Save Money On Tanks — Alistair Stewart (COP—Winnipeg North) was intrigued to find that Canada saved roughly $60,000 a tank when the Americans couldn't supply her needs and Canada had to buy British Centurions. They cost about $88,000 and are highly satisfactory, Mr. Stewart said. Mr. Stewart wanted to know why Canada didn't buy British tanks and jeeps if British tanks cost so much less. He was told this hasn't been considered. The reason was that she must be able to count on North American supply if at all possible. She had taken the Centurion simply because there was no North American tank available.

Legion Auxiliary Hold Meeting

Mrs. Atwood MacDonald presided at the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, Montague Branch, on Monday evening, April 21st, at the home of Mrs. Douglas McGowan.

The meeting opened with one minute silence followed by the roll call which was answered by nineteen members. There were four visitors present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Archie Hilchey, and approved as read.

The financial report was read by the treasurer, Mrs. George Freeman, who also reported that the pantry sale and auction sale had both been successful socially and financially. Correspondence included letters from T. Eaton and Co., Simpson's Ltd., and Mrs. James McConnell, secretary of the Legion Auxiliary of Georgetown.

Remnants were received from Eaton's and Simpson's and were given to the members to make up to articles for the fall bazaar. A gift of enough squares for a quilt was donated by Mrs. Neil Hooley and graciously received by the Auxiliary. Mrs. Malcolm MacKenzie, Mrs. Byron Stewart and Mrs. Hooley were re-appointed on the work committee for the next month.

Mrs. Arnold VanDerstine and Mrs. Harry Higginbotham were appointed on the sick committee for the next three months. The secretary was asked to send out well cards to two veterans in hospital, and the treasurer was instructed to send a letter and gift to another veteran who is convalescing at his home in Montague.

Mrs. MacDonald and Mrs. Hilchey were appointed as a committee to meet with committees of other organizations in the community to make necessary arrangements regarding the annual Scotch Gathering, which will be held this year in Montague, in July.

Mrs. Stewart was appointed on the program committee for next meeting.

A contest, presented by Mrs. Vernon MacLean, was greatly enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the hostess and several members at the close of the meeting.

KOREAN WAR COST

Europe under the Atlantic Pact mutual-aid program has not yet been allocated to her Allies by pact commanders.

3. Of the $351,000,000 set aside by parliament for mutual aid arms shipments and air training—up to the end of January, only $227,700,000 had been expended. (Parliament now has been asked to vote another $225,000,000 for the same purpose.)

The committee devoted its first sitting to asking questions of two deputy ministers—M. W. Mackenzie of Defence Production and C. M. Drury of Defence—about motor vehicle and tank programs. The main thing they learned was that three Ontario automobile plants are assembling about 5,000 trucks and jeeps of operational type for the army at a rate of 15 to 30 a week. Such orders are not enough to make much impact on the plants, Mr. Mackenzie said, but they might save Canada a year or 18 months if she must go into production in emergency.

IN MEMORIAM

JOSEPH A. MACDONALD

The residents of Souris and vicinity were shocked and saddened when on the morning of Sunday, March 16th, it was learned that a well-known and beloved resident, in the person of Joseph A. MacDonald had died in his sleep, in his room at the Lenox Hotel, where he had boarded for the past two years.

The deceased, who was born at Little Pond on March 5th, 1892, was the youngest son of the late Alexander and Kate MacDonald. His boyhood days were spent in that district and it was not until the death of his parents in 1928, that he moved to Souris and purchased the Clark property. He made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mulally for many years.

Being a great reader, he could discuss very intelligently the various topics of the times. Although in indifferent health for some time, he was actively engaged in the pulp and lumber business up to a short time previous to his death.

He leaves to mourn one sister, (Loretto), Mrs. Ralph McMillan, of California; three brothers, Jim, in Cambridge, Mass., Reginald in Souris, and Peter, Little Pond, and a host of relatives and friends, who will mourn his sudden passing.

On Sunday evening, March 16th, his remains were conveyed from the Dingwell Funeral Parlor to the home of his brother, Reginald MacDonald, where the numerous Mass Cards, messages of sympathy and an endless stream of visitors bore a silent tribute to the esteem of the deceased.

