WOMEN NOT TO USE BAD LANGUAGE

MONTREAL, July 16.—Magistrate Ritchie strongly objects to women using bad language and he took occasion to mention the fact yesterday when it came out in the police court that Mrs. Stella Daley, of the West rather insulting names. Gerow was the defendant in a case in which Mrs. Daley charged assault. She claimed that Gerow had assaulted her little brother, and when she took him to task about it he struck her.

On being cross-examined by E. S. Ritchie, who appeared for the defendant, Mrs. Daley admitted having used some strong language.

A fisherman named Clark gave evidence of hearing the bad talk. The magistrate said that all women and boys who use bad language should be fined.
