IN MEMORIAM

MR. DONALD MacDONALD

The death occurred on August 30th at his home at Bethel, at the age of 77 years. Mr. MacDonald was one of the community's most respected citizens and his passing is much regretted by his many friends and neighbors throughout his illness he was tenderly nursed by his wife and family. He will be sadly missed in the home where he was always very considerate of those among whom he lived by his kindly genial nature. While among his friends and neighbors he was ever ready to lend a helping hand in time of need.

The funeral took place Sunday from his late residence Bethel to Birchhill cemetery and was largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. E. C. Robertson, assisted by Rev. G. C. Webster and Harvey Bishop. He leaves to mourn his wife, three sons and two daughters, John A. at home, Daniel at Stanley Bridge and Edward, Saskatchewan; Mrs. Alfred Smith, Charlottetown; Mrs. Albert Stewart, Fiske's Road, and two granddaughters, Miss Lena MacDonald, Charlottetown, Mrs. Joseph A. Smith, Johnston's River, also one sister, Mrs. Jane Chandler, Dorchester, Mass., besides nine other grandchildren. The pall bearers were Westaway Chandler, Daniel Myers, Lee Ferguson, Frank Trainor, Patrick Trainor, John Myers.

The floral tributes consisted of Flowers—The Family.

Wreath—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Smith.

Spray—Mr. and Mrs. W. MacMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith, Agnes Flynn.

JAMES I. McAULAY

The death occurred at Belcher-town, Mass., on Friday, August 30th of James I. McAulay, son of the late John A. McAulay and Mary A. McMillan, born at St. Peter's, Prince Edward Island in 1886.

For several years the deceased farmed at his native home in this Province and was for some time in Western Canada. In 1923 he went to Belcher-town where he remained until his death. His quiet and kind disposition made him popular among the staff of that institution and his cleverness in the handling of machinery gave a high position in his line of work.

About 7 o'clock on the morning of August 30th he left Belcher-town, driving his car and alone, on way to Old Orchard, Maine, to visit some relatives there, and after going a very short distance leaned over the wheel as though he had taken a paralytic stroke or hemorrhage of the brain and his car continued in operation and turning into a field ran into an old cellar. This shock may have hastened his death which came about six hours afterwards. His remains which were forwarded to St. Peter's, arrived on Monday, September 2nd.

He leaves to mourn one brother, John Dan of St. Peter's, one sister, Mary, of St. Ann de Bellevue, Quebec, two half brothers, R. H. McLean of Montreal and G. H. McLean of St. Peter's, two half-sisters, Maria and Alice, both of Montreal. The funeral which was largely attended was held at St. Peter's on Wednesday, Sept. 4th. Rev. A. McAulay officiating, and all that was mortal of a good man was laid to rest in St. Peter's Cemetery. May his soul rest in peace.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. J. McKinnon, M. Wayne, Moses-McInnis, Archie McAulay, A. A. Flynn, John F. McInnis.

Leaves have their time to fall And flowers to wither at The North wind's breath. For thou hast all seasons For thy own, O death.

Provides Money For Older Folk Job Risks Free

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Thirty million typical Americans come under the Social Security Act, with their old age pension and job insurance.

Immediate operation of the act was upset by the closing session of the late Senator Huey Long, resulting in the defeat of the deficiency bill providing funds for activities included in the measure. This situation, however, is merely temporary, and will be straightened out when congress returns next January.

The act's old age pensions and unemployment insurance are its major features. The two differ in this respect: Mr. Citizen will help pay for his pension himself, but the job insurance isn't designed to cost him anything extra. Here is what the pension plan will work:

Blank, we'll say, is about 26 years old now and goes on working for 40 years, making an average of $2,400 a year. He'll pay in, starting in 1937, five per cent of his salary with the tax increasing one-half per cent until it reaches three per cent. His employer will be paying a similar tax on his salary right along. On this basis, Blank, 65, will retire on an annuity of $85, or $71.25 a month.

Supposing Blank is much older—has only 10 years more of active work. On a salary averaging $2,400 a year, he will retire at the end of his 10 years on a pension of $32.50 a month.