With almost impassable roads, his funeral was largely attended to St. Mary's Church, Souris, where Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Reverend Mons. J. A. Murphy and the obsequies at the grave by Reverend Pius Murnaghan.

The pall bearers were: Messrs. John William MacDonald, Sullivan MacDonald, and Neil McCormack from Little Pond; John J. McCormack, Monticello, and Joseph Millar and Fred Mulally, Souris.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHN H. SENCABAUGH

The residents of Oak Valley and vicinity were shocked to hear of the sudden passing of one of their highly respected citizens in the person of John H. Sencabaugh, who passed away in the King's County Hospital Montague, April 7th, in his 96th year.

Being in poor health all winter at his home where he was lovingly cared for by his dear ones, he entered the hospital hoping by doing to get some relief from his ailment, reports came daily of his improving condition, and all hoped for a speedy recovery, but on the evening previous to his passing he became worse and on the above date passed to be with his Lord whom he loved and served while on earth.

The late Mr. Sencabaugh was born in Murray Harbour North, the son of John and Louise (Sexton) Sencabaugh, in 1856. He was united in marriage with Mary Janet Graham also of Murray Harbour North to this union was born two sons and two daughters. He loved his home and family, and never spent any time from it only where his occupation called upon him to do so.

Preceded by a short service at the home at which by special request the hymn "The Great Physician Now is Near" was sung by his wife and son Rowan followed by prayer by Rev. Mr. Young of Montague, the remains were conveyed to the church at Murray Harbour North where large concourse of people were assembled to pay their last respects to one who had worshipped while there all his life, the minister speaking words of comfort to the bereaved, basing his remarks on the text, "let not your hearts be troubled," the following hymns all favorites of the departed were sung, "The Lord's My Shepherd," "Does Jesus Care" and "Blessed Assurance."

There are left to mourn the loss of a loving father and husband his sorrowing widow and the following family namely: Berry, Murray River, Rowan on the Bonstead, Mrs. Raymond Dewar, Montague, (Phoebe), Mrs. Percy King, Gaspareux; also ten grand children, 6 great grandchildren, brother R. William of Murray Harbour North and one sister, Mr. Margaret Reynolds, Augusta, Maine. The pallbearers all nephews were Harry, Clair, and George Johnston, and James, George and Wilbert Graham. He was tenderly laid to rest in the cemetery at Murray Harbour North, there to await the final resurrection.

Farwell, well beloved and take thy rest. We loved you well, but Jesus loved you best.

Card Of Thanks

The family of the late Joseph A. MacDonald wish to thank Messrs. J. A. Murphy, Rev. P. Murnaghan and all who sent Mass Cards and Messages of Sympathy, also the kind friends who provided signs for the funeral and who in any way helped during their sad bereavement.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. Williams

Whitehall Notebook

LONDON, April 21 — (CP) — Canada now has a four-child average family and her long-term rate of natural increase in population will probably be greater than that of Ceylon, Malaya or some Latin American countries, says an economic survey published in London.

The reference to Canada occurs in "Halfway to 1960," an article by Australian economist Colin Clark, published in Lloyd's Bank Review, and is cited to support the author's prediction that from now until 1970 the world's population will increase at the rate of approximately 1.4 per cent a year.

Using what he admits to be highly simplified and approximate figures, based on new French methods of determining population trends, Clark says that only England, Sweden and Denmark now adhere to the two-child average family of the 1930s. In Scotland and Australia the figure is 2.1 and there is a three-child average in the United States, France, Switzerland, Norway, Finland, Netherlands, Italy, New Zealand and among the whites of South Africa.

"Canada, with Spain and Portugal, now shows a four-child average family," writes Clark.

"It appears that these latter figures, ascending, now have passed the gradually-descending figures of many Oriental countries, such as Japan, India, Russia, in which the average size of family now appears to be at below four, and, of course, the Oriental mortality is far higher."

Long-term Increase

In another passage, Clark says that in countries such as Canada and Spain, the long-term rate of increase now probably exceeds that of the most rapidly-increasing Oriental countries, such as Ceylon, Malaya, or Latin America. (Latest figures show the Canadian birth-rate has increased from 22 per 1,000 of population in 1940 to 25.8 in 1950. A rate of 35 per 1,000 would be regarded as extremely high for a Western civilization.)

