

DRAWBRIDGE RAMMED BY FREIGHTER

This is the wrecked drawbridge across the Trenton Channel of the Detroit River near Cross Island after it was rammed by the ore freighter John T. Hutchinson Friday. The freighter kissed the opening of the bridge and toppled one section of the structure and five automobiles into the channel close to the river's mouth at Lake Erie. "We think all people are accounted for" and there apparently were no injuries, a Cross Island police officer said. (AP Wirephoto)

Cardigan, Montague Clinics Need Blood Quota Of 170

Red Cross blood donor clinics at Cardigan and Montague on Thursday next will wind up next week's four day series which have a total objective of 1,000 donors to meet in order to keep the provinces Red Cross blood bank in good condition.

Cardigan's clinic will take place at the Legion home there Thursday afternoon, August 12 from 2 to 4 with a goal of at least 120 donors. Last year's results showed a registration of 98 donors, which was a considerable improvement over the previous year. The chairman, Alban J. Brothers, who heads the Legion committee, is hopeful of at least reaching the 120 mark this year with the co-operation of the local residents and those in the surrounding area.

The Montague branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, under the leadership of A.A. Fraser, has again assumed the responsibility of sponsoring the clinic for this area which last year was taken over by the Y's Men's Club of Montague while the Legion re-modelling project was in progress.

Montague has a quota of 150 donors for the two-hour period. While last year's registration was somewhat below this number, the committee in charge is hopeful of reaching the quota this year.

The new Legion home at Montague will be the locale of this year's clinic which has been held at the Beaver Club hall for the past 16 years.

PWC ACTION

student would be well known to school authorities.

JOINT MEETING
Last spring, shortly after his inauguration, Mayor Walter J. Cox arranged a joint meeting of City Council and the School Board at which time Dr. Lea, as spokesman for the Board, outlined his plans for the future. He told of the expected need of a high school in view of a foreseeable creation of Prince of Wales as a degree-granting university. It is believed other meetings with civic authorities have been held to acquaint them with progress of the situation. The School Board is a body specifically set up by legislation and is responsible for education in the City of Charlottetown. However, since it has no taxing powers all funds for its use must be provided from civic revenues.

Noting the approximate $200,000 cost of the new structure Dr. Lea said representations were being made to other levels of government (meaning other than City Council) for financial aid to ease the already heavy strain on civic finances caused by educational costs.

Fortune Teller Is Blamed For Woman's Death
LONDON (CP)—A group of Canadian doctors report in the current British Medical Journal the case of a woman who might have been scared to death—literally—by a fortune teller.

Doctors A. R. Elkington, P. R. Steele and D. D. Yun of the Grenfell Labrador Medical Mission, based in Ottawa, suggest British doctors might contribute to fuller understanding by reporting any similar cases.

The woman in the Canadian case had been told at the age of five by a fortune teller that she would die at 43.

British Parliament Recesses, Mood Is Troubled By Economy
By CARL MOLLINS
LONDON (CP)—Parliament began a 12-week vacation Friday in a troubled mood over the precarious state of the country's economy and a threat of deepening problems in the weeks ahead.

Prime Minister Wilson's Labour government, which took office last Oct. 16 on a pledge to give the lagging economy a lift, has spent many of the 292 days since then devising a succession of emergency measures to prevent the collapse of sterling, currency for a quarter of the world.

At the same time, the government has been working on programs designed to tackle the trouble at its roots by boosting the efficiency of management and the productivity of manpower in British industry.

The question is whether Britain can survive the strain of spending more than she earns long enough for the corrective measures to take hold. If not, the country must take a further heavy dose of austerity and perhaps devalue the pound.

Before heading for a family holiday on the Scilly Isles in the Atlantic off Land's End Wilson assured Parliament that the government and the Bank of England are determined to avoid devaluation.

J. Frank Willis, Quartet Appear

One of the most unusual productions at the Charlottetown Festival '65 this season features J. Frank Willis, Halifax-born internationally-renowned radio personality and the famed Harmony Harbor Quartet. They appear together Sunday night, at Confederation Centre.

Some of Canada's most memorable radio and television programs have featured the warm, knowledgeable voice and personality of Mr. Willis. Most recently he is known for a program called "Flanders' fields," a broadcast history of the Canadian Corps in the First World War as told in the first person by surviving veterans.

The sound of rolling surf and sea gulls' cries for many years ushered in "Harmony Harbor," a radio program of shanties, sea songs and tales of the sea heard across the country from Halifax. Along with their nostalgic theme song, "Shenandoah," the Harmony Harbor Quartet built up on this program a repertoire of more than 600 songs with a nautical flavor.

The summer months and September traditionally deal harshly with the reserves, as Britons spend heavily on vacations abroad and imports of commodities such as wheat and tobacco are high. But the drain also results from faltering confidence by financiers who convert sterling holdings into safer gold or dollars.

Britain's chances of weathering the pressure in the coming weeks depend on the success of measures to cut back imports and encourage exports—though some experts believe their full impact will take months—and on how seriously foreign financiers regard Britain's efforts to tidy up its economic affairs.

SOMETHING To Think About . . .
If your furnace is over 10 years old, you may be money ahead to give it a good, close look!

HERE'S WHY:
The usual "life expectancy" of ordinary furnaces is about 10 years.

BUT EVEN MORE IMPORTANT
There have been so many wonderful improvements in the last 10 years you have a right to be discontented if you don't have a modern LENNOX heating system! If you do not have a LENNOX heating system call us TODAY.

Wheat Acreage In Canada Down 5 Per Cent From '64
OTTAWA (CP)—The acreage sown to wheat in Canada this year is estimated at 26,282,300 acres, down five per cent from 1964, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Friday.

Last year's wheat acreage was 27,685,800, the largest in history. The average acreage in the 10-year period 1953-62 was 24,224,400.

DBS said farmers in Western Canada planted four per cent fewer acres in spring wheat this year than they did in 1964, while winter wheat acreage—mainly in Eastern Canada—was down 20 per cent.

The bureau, reporting on surveys made in June and consultations with provincial agricultural officials, said farmers this year also reduced the acreage sown to oats to 9,621,000, down one per cent from 1964.

ACREAGES UP
Acreages devoted to growing barley and flaxseed, however, were higher. Barley acreage was up 11 per cent to 6,037,600, flaxseed up 13 per cent to 2,239,000.

Rapesed, grown for its oil, established a record this year in acreage planted, 1,435,000, an increase of 81 per cent.

The report covered 16 spring-planted field crops and said the aggregate area was a record of 51,000,000 acres, compared with 50,600,000 in 1964. Together with crops planted last fall and summer-fallow—land left idle to restore its fertility—land filled this year amounted to 91,200,000 acres, compared with 90,500,000 last year.

Some of these will be heard Sunday night with Mr. Willis in a program of songs and verses of the Open Sea. For the All-Canadian Festival at Charlottetown, the Sunday program promises to be one of the highlights.