There's another type of man, always his given consideration—the fellow who already is 65 years or more. The government plans to help him by grants to the individual states of $15 a month for each such citizen, to be matched by the state. If the state puts its share on the oldsters will receive $30 a month. This type of pension is to start at once, while the pensions in which the workers contribute do not begin until 1942.

The average American citizen probably is worrying less about his pension than he is over continuing employment. This is where unemployment insurance comes in. Most of what happens depends upon the individual states. On employers of eight or more persons, the government is imposing, first, a one per cent payroll tax, boosting it to two per cent in 1937 and to three per cent in 1938. The states are supposed to set up unemploy-

Modern Keyboard To Speed Typing

(By The Canadian Press)

VICTORIA, Sept. 17.—A new type keyboard for typewriters designed to speed up instruction in stenography is advocated by Major R. B. King, technical adviser to the British Columbia School Finance Commission.

"It has been discovered," he says, "that much of the difficulty of teaching typewriting is due to the faulty arrangement of the keys on the universal keyboard used on all typewriting machines."

The new-to-convert a machine to the new-style keyboard would approximate $12. Major King believes the change, if adopted universally, would mean as much to business as it would to the schools.

McCarron-Melia Nuptials

On August 29th Mr. Kerwin Koughan McCarron and Miss Jane Frances Melia were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The wedding ceremony and nuptial Mass took place in beautiful Mission Dolores Church of San Francisco before a large gathering of relatives and friends. The Reverend Father Colin V. McEachern, O. F., a former schoolmate of the groom, was the officiating priest.

Mr. Kerwin is son of Mr. Peter McCarron of this City. He is a distinguished alumnus of Queen Square School, and before his departure from here some years ago was well known to a host of friends in Charlottetown. In California, and on the West Coast, he is particularly known and esteemed as a general officer of one of the big President ocean-going steamers. In this latter capacity, although a comparatively young man, Mr. McCarron has made an enviable reputation, and his many friends in Charlottetown rightly feel proud of him.

We rejoice with him in his happy choice of a bride. Miss Jane Melia, who is the daughter of Mrs. A. Melia, and is a graduate of Notre Dame Academy in San Francisco and of the University of California.

The solemnities were all that could be wished for on that eventful day. To the joyful strains of the organ the bridal party, led by little niece Margaret Ann, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Fraher and niece of the bride, marched in procession up the center aisle, and thence to the altar where the impressive ceremony was performed. The bride, who was given away by her eldest brother, looked charming in an exquisite dress of white silk trimmed with lace, and the lovely shower bouquet of gardenias and sweet peas added the necessary color of the picture. She was attended by her sister, Theresa (Mrs. Doctor Fraher) who was beautifully gowned in blue chiffon. Miss Hargrave Ann was prettily attired in pink chiffon. Both carried bouquets of pink roses, and were supported by Mr. Edwin Temple Singley, his first cousin.

After the ceremonies and upon leaving the church, the pent up enthusiasm of relatives and friends burst forth with vesivian vigor which expressed itself in an innumerable of rices and verbal exclamations which in no small way attested to the popularity of the happy newly-married couple. They were so overwhelmed with congratulations that it was with difficulty that they reached the car which was to take them to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Fraher, where the reception was planned. The reception was an excellent food and service, the spirit of joy which permeated the very air, and the realization of the happy occasion itself all contributed in making the wedding reception a fitting climax to the event which shall remain long in the minds of those whose privilege it was to be present. Among those present was the immediate family of the bride, the Reverend Father Thomas F. Bryne, the pastor of Mission Dolores Church, Miss Annie McCarron, her sister Lennie, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCarron.

The Guardian joins with all the many friends, both here and in California, in wishing hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Kerwin McCarron.

HOW ENO OVERCOMES SOUR STOMACH

That hot, sour, distressed feeling you get after eating is caused by acidity and incomplete elimination. This condition won't get any better without help. Eno's Fruit Salt helps in the most pleasant way imaginable. Just toss a little Eno into a glass of water and drink the mixture while it bubbles. Do this two or three times a day and you'll soon notice a change for the better. Eno is alkaline—it sweetens the stomach. Also Eno soon rids the intestines of the clogging, poisonous waste that causes so much physical disturbance. Physicians recommend Eno and take it themselves. Sheep Grazing On Golf Course

(By The Canadian Press)

REBGINA, Sept. 17.—Trimming the greens on the golf course at Cypress Hills provincial park is no problem. A herd of 2000 sheep graze over the 41 acres of rolling fairways.