The trend towards increased world population contrasts with a contraction of world food supplies. Although some countries have increased productivity in agriculture, there is only a slight increase, or a definite decrease, in Asiatic countries, thus widening the gap between what Clark calls the "haves" and the "have-nots."

The pressure on world food supplies is increased by a growing demand for farm products, as living standards rise, and by a decline of rural manpower in most countries. In Canada and Australia, for instance, the male rural labor force dropped about 20 per cent between 1940 and 1950.

Clark declines to be checked, and will have to receive a further increase in their incomes of 80 per cent or more relative to the incomes of industrial workers."

Canadian Army Casualty List

OTTAWA, April 22 — (CP) — The army, in the 105th casualty list of the Korean war, today reported three men wounded in action. The last list was issued on April 15.

The list contained one man who suffered a second wound. He is Pte. Cecil Ernest Murphy of the 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. His next-of-kin is his mother, Mrs. Isabel Murphy of Drumheller, Alta.

The other wounded were Pte. Gordon Henry Bailey of the 1st Battalion of the P. P. C. L. I., and Gnr. Edward Bauer of the 2nd Field Regiment, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, Moncton, N. B.

Pte. Bailey's next-of-kin is his mother, Mrs. Margaret Bailey of Oak River, Man. His today next-of-kin is his wife, Mrs. Olga Eleanor Bauer of Ridgeville, Man.

This brought to 769 the number of casualties so far suffered in Korea, including 141 dead, 562 wounded, 61 injured, four missing and one prisoner.

Bristol and Vicinity

Miss Mabel O'Brien, president of the Teachers Federation, spent most of last week at the convention in the City.

Mr. Valentine MacDonald was a week-end visitor to his old home here recently for the first time in quite a while.

Miss Florence McDonald is spending some time in the City replacing her sister Bertha, who was called home to keep house for her father.

Mr. Joe Villard has received a call to report for his medical for the Royal Canadian Navy, and it is expected he will leave shortly for training.

Mr. Joe MacDonald, who has not been around the shore for a lot of years now, is expected to line up with the fishermen again this season.

Mr. Charlie Mosher was a business visitor to the City on Thursday, April 17th. Another visitor the same day was Mr. James Arthur Old.

Friends of Miss June Connolly, student nurse at the Charlottetown Hospital, will be sorry to learn she underwent an operation for appendicitis on April 17th. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Connolly.

The many friends of Mr. Roddie O'Hanley will be sorry to learn he entered the Provincial Sanatorium on Monday, April 21st, for treatment. Mr. O'Hanley has been off work for two years and was thought to be about ready to work again when he was ordered back for further treatment.

Miss Teresa O'Brien returned to her classes at Notre Dame Convent on Friday morning after spending the Easter holidays with her grandparents here, Mr. and Mrs. William MacDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Roddie O'Hanley were visitors to the old home here on April 20th. Their plans to spend the summer here have been shattered by the fact that Mr. O'Hanley entered the Sanatorium.

Miss Geraldine Barry, of the staff of the Charlottetown Hospital, spent the weekend of April 19th with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barry.

Mr. William MacDonald, C.N.R. section man here, informs us that his last summer on the road as his pension day comes this year. He has been thirty-five years on the job.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie MacDonald were visitors to this vicinity from the City on April 13, guests of Mrs. MacDonald's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cullen. Friends are glad to see Mrs. MacDonald out again after being confined to her home for several months.

Mr. James Byrne reports three deer around his farm in this vicinity during the week of April 16. They were so tame, he says, one ate grain out of his hand. Welcome visitors to this vicinity and anyone who sees them gives them feed and a handout.

The Morell River here is reported full of lovely trout for the first time in years, but to catch them is another thing. However, some nice ones were landed on opening day and we noticed that man Jenkins who brings fear to so many along the stream seeking those who had no permits to fish.

Rev. Frank P. Aylward, of the Saint Dunstan's University staff, was here on Sunday to replace the pastor of the two churches who is in Boston on a business trip. Father Aylward, a noted preacher, spoke at both churches at the Masses and conducted benedictions in the evening.

Mr. Joseph Walsh left on Wednesday morning, April 16th, for Boston to spend some time with relatives and friends and will attend the annual meeting of the Morell Club while there. Mr. Walsh worked in that City some forty years ago before he returned home to take up farming on the old homestead. He will be away until Saturday, April 20th.
