

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

NOVEMBER 28, 1882.

Editorial Notes.

A Significant Fact! During the last year there has been a considerable falling off in Great Britain in the excise revenue for Spirits and Beer.

A correspondent of the Moncton Times at Sackville refers to the progress made in the construction of the Cape Tormentine Railway, and gives credit to the contractors, as well as Josiah Wood, Esq., M. P., who, he says, is proving that his ante-election promises in regard to the railway were not like those of the former member for that County.

The statement that Mr. Hackett had accepted employment from the Canada Pacific Railway Company, was made in the Prince County papers. The EXAMINER supposed the report to be true, and went the length of admitting its truth; and on that admission the Patriot, it seems, built up its violent and libellous Philippic. But how about the statement of the Patriot that Mr. Hackett made his bargain with the Syndicate previous to the General Election? Neither the Summerside papers nor THE EXAMINER said so. That was a statement deliberately coined. We fear the "bitter fruit" is still troubling our contemporary.

They are having lively times in Manitoba—political as well as financial. All parties remain agreed as to the necessity of insisting upon the right of the Province to charter railway Companies to do business within its borders. But the Government party desire the authorization of the people to bring the matter to a legal test, while, on the other hand, the Opposition party say that Mr. Norquay's Administration who passed the railway charters which have been disallowed, should be turned out and they should be put in—as a protest against the disallowance. Calm and reasonable Manitoba's will undoubtedly sustain Mr. Norquay.

The New York Herald says: "The news from Pennsylvania is that two crippled persons—Richard Huffman and Emma Rogers—suddenly and unaccountably got well the other day, contrary to medical advice, by a resolute indulgence to the conviction that they could and would get well by faith alone. Having a positive opinion that you will get well, and getting well forthwith, in consequence, is one of the simplest and cheapest kinds of cures of which we have heard lately, and we advise the people to try it. Possibly it would cure half the invalids. This remedy is like a great many of the patent medicines are said to be, in one respect at least—it will do no harm to try it. If it does not cure it will not make you any worse. There is no apothecaries' stuff around and there are no bills to pay."

A week or two ago it was heralded throughout the world that Mr. Parnell was not practising what he preached to the unfortunate tenantry of Ireland. He was accused of issuing ejectionment processes against some of his tenants. The Dublin Freeman, in explanation of the matter, says "the statement as to ejectionment processes having been issued against some of his tenants by Mr. Parnell, involves a substantial inaccuracy. The facts are these: The local secretary of the Emergency Committee of the Property Defence Association, holding a farm from the Parnell family, on a lease forever, at an exceedingly low rent, sublets the holdings to three tenants, at about three times greater rent than he was paying to Mr. Parnell, while at the same time he pressed for his own pound of flesh from the tenants, one of whom he actually ejected. To secure his own rights, Mr. Parnell obtained judgment against this middleman, and it was legally necessary to serve copies on the sub tenants. The legal process is, of course, solely directed against the middleman."

Writing at Regina—to which the Rev. Mr. Osborne sets out to-morrow—a correspondent of the Toronto Mail remarks: "I now find a busy, thronged village with about 800 inhabitants, and in the neighbourhood of 200 frame houses and places of business, and scores of others in the course of erection, comprising churches, banks, and stores befitting the chief town of a province richer in agricultural resources perhaps than any other province in the Dominion. The country surrounding Regina is a vast expanse of soil that I think cannot be excelled for the growth of cereals—a rich friable clay loam with a large percentage of black vegetable mould intermixed with calcareous matter, which appears to be the remains of shells and the bones of animals, to a depth of from six to twenty feet, as seen by the excavations for cellars and walls. I have no doubt but that the land in this neighbourhood is more than usually rich in phosphates, and will be found to produce heavier crops of grain than even the prolific valley of the Red River. I am credibly informed that seventy-five bushels of oats have been reaped from one acre of first breaking, not far from Regina.

PROFESSOR EASTY gave his farewell reading last evening "The Charge of the Light Brigade," "L'Alcazar de Vera de Vera," "Gisela," and other dramatic selections were admirably well given.

Bank of P. E. Island.

JUDGMENT in the Supreme Court in the matter of the set off claimed was given by Mr. Justice Peters on Monday. His Honor's decision is a long and able one, and in it he fully examined the law of set off in its relations with Insolvent Banking Companies. It settles the argument that a Shareholder can when a call is made upon him for his double liability under the Charter, set off against it any amount which the Bank at the time of its failure owed to him. This, of course, will make a material difference in the assets of the Bank, and the result is, that all shareholders will obtain payment of their debts or deposits in full in preference, to other creditors of the Bank who will only get whatever the dividend of the assets can pay.

A motion was made for leave to appeal, which the Judge granted. For the liquidators the question was argued by R. R. Fitzgerald, Q. C., and the shareholders were represented by L. H. Davies, Q. C., and F. Peters, Esq.

Address to the Rev. Alfred Osborne.