The turf is unequaled on any course in the province, Forrest Cochrane, club professional, states. The links are divided into two fairways. While the sheep clear off one, the golfers use the other.

A variety of animals visit the course. An antelope makes an occasional call to lap up a dish of salt laid out for it. A porcupine visited the dish by mistake one day and it took the antelope several days to rid itself of quills collected in the ensuing tangle.

Acting Premier 26 Years of Age

EDMONTON, Sept. 17.—(C.P.)—The Alberta Social Credit party's coat-of-arms, it has been suggested, might well bear the figure of youth rampant. Members of the newly-elected government hold the distinction of being the youngest in the Dominion. Ernest Charles Manning, 26 years old provincial secretary, acted as premier while his party chief visited Ottawa to negotiate a loan.

Rocketed from obscurity to a cabinet suite in the provincial parliament buildings, Manning's short political career has been compared to that of William Pitt, who, at the age of 24, assumed the mantle of premier of Great Britain. Youthful experiences have fashioned the philosophy of the slim, sandy-haired crusader.

Born on a farm, near Carduff, Sask., he has always taken a keen interest in economic problems. He believes Christianity should go hand in hand with political life. His interests are the welfare of Alberta's young people and the institution of the aggressive policies his party's sponsors.

Three years ago he took a course at the Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute and was its first graduate. Later he became his principal's secretary and final lieutenant. When Aberhart became interested in the principles of Social Credit, Manning became the fellow student. Three years ago they made an educational tour of the province.

An attempt was made the following year to persuade the government headed by Premier J. E. Brownlee to adopt their programme. When this failed they decided to make it a political issue. The newly-formed Social Credit party was voted into office at the Aug. 24 general elections and Manning was selected by his leader for one of the chief cabinet posts.

"People who say Social Credit is merely inflation and disguised socialism," Mr. Manning declared, "are ignorant of the 'just price' feature in our system," the farm-boy-economist believes. "We are not contemplating any radical changes. We will be making adjustments as we go along. We will go ahead with our aggressive ideas but we won't do anything to remember all of us entered into this in the spirit of a crusade. We're not politicians. When you realize there are tremendous numbers of people who need something done for them you instinctively want to do what is best." Manning has held office only short time but already benches bulge with visitors demanding audiences.

BOY'S VICIOUS ACTS PUZZLE PSYCHIATRISTS

HAMILTON, Sept. 17.—Psychiatrists are puzzling over the amazing case of a juvenile whose unnatural tendencies have resulted in his being detained in the Children's Shelter until some satisfactory solution is reached. Recently, while a mother was shopping in a store and left her baby outside, a 10-year-old boy was suddenly pedestrians heard agonized wails coming from the infant. The boy had decamped, and the mother, who rushed out to find out what had happened, found the baby's face had been pricked in no fewer than fifty different places by some sharp instrument, probably the pointed clasp from a pair of braces. The latest incident, the biting of a baby's finger, resulted in the apprehension of the culprit, who put up a terrific struggle before he was subdued. Mental specialists say the boy does not appear to be overly bright.

In addition to the reduction of the estimated clip, there is, compared with the present season, a greatly reduced carry-over. At the beginning of the season 1934-35 the carry-over was considered to be more than 200,000 bales, while this year it has decreased to about 80,000.

Cut Salaries Election Cry Of Filipinos

MANILA, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—Salaries of Philippine government officials are too high, says "Filipino Youth" and this political organization of college students and others, is trying to arouse public sentiment by picketing.

Jose Paez, general manager of the government-owned Manila Railroad, gets 24,000 pesos or $12,000 a year while wages of some laborers recently were cut from 40 to 30 cents a day proclaimed a "sandwich board" carried in the downtown section by one picket.

"And, for reasons of economy," lesser employees of the company "had to be discharged" the board added. "The road had a deficit of $50,000 in 1934."

