Girl Guide News

Here is some news from "Brown Owls" Mrs. Fred Osborne, Central Royalty. Instead of the usual meeting of the Brownie Pack on April 23rd, we all went in a group and had our chests X-rayed at the Clinic. On April 30th, we played games which were instructive and helped recruits to pass their tests. The Golden Bar girls played ball and the five who are working toward their "Golden hand" strove mightily at sending semaphore signals. To introduce play when working for tests is a grand way of retaining the young peoples interest. (F. S.)

Are you getting ready for the Parade? Trinity Company held a practice march around the Blocks and stepped along very smartly. Other Companies would do well to copy this idea, as keeping in step and presenting a smart column of Guides needs practice by everyone. At Trinity also, that same meeting, Mrs. A. E. Murchison gave a talk on the Writers Badge around the Camp Fire. Nancy Hyndman read a very good essay on Guiding that was also instructional. Mrs. Murchison emphasized the need for all Guides to practice writing and to keep on doing so even after the test has been passed. Get humour, and write intelligently and simply the Guides were told. This is good advice to all those who are trying for the Writers Badge.

The Column writer was invited to a meeting of Brown Owls held at Mrs. F. Pickards, Commissioner for Brownies and was extremely delighted to meet them for the first time. They are enthusiastic Leaders and I look forward to visiting the pack in the near future. Mrs. Pickard carried out the introduction in her very charming and kindly way and I felt one of the party immediately. Mrs. Bertram Patterson spoke most practically on Brownie Organizations and programmes, presenting many new ideas that are workable from her own Brownie experiences. She certainly knew the work and her understanding of young children was obvious. We all enjoyed her talk and look forward to meeting her again.

This is all the news for this week apart from a few reminders to Guide Captains. Cookie Day is on June 5th. Have all your guides and Brownies been asked to participate in the selling campaign?

Terrariums Have you started making your Case yet? Refer to your last Sign Post Magazine for the Instructions. The News Column is hungry! How about it Captains and Brown Owls?
