

CHILD'S LIFE SAVED

Read what Dr. True's Elixir has done for one child dying from worms. The mother writes: "I made up my mind I would try the Elixir and see what it would do. My little boy was nothing but skin and bone, but since I have given him the Elixir, he eats better than he ever did before. You have helped my little boy. He would have been in his grave before long, as he could not have stood it much longer."

Mrs. Jennie Bowen, R.F.D. No. 2, Meredith, N. H. Your child may have worms, sapping its health. If you have the least suspicion of this get a bottle of Dr. True's Elixir. Good for adults also. 35c, 60c and $1, at all dealers. Advice free. Write.

—ANNIVERSARY ADDRESS.—The following is the address read to Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Arsenault, on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Arsenault, dear friends:—Fifty years ago you were united in the holy bond which united your hearts. You have during this long period, accomplished your numerous duties with great fidelity and now you have the great joy of witnessing the returns of this great day which is the fiftieth anniversary of your marriage. Your numerous friends assembled here, with joyful hearts and tender emotions, are availing themselves of this great opportunity, and are viewing with each other in extending to you their congratulations on this splendid occasion. Without infringing on your modesty, we would like to give vent to our high appreciation of all the sacrifices which you underwent for the welfare of your fellow men. By your conduct always edifying you have won the hearts of all whom you came in contact with. Your commercial relations with others, have always been marked with uprightness. What of your generous hospitality! Never did anyone seek in vain, entrance to your house. With an open heart you extended to all a cordial reception. The poor have always found relief at your threshold, and today they implore you for the blessings of God. All enterprises and new movements, undertaken in behalf of the Acadian people, have been ably supported by you. As a parishioner of St. James, Edmond Bay, you have by your wise counsels, your time, and resources, contributed largely to the welfare of the parish. Could we under these circumstances, hesitate in paying you, our homage? We are not prompted by a direct command of God, but the gratitude owed to you, exacts it from us. May it please you then to receive our most sincere wishes for, your health, happiness and long life, and be assured that they are our every prayer. May God reward you for all your virtuous deeds and noble examples which you continually practice. As a mark of our esteem please accept this small gift presented to you by sincere friends. May God bless you dear friends, and may you have the blessing of celebrating many happy anniversaries like this one. May your life be holy, happy and prosperous, if the sincere wishes extended to you, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Arsenault. The following is the address read to Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Arsenault by Master Camille Arsenault: Dear Grandfather and Grandmother: On this splendid occasion, when we are all assembled here around you, we cannot let the opportunity go by without expressing to you our most profound and filial devotion, and to return thanks for all your care in our behalf. Never could grandparents have more love for their grandchildren than you have for us. It is for that reason that you have this beautiful day of your 50th anniversary of your marriage, we wish to thank God for all the favours which He has showered on you for so many years. If He has given you trials it is always with patience and resignation that you bowed to His will. On this day the feast of your golden wedding, please accept our best wishes for your health and happiness. May you in the future, experience but the bright side of life, may happiness be your lot, success crown your undertakings. As a token of our sincerity, we pray you to accept this small trifle with our renewed wishes for a long and happy life among us, Your Grandchildren.—M.

—WEDDING BELLS.—A very pretty wedding took place at St. Paul's Church, Summerside, on Tuesday morning, October 12, at 7 o'clock, when Miss Patricia Laughlin, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Laughlin, Sherbrooke, was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas A. Noonan, of Richmond, R. J. C. McLean officiating. The bride was attired in a travelling suit of blue serge, black and white picture hat and carried a beautiful white prayer book. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lilla, who was also dressed in a blue serge suit and large black picture hat. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Walter Laughlin, brother of the bride. The music was beautifully rendered by Mother Superior of St. Mary's Academy, Summerside. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the Queen Hotel, where breakfast was served, afterwards leaving by the Express on a short trip to Boston and New York, to the wishes of their friends for a long and happy journey through life. The bride, who for the past seven years taught school in St. Eleanors, is very popular, and was the recipient of many useful presents, among them being a cheque for fifty dollars.

—ANNIVERSARY PARTY.—Mr. Joseph Z. Cormier, Caisiss, was gracefully surprised Saturday night 9th inst., to see his yard being filled with wagons, and his house filled with people. For what purpose did his relatives and friends through his house. To celebrate his fiftieth anniversary. Mr. Cormier on that day had attended the age of fifty and on glancing back at the record of his past life, one well could say they were fifty years spent fruitfully. For from an isolated home surrounded with wilderness, Mr. Cormier has by his tact and energy and uprightness become the owner of a vast property, and surrounded by his children to whom he has always imparted Christian counsels seconded by his noble example. Mr. Cormier though taken by surprise, knew well how to extend to his guests a cordial hospitality. Some partook of harmless games of cards, while others indulged in step dancing and singing. A touching feature of the evening was an excellent address read to Mr. Cormier by his little daughter Emma. The address breathed forth all the tenderness and filial devotion of his children, and terminated with sincere wishes for a long continuation of the noble life whose purpose had been to seek their welfare and happiness. The address was accompanied with a handsome chair, in which the happy father sat down and which was raised to the ceiling three times with its occupant. Mr. Cormier with a sobbing heart, thanked his children for the beautiful address and gift. The guests then presented their gift as token of their high esteem, and to which he paid a cordial acknowledgement. Remarks were then made by the Messrs John P. Arsenault, Joseph H. Arsenault, Alfred Richard and others. A table laden with good things, and after a full night of fun, the merry crowd departed all with good wishes for Mr. Cormier.—M.