The picketing procedure, new to Philippine politics, was adopted in the campaign leading to the election Sept. 17 when the first president of the new commonwealth will be chosen.

"Filipino Youth" pledged its support to Manuel Quezon for the presidency. Many members of an older and similar organization, "Young Philippines," rallied under the banner of General Emilio Aguinaldo.

Government salaries became an issue early in the campaign. The exchange has spread is taken as possibly presaging some economy action after the 10-year autonomous regime is established.

Bishop Gregorio Aglipay, head of the Philippine Independent Catholic Church, said in announcing his candidacy for the presidency that $15,000 stipend of the office was no consideration. He said he would "serve for nothing."

A Manila newspaper which is supporting Quezon recently published a table showing that Philippine salaries are much higher than comparable payments in Japan. It listed Frank Murphy, the American appointed governor-general, as receiving $18,000 a year as compared with $2,800 for Premier Okada and Quezon, as president of the island state, getting $6,000 to the $2,200 paid the president of Japan's house of representatives.

Polish Sailors Prefer English

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(C.P.)—"They take to English like sailors take to water," says Professor Joseph Stowski, the only known pedagogic practicing on the high seas, who has been teaching English for the past year to crew and officers of Gdynia-America Line ships. Ferrying back and forth from New York to Polish ports, the professor has been training an English-speaking crew for assignment to Poland's new motorliner, the Pilsudski, specially built for American traffic.

"When Poles have been accustomed to swallow such Polish names and words like dziaczko, trydziesci, Siewski, English words like "breakfast" gangway or even "Canajoharie" just roll off the tongues of the sailors. After a while I find that the men almost prefer to speak English—it takes comparatively so little effort."

The Australian Commonwealth

Factors C Recovery

An "Economic Review" issued by the Bank of New South Wales summarizes what has been achieved in the principal spheres of economic activity in the last three years. Since 1931, the circular process has been working under conditions of exchange stability lowered nominal wages, and lowered interest rates. Moreover, private enterprise has been "cushioned" from the effects of the fall of overseas exchange, and there has been the stimulus afforded by the provision of central bank credit and public spending on public works. The article is particularly interesting as a guide to action. "The course of the depression has brought home to Australia," it says, "the commonwealth's fact that our prosperity is in large part a reflection of overseas prosperity."

Wool Clip and Selling Plan

Australia's wool clip for the season 1934-35, which will begin on July 1 will amount to 2,930,000 bales. This is the estimate made by a joint conference of the Australian Woolgrowers Council and the National Council of Wool-selling Brokers of Australia. The total is 216,000 bales fewer than the estimate of 3,146,000 bales made for the season 1934-35 last June.

Drought conditions in many parts of the Commonwealth, and particularly in Queensland, are chiefly responsible for the decrease. Because of difficulties encountered in framing reliable estimates provision has been made for a review in November. It is estimated that the clip that is expected that 2,665,000 bales will be received through brokers' stores for sale throughout the Commonwealth. Last year the estimate of wool to be received in brokers' stores was 2,860,000 bales. At present it appears that this estimate will be slightly exceeded.

It is expected that 18 per cent of the clip will be crossed and all strong wool breeds, and that the balance will be merino. Taking an average of 308lb. a bale, it is expected that the new clip will show a total weight of 902,440,000lb. The average of 308lb. a bale was reached by taking an average of bale weights for the last two years. For the first 10 months of the present season the average bale weight was 310lb.

The conference affirmed the principle of extending the sales over nine or 10 months, the course which has been followed in the last two or three years. The selling season will begin on September 2 in Sydney, followed by Adelaide on September 6, Perth on September 16, and Melbourne on approximately September 16. The opening date for Brisbane will be announced later. The main selling season will extend until April, with winter sales to be held in May and June.

The conference decided that the quantity of wool to be offered before Christmas should not exceed 1,420,000 bales, is being understood that action would be taken to review the decision from time to time in the light of prevailing market conditions.

In addition to the reduction of the estimated clip, there is, compared with the present season, a greatly reduced carry-over. At the beginning of the season 1934-35 the carry-over was considered to be more than 200,000 bales, while this year it has decreased to about 80,000.