The following Address was presented to the Rev. Alfred Osborne, yesterday afternoon, on his leaving Prince Edward Island for the distant City of Regina—together with a handsome pocket book, containing the sum of one hundred and twenty-three dollars:—

(DRAFT.) To the Reverend ALFRED OSBORNE, late Assistant Minister of St. Paul's Church, Charlottetown:

REVEREND AND DEAR SIR,—The knowledge of your intention to remove from this Parish, where you have laboured for the past seven years, has caused the deepest pain and regret to your many friends. We cannot allow you to sever your connection from us without conveying to you our appreciation of the untiring energy and unflinching zeal which you at all times brought to the discharge of your varied duties. There is not a family in the Parish but has learned to know and respect you, and hardly one but feels in your removal not only the loss of a much loved Pastor but a warm and valued friend. In times of health and of sickness, in seasons of joy and of sorrow, you have made yourself a welcome visitor to our homes and firesides, and the loss of your well timed counsel and sympathy, which was at all times ready and open as well to the poor as the rich, will be felt all the more deeply as your absence brings their want more forcibly to our minds.

We feel that your ministrations in the Church have been productive of a great good to the people who have joined with you from time to time in the praise and worship of God; and we venture the belief that your counsel and warnings have not been lost upon a soul to whom they have been from time to time addressed.

You carry with you to your distant home our most earnest prayers for your success; and we pray that God may bless you and yours, and give you many years of health and strength to work for His glory. In bidding you adieu we beg that you will accept the accompanying purse contributed by the Congregation of St. Paul's, and that you will convey to Mrs. Osborne our warmest wishes for her health and happiness.

JOHN INGS, Church Warden of St. Paul's Church. THOMAS MACKINLAY, St. Paul's Church. HENRY J. CUNDALL, A. B. WARBURTON, R. F. DEBLOIS, S. SIDNEY GREY, VESTRYMEN. H. JAMES PALMER, ALEXANDER HORNE, Charlottetown, P. E. I., Nov. 27th, 1882.

To Messrs. John Ings and Thomas Mackinlay, Churchwardens of St. Paul's Church; and Henry Cundall, A. B. Warburton, R. F. DeBlois, Sydney Grey, H. James Palmer, Alexander Horne, Vestrymen:

GENTLEMEN AND DEAR FRIENDS,—None can regret more than I that I have felt it necessary to sever my connection with St. Paul's.

It is a source of happiness to me that my labors have been appreciated by the Congregation. Truly I can say that I have ever tried to be honest both in speech and work. I feel most of all that parting with many personal friends, and shall often think of the "homes and firesides" where I have passed many happy hours. It is possible, dear friends, that we may meet no more in this world, but I trust we shall take up our friendship again where there will be no more parting.

If any soul has been led, through my ministrations, to live a real life for God, to Him be the glory! Mrs. Osborne thanks you kindly for your "warmest wishes" on her behalf, and for both many happy hours. It is possible, dear friends, that we may meet no more in this world, but I trust we shall take up our friendship again where there will be no more parting.

Yours, very affectionately, ALFRED OSBORNE, Charlottetown, P. E. I., Nov. 27th, 1882.

The Latest Dublin Murder.

Messrs. Eastwood and Cox and another detective of the Dublin force went together on special duty in the neighborhood of Sackville street, on Saturday night last, tracking a party of men suspected of being Fenians. Four shots were fired at the offenders, one fatally wounding Cox. Eastwood pursued a man who fired a revolver and shot him in the head, arm and hand. The man is not expected to recover. He was among a group of ten men, one of whom (who attempted to hurry the murderer away) was captured by a soldier of the Rifle brigade, who drew his bayonet and threatened to run him through if he did not surrender. Cox was shot in the base of the skull and must have died instantly. He was 30 years old and his assailant whose name is Christopher Dowling, is about the same age. A third man is also in custody. It is now stated that Dowling, who shot Detect vs Cox, will recover. A despatch from Dublin, dated the 26th inst., says that one of the detectives who was fired at, last night, in middle Abbey street, was previously warned that if he left the police office he would be shot. Cox's assassin has six bullet wounds, three in the head, one in the right shoulder, one in the neck, and two in his wrists. There was a lively exchange of shots for a few seconds between the officers and the men. The same despatch says that Dowling, whose condition remains unchanged, has observed a reckless demeanor in the hospital. While the doctors were examining his wounds, and searching for bullets, he exclaimed, "Probs away and be d—d to you." Further inquiry tends to confirm the opinion entertained that the men engaged in the encounter with the police were waiting for some one with the reputation of murdering law.

A SUDDEN death, under peculiar circumstances, took place in London, Ont., on the 25th inst. The neighbors heard a great row going on in the house occupied by a man and his wife named Butt, and rushed in. Mrs. Butt exclaimed, "I am dying," and shortly after expired. It is said that she and her husband quarrelled, and that he gave her a severe beating in answer to her demands for food.

WE were, yesterday, shown a variety of fish-eating birds, selected by Lieut. Col. Duvar, as part of the Island Exhibit at the London Fisheries Exhibition. They consist of Gulls (great and small), Loons, Fish-hawks, Kingfishers, etc. They were staffed by Fred Earle, and their present appearance shows that he is a taxid rmist of superior taste. We regret to learn that the selections made by Col. Duvar are not to form a separate exhibit of the fish, fish-eating birds, shells, etc., of the Province. They have been ordered to Halifax and will be forwarded from that place to form a part of the Dominion Exhibit at London. Had Prince Edward Island been allowed to have a separate exhibit, we feel sure that under the supervision and with the careful selection of Col. Duvar, our little province would occupy a prominent position in the great London Show.
