Heroes And Goats

The world series this year was the big hero in the same has produced more heroes and ball game with a grand slam goats than we usually see in the home run clout which made the fall classic — more standout score 4-3 for the Cards instead heroes and goats, that is. Mick of 3-0 against them. In yester-Mantle started the hero parade day's game both Richardson by winning the third game with and Groat took turns wearing a dramatic smash into the up- the goat's beard, but Tresh's per deck. Richardson's failure to two-run homer partly erased Ri-get rid of the ball in time to ex- chardson's second bobble in as ecute a double play made him many days, and Tim McCar-the goat of the fourth game, and ver's three-run circuit smash Richardson, who has been a took Dick Groat out of the dog hero more than once, admitted house. McCarver at the same that his miscue meant the loss time established himself as the of the ball game. Ken Boyer big hero in place of Tresh.

Fielding Is Ragged

Seems to us the fielding is more ragged than it has been in former series. True, there have been a number of spectacular defensive plays, but the bobbles were costly, especially on the Yankee side and they made a flock of them. Two runners have been hung up between bases, and in both cases the runners made port. Linz of the Yankees and White of the Cardinals were the lucky guys.

Besides the big heroes, there were some others of lesser stature, and the Canadian Ron Taylor was one of them. His relief job, together with Craig's, saved the ball-game for the St. Louis team when they won 4-3. It's lose also.

First Time For Howard

Elston Howard is hitting well in this world series, but he is having a tough time behind the plate. For the first time in his major league career he had two passed ball in one game, and he added another in the next contest. Then he got himself an error by interfering with Ken Boyer's swinging bat, giving Boyer a base because of the interference. This, according to the announcer is a rarity and they couldn't recall another such incident in world series play. It happens more often down in our league. a Moncton catcher was penalized for such an infraction in their first game against Enman Drug.

We can't say much more right now that hearty congratulations to the Enman Drug softball team and the Junior Legionnaires for winning Maritime championships over the holiday weekend. Unfortunately we didn't see either game, but we intend to come back to this subject in our next column.

Mounties Wallop Saints

The Mounties scored eight touchdown in all; five of them were converted. Other scorers for Mount "A" were George Read and P. James with two each, and Pete Porter with a single. St. Dunstan's scored its lone touchdown late in the third quarter when John Driscoll went over from the three yard line after Cyril MacDonald made a spectacular end run.

CARD'S PITCHING-HITTING STARS

It was the pitching of Bob Gibson and the hitting of Tom McCarver that got the Cardinals off to their 5-2 victory over the Yankees in the 10 inning fifth world series game yesterday. And here are the stars in dressing room for the victory. That's Gibson (45) congratulating McCarver.

All-Stars Defeat Leafs; Boston Line Nets Winner

TORONTO (CP) — The 18th annual All-star game of the National Hockey League Saturday night opened tantalizing glimpses of talent - heavy teamwork in an otherwise sluggish contest that the all-stars won 3-2 over Toronto Maple Leafs, Stanley Cup Champions.

All-star coach Sid Abel of Detroit Red Wings put together a coach's dream line in Montreal centre Jean Beliveau, last season's Most Valuable Player, right winger Gord Howe of Detroit and left winger Bobby Hull of Chicago Black Hawks On power plays the Beliveau line had Stan Mikita and Pierre Pilote on the points.

The big line produced one goal - Beliveau from Hull and Howe at 13:52 of the second period-and came close on half -a-dozen spectacular bursts.

But the credit for injecting some last-half life into a ragged game went to two defenceman who opened the scoring and the other goals came from fourth-string lines.

A change of goal keepers midway through the game seemed to inspire a quicker pace among forwards frustrated throughout the first half by Glenn Hall of Chicago in the All-star goal and Johnny Bower in the Leaf net. Charlie Hodge of Montreal Canadiens replaced Hall at half time and Terry Sawchuk took over from Bower.

BOIVIN SCORES

Less than a minute later, at 10:47 of the second period, Leo Boivin of Boston Bruins beat Sawchuk on a drive from the blue line that was partly hidden by the Leaf defence.

Ken Douglas retaliated for the Leafs 58 seconds later on a similar long shot while Harry Howell of New York Rangers was sitting out a hooking penalty. Hodge saw it coming all the way but bobbled the puck behind the crease.

Hodge pulled off a tough save on a drive by Bob Pulford of the Leafs a minute later and the Beliveau line stepped up the pressure, taking the lead again when the big centre poked the puck past Sawchuk while both were falling in a goal-mouth scramble.

Bostonians Murray Oliver and John Bucyk, teaming on the All-star forward line while both teams were a man short on penalties, scored the winner at 6:11 of the third period. Bucyk received an off-target shot by Howell behind the Leaf net and centred to Oliver, who beat Carl Brewer and Sawchuk for the goal.

4 Gold Medals Awarded Mon.

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

TOKYO (CP)—The battle for Olympic honors opened up on a broad front Monday as a Japanese weightlifter, a German diver and swimmers from Russia and the United States captured gold medals.

At least one other country figured to enter the gold column today. Australia's swimmer Dawn Fraser, world and Olympic champion in the women's 100-metre freestyle was a clear favorite.

