in the cars. The manager, Mr. Peppin, seed inspector, and Mr. Shaw, tobacco inspector, all stressed the need of the greatest care in preparing for shipment a product that carries wherever shipped the highest reputation for its kind in America, and that it was too bad to cast disparagement on it because of any neglect on the part of the farmer or the shipper.

Refrigerator Car Reserve

Other matters were discussed in which several of those present took part, particularly regarding transportation, the supply of refrigerator cars and the distribution of the same. Mr. Montgomery assured the loaders that he was interested in their problems and would do his utmost to provide the best possible facilities for the movement of the crop, and stated that already they were starting to build up a reserve of refrigerator cars.

Hon. W. F. Allan Stewart, Minister of Agriculture, spoke briefly on the benefits of the potato industry to this Province, and assured those present that the Department was ready and willing to give every assistance within its power.

Mr. Peppin gave a very informative report relative to the percentage of acreage that had passed inspection, over 96% of all acreage inspected. He stated that the inspectors would be returning to use them for shipping the potatoes.

Mr. Chagnon, Shaw in his remarks said there was no reason why all sacks should not be full weight. The size of the potato industry is not an excuse for putting 62, 65 or 68 pounds instead of 75. He also gave information regarding the necessity of having every bag tagged and some identification on each tag that would make it possible to identify the grower who graded the potatoes.

U. S. Trade Treaty

Mr. W. R. Shaw explained that recently when in Ottawa, he and Mr. J. Chagnon, president of the Provincial Federation of Agriculture, did their utmost to bring to the attention of the proper departments the need for reconsideration of the Reciprocal Trade Treaty of the United States as it affects the potato market.

There was considerable discussion regarding the loss of an order for potatoes for France and Belgium. It happened that a listener at the meeting was a large potato dealer from the United States. He is a member of the White Potato Advisory Board, for recommendation to Washington, who very clearly explained why Canada lost the seed order to the U. S. The European countries interested were asking for a billion dollars from the United States, and Washington felt that as the United States had a heavy surplus of potatoes and as the Government was responsible for the disposal of them, support price to the farmer, these countries could very well use some of the surplus of potatoes in place of money. It was also explained that they owed Belgium over two hundred thousand sacks of support price to the farmer. Belgium does not want the potatoes, she could in turn trade them to European countries that do require them.

The meeting was highly informative and the directors expressed through their chairman their great pleasure in its unqualified success. The National Anthem closed the meeting.

MAKE PERFECT APPLE JUICE

To make juice: Cut 5 lb firm juicy unpeeled apples into quarters. Reverse end of water; fill with fruit is mushy. Turn into jelly bag; let drip. Makes approximately 2 1/2 quarts. Repeating jelly bag gently gives additional juice. This jelly will be less clear.

To sugar juice: Jelmeter indicates sugar required. Hold finger over bottom end of tube; fill with juice. Remove finger; let juice drip into glass. Squeezing jelly bag note how much sugar is required to each cup of juice.

To melt paraffin: Pour juice and sugar (jel-meter tells how much per cup) into heavy skillet. Bring to boil; cool by rolling ball. When mixture will sheet a spoon and two definite drops fall from spoon edge, pour into clean jelly glasses. Let stand till jelly is set.

To melt paraffin: Place paraffin in aluminum measuring cup with a pour lip. Set up in shallow pan of water over low heat. Paraffin will melt without danger of catching fire. Cup is cleaned by wiping out with soft paper while oil is still warm.

To paraffin jelly: Pour thin layer melted paraffin over jelly. Lay short length of string over each, ends extending. Let cool. Pour on second layer paraffin, filling up seal edges tight. The string makes paraffin easy to remove from the glass.

Here are some additional ideas: (1) Use force levers from jelly bag for jam. Force through colander. Add sugar 1/2 cup sugar for each cup pulp; then cook. (2) Use commercial pectin to make jelly from low-pectin fruits as peaches and berries—lavender sugar, strawberries.

TOBACCO EFFECTS UNDER DISCUSSION BY PSYCHIATRISTS

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(CP)—Dr. Sybil Tremellen, a London psychiatrist, has stirred controversial echoes by condemning smoking—in a nation where women puff cigarettes on the street and tobacco is the inevitable associate of morning and afternoon tea in offices and workrooms.

Dr. Tremellen said her patients, mostly suffering from "anxiety neurosis," are plunged into deep depression if they smoke; that the effects of the mother smoking on the new-born child will be discovered only later; that she does not agree with other doctors who say smoking soothes nerves; that smoking is "an insidious and increasing disease"; that the medical profession should face the whole question "honestly" and take steps to overcome the smoking habit and that the increase in nervous illness is partly due to smoking.

One reply came from the Institute of Industrial Psychology which said that "the soothing effect of a cigarette is a very important factor in the productivity of the nation's workers."

Dr. R. S. Schilling, secretary of the industrial health research board, said that there was evidence heavy smoking had an injurious effect on health but as far as industrial workers were concerned he did not think the matter serious. Few of them had opportunities to smoke while at work.

HE'S FAT, BUT I LOVE HIM

NEWARK, N. J. Sept.—The United States Army's Office of Dependency Benefits, which has solved and solved many a problem with an allotment cheque, is finding a new twist to an old familiar refrain.

Briefly it goes: "Keep that cheque but send my husband back." One woman seeking to have her husband sent home wrote: "He's fat, swab-back—with a crick in the sway-chipped elbow, has several teeth missing and hobbies into age 38 this month but he has a nice smile with what teeth he has left—and I love him. So why don't you send him home? P.S.: Think of the money you can save!"

But the letter the O.D.B. cherishes above all reads: "I received you all letters you wrote me today. And I was glad to hear from you all. I am always glad to hear from you all. I will be more glad when you all start sending me my family allowance." fringear?

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 3.—(CP)—

Main topic of the National Party Congress deliberations at Johannesburg was the "Communist danger" in South Africa and many speakers called for a continued fight against it. Disturbances outside the city hall at Johannesburg, where the Congress was held, were described by speakers as the first clash in the fight.

There was wild rioting outside the city hall when the Nationalists organized a "victory" parade through the city and clashed with a huge crowd of soldiers and civilians. The riot assumed serious proportions when the police were forced to use batons to protect congress delegates from a crowd trying to force entrance into the hall.

On the following day almost the whole downtown police force was concentrated around the hall and
