WONDERLAND.

The management of Wonderland who are always up to date in their desire to please the public, have an unprecedented array of "Exhibits" which they will place before their patrons during Exhibition week.

And being heart and soul in accord with the intention of the promoters of the exhibit on the people of Wonderland hope that if the irresistible attractions at their house make it the point to which all roads lead, no more serious feeling will develop than a slight sentiment of jealous rivalry.

Owing to the great influx of people to the city during the galaxy of attractions, it may be necessary to state that the seating capacity of Wonderland is much greater than any other amusement place in this city, and the stranger within our gates may rest assured of comfortable accommodations and high class entertainment to his heart's content.

A ballad of rare beauty entitled, "We Parted as the Sun Went Down," will be sung by Percy Hamby.

This beautiful illustrated song through which a fragrant sigh is breathing appeals to the hearts of all who have been entranced in love's young dream.

At the Wonderland exhibition of art the program for Monday and Tuesday will be as follows: Exhibit No. One—Athletic American Girls; Exhibit No. 2—The Boy, The Bust and the Bath; Exhibit No. 3—The Reluctant Dog; Exhibit No. 4—In the Wrong Flat; four comedies and every one a scream of laughter.

To accommodate the great rush to Wonderland the management have decided to give afternoon performances from one o'clock till five, beginning on Tuesday Matinee this afternoon from 1 p. m. till 5 p. m.

W. S. HARKINS COMPANY IN THE

Shadow Behind The Throne—A Capital Presentation of a Thrilling Drama—They Present the Private Secretary Tonight

The W. S. Harkins Company as reconstructed and strengthened since their last previous appearance here, received a very hearty welcome at the Opera House last evening. The play was The Shadow Behind the Throne, the scene being laid in China at the time of the Boxer uprising of a few years ago.

It is an exceedingly bright and capable company that presented the play of last evening—not quite at their best, for this was the first time of producing this play. Special scenery and the patriotic ardor aroused by the incidents of the story aided to carry it with enthusiasm from start to finish.

The cast included all the fourteen members of the Company, with the old favorites, Mr. Borwker as the British Ambassador, Miss Van Duser as the Ambassador's daughter, and Mr. Stubbs in a leading and pleasing part. Each of these received hearty plaudits as they made their appearance.

Tonight the Private Secretary will be put on. People who have the blues or who are troubled with business cares or think that everything is not pleasant in life should see The Private Secretary and they are sure to have a relapse for their accustomed feelings. The Private Secretary is beyond doubt, one of the funniest of run makers. It is the best comedy ever written. It is full to the brim with ludicrous sayings, and ridiculous complications and situations, keeping the audience in a state of good humor from the rise of the curtain to its final drop in the last.

KIPLING TALKS OF HIS EFFORTS

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—Through the efforts of Secretary Mitchell, Rudyard Kipling, who, with Mrs. Kipling, arrived in the city at 10 o'clock yesterday morning on his way to the coast, was induced to speak before the Canadian Club last evening. "I have done my best," said Mr. Kipling, "for about twenty years to keep all men of sister nations in the empire interested in each other, because I know that the hearts of all men are created much alike. They have the same problems and aspirations, and have only each other to depend upon. If through any, no fortune any work of mine has helped to keep the boys throughout the world a little more interested in each other, then great is my reward. With the national spirit that I see here today the meanness of collection of packing cases that was ever, tack hammered together on the prairie can dominate a continent. You are fortunate beyond most others in prosperity in overwhelming abundance, but the gods have not denied to you the light that shows traces of that material prosperity. One is forced back to the old words that you stand on the threshold of an unbelievable future. No man can foresee or set limits to your destiny, but any man, even I have the right to remind you that to whom much has been given, from them much shall be required.

Notice of R M Johnson's appointment by the Government to the position of a Trustee was received from the Clerk of the Executive Council. Mr. Johnson was appointed on the Committee of Estimates. The thanks of the Board were extended to Prof. Barlow for the success of his pupils in winning so many prizes at the Halifax Exhibition.