The U.S. was confident of drubbing the rest in most other swimming events but in at least three other sports, basketball, rowing and field hockey, much tougher battles are shaping up than had been anticipated.

In winning the featherweight weightlifting crown, Japan's Yoshinobu Miyake set an Olympic record of 874.5 pounds and a precedent. Japan had never before won an Olympic gold medal in the sport. The previous Olympic mark was 819.5 pounds by Evgeni Minaev of Russia in 1960.

PLACERS BEAT MARK

Isaac Berger of the U.S., Olympic champion in 1956, took the silver medal, Mieczyslaw Nowak of Poland the bronze, both bettering Minaev's mark with 841.5 and 839.5 pounds respectively.

Canada's Al Salter, an Ottawa accountant, hoisted a total of 684.5 pounds for 18th place.

Students of form from Rome didn't think Germany's Ingrid Kramer-Engel was as good as she had been in 1960 but she still had far too much strength and elegance for other competitors in duplicating her springboard victory of the Rome Games.

American girls took second, third and fourth places and, after the first two compulsory dives of the men's springboard competition, two Americans were ahead. Tom Dinsley of Vancouver, the 1963 Pan-American Games champion, was a disappointing 18th.

TAKES SWIMMING GOLD

An 18-year-old blonde from Tashkent, Galina Prorumenschkova, became the first Russian to win a gold medal in swimming by taking the women's 400 - metre breaststroke. Her time of 5:46.4 beat the Olympic mark of 5:48.3 set the previous day in a heat by another Russian, Svetlana Babinina.

Miss Babinina took the third-place bronze medal, behind Claudia Kolb of the U.S.

Don Schollander won the first U.S. gold medal, taking the 100-metre freestyle in a thrilling duel with Britain's Bobby McGregor. Schollander was timed at 53.4 seconds, McGregor in 53.5. The best previous was 55.2 by Australia's Jon Devitt in 1960.

Hans-Joachim Klein of Germany took the bronze medal.

In basketball, for the first time since it became an Olympic sport in 1936, nobody seemed prepared to bet heavily on a U.S. gold medal.

U.S. WIN 40TH STRAIGHT

The U.S. defeated relatively weak Finland 77-51 for its 40th consecutive victory since the Berlin Games but looked sluggish. Not until Finland's star player, Martti Lilme, went out on fouls was the U.S. able to get in front and stay there.

Russia had a hard time beating Mexico 87-76. Brazil defeated tough Yugoslavia 68-64 after losing to Peru in Sunday's opener. Peru in turn lost to Australia, 81-62, Monday.

Canada suffered its second straight defeat, a 70-59 loss to Hungary. John McKibbon of Montreal was again the top Canadian scorer with 16 points, one less than Hungary's best, Janos Racz.

The race for rowing honors appeared to be wide open, although Germany has gained the finals in five events.

Germany's famous Kiel-Ratzeburg eight had to go all out to put down a U.S challenge in the heats Monday and faces a mighty challenge in the final from the other heat-winners, Russia and Czechoslovakia. The U.S. and Canada also have first rate chances of getting through the repechage.

CANADA CREW SECOND

Canada's crew, from the University of British Columbia and the Vancouver Rowing Club, came second to Czechoslovakia in its heat.

The single sculls appeared anybody's race. Defending champion Vyacheslav Ivanov of Russia, upset by Don Spero of the U.S. in the heats, fought his way back in the repechage to reach the final. Canada's Leif Gotfredson was eliminated.

After two days of competition the U.S. had the most medals, one gold, three silver and a bronze, but Russia had two golds.

Alexey Vakhonin won Russia's first gold medal Sunday, beating Japan's favored Shiro Ichinoseki in the bantamweight weightlifting event.

Field hockey seemed it would become something more than a private feud between Pakistan and India. Pakistan rolled over Kenya 5-2, but India was held to a 1-1 tie by Germany. Australia beat Southern Rhodesia 3-0 for its second consecutive shutout victory and New Zealand looked good in a 2-0 win over Britain.

Mantle Belts Winning Run

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle's record - breaking 16th World Series home run on reliever Barney Schultz's first pitch in the ninth inning, a tremendous blow off the upper deck in right field, gave New York Yankees a 2-1 victory over St. Louis Cardinals Saturday and a 2-1 edge in the series.

Jim Bouton left nine Cardinals stranded on the bases while he matched pitch for pitch with Curt Simmons in a fine battle until Mantle ripped into the first ball dished up by Schultz, the 38-year-old knuckleball artist.

Richardson Takes Blame

By MIKE RATHET

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Richardson stood in front of the cubicle in the Yankee dressing room taking all the blame for the fouled-up double play attempt that led to the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 victory over New York in the World Series Sunday.

Phil Linz, however, refused to accept the plea of guilty and ruled his double play partner innocent.

Richardson explained his error on Dick Groat's grounder that loaded the bases and set up Boyer's grand slam homer.

"It was a ground ball hit to my right and I did not field it cleanly," said the Yankee second baseman. "It got stuck in my web. As Phil came across, I hesitated, throwing off his timing and when I threw it with my glove hand, Flood hit Linz and he couldn't handle the throw.

"It was my fault all the way."

Richardson also said it was his fault when Linz was hung up between second and third in the first inning. Linz had opened with a double, then looked like he was trying to steal third.
