20% Increase Predicted In Island Swine Population

Prince Edward Island's hog production is expected to show a considerable increase in 1958 according to figures released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The report shows that while 5,000 sows farrowed in the December-May period, 1957, some 6,000 sows are expected to farrow in the same period, 1958.

While Prince Edward Island's gain is expected to be 20 per cent, the national expected gain is around 23 per cent with particularly heavy increases predicted in Manitoba and British Columbia.

CATTLE DOWN
A slight decrease of 0.8 per cent is noted in the Canadian cattle population. It is the first time since 1950 that such a development has occurred.

The D. B. S. report based on the December survey indicates that the upward trend in United States swine is about the same as in Canada with perhaps a slight increase noted.

The U. S. cattle production, cut back earlier because of drought, may be starting to build up again. North America as a whole is reported to have ample supplies of feed on hand.

Continuing the report states: "In trying to assess what these intentions may mean to the prospective pork supply in 1958, it should be remembered that past experience has shown that plans are sometimes changed after December."

"When a very substantial increase is indicated, there is always the possibility that some producers will scale their previous plans downward. On the contrary, other farmers, in view of the relatively good market prices for hogs so far this winter, may operate in the other direction, particularly when the feed supply is as good as it is at the present time."

MARKET OUTLOOK
"At the moment, therefore, it appears that Canadian pork output will be at least 10 per cent larger than last year during the first six months, with a considerably larger percentage increase during the latter half of the year. In this period of 1957, marketings were of course lighter than in 1956. Pricewise, it seems unlikely that this year the unusually sharp seasonal advance from spring to summer in 1957 will be repeated. On the other hand, domestic consumption is likely to stay at higher levels and the export movement may be better."

"The cattle population at December 1, 1957, was estimated to be 10,233,000 compared to 10,379,000 the year before. Classes of cattle showing decreases included dairy cows and heifers, beef heifers, steers and bulls. Beef cows and calves registered increases."

"In the case of steers, the province of Ontario was an exception to the general trend, showing a 6.7 per cent gain. Steer numbers in the Prairie Provinces showed a reduction, mainly due to the substantial export of feeder cattle to the U. S. A. during the last quarter of 1957."

"Without this movement, December cattle population figures would have shown a gain rather than the reverse, although there appears to have been a rather significant reduction in yearling beef heifers."

HEAVY EXPORT TO U. S.
"The smaller steer population, coupled with the reduced movement of stocker and feeder cattle back to the country through commercial channels, seem to add up to rather moderate marketings of fed cattle this spring and summer. On the other hand, a comparatively heavy movement of cattle has occurred into U. S. feedlots this winter, although at January 1st slightly fewer cattle were reported on full feed than a year ago. In December, however, farmers in nine main Corn Belts States bought a record number of cattle to put on feed."

"According to the Bureau's December survey, Canadian sheep numbers were 3 per cent higher than a year ago, with the major gains occurring in Ontario and Alberta. This moderate increase will not greatly affect the total meat supply."

STABILIZATION ACT
"The passage of the Agricultural Stabilization Act at the last session of Parliament guarantees hog and cattle producers a minimum price in 1958 equal to at least 60 per cent of the average of the last 10 years. Higher supports than this minimum level may be designated, but at the moment there has been no indication of what they may be."

"At the present time, both hog and cattle prices are considerably above the minimum base price and as long as this situation prevails, there is unlikely to be any support programme necessary."

MOSTLY FOREST
Nearly three-quarters of Finland's 130,000 square miles is covered by forests.

Large Numbers Attend Y.P.U. Conference Spite Of Storm

The storm Saturday was not enough to prevent almost 60 Young People of the Eastern Presbytery of the United Church from attending a weekend Lenten conference held at Trinity Church, Charlottetown.

At an opening banquet held in the Church Social Hall Saturday evening Rev. A. Frank MacLean addressed the Young People on the general theme of the conference which was Faith, Hope and Love as exemplified in the Gospel according to St. John. Lane Douglas substituting for the President Garth Coffin, presided.

Following the banquet the groups participated in a hearty sing-song led by Allison MacKinnon with Mrs. K. S. Rogers as accompanist.

Discussion groups were led by Rev. Howard Christie, Frank Gosbee, Mr. MacKinnon and Mrs. Rogers. Recreations were conducted by Miss Gladys MacMillan. The closing devotions for the evening were conducted by three boys from the Mount Stewart Young People's Union.

The out of town delegates were billeted with people of the Church and attended morning worship with their hosts. During Sunday afternoon two more interesting discussion periods were held and it was seen from the active participation taken by the members that a worthwhile meeting had been held.

The conference closed with Holy Communion conducted by Rev. A. Frank MacLean.
