As to "giving publication to any imaginary wrong" we must say that we take a practical view of affairs and do not care much for sentimental grievances. Now we ask Mr. Rowe and those who think with him to say if the following facts represent an imaginary wrong or not? Sometime since not more than a year and a few months ago, nearly all the Catholic Boys in Charlottetown were taught in the old chapel school house. There were three teachers who did a large amount of work and received something above £200 a year from the government. The time arrived when the building became too small for the increased number of children who attended the school. The Catholics set to work and built St. Patrick's Hall, a staff of trained teachers,—first class educators,—men whose whole lives are devoted to successfully perform their duties were given charge of the school. They do an immense amount of work in educating the same children—as attended the old Chapel school—yet they receive not a single cent from the government. The position of affairs is just this—all the Catholic children in Charlottetown are receiving as good secular education as they could get in the government schools, and the government does not give anything towards defraying the expenses of the Catholic schools. You say that is because these schools teach religion, and the public funds should not be given for religious purposes. Very well! on our own grounds we say, why not the public funds be devoted in fair proportion to pay for the secular teaching done in these schools? Now, other places are in the same position as Charlottetown is, in regard to this question. Then take the Prince of Wales College; it draws a large amount from the public funds and not a Catholic student is in attendance there. The Catholics have a college of their own, that gives secular education, remember, to as many as are taught in Prince of Wales College, yet this secular education is not paid for, aided nor assisted in any way from the public funds, towards which the Catholics are made to contribute. They have to support their own college and schools, as well as to help the fund for the Prince of Wales College and government schools! We can not come to any other conclusion than that there is a "wrong" somewhere about all this, and a very grevious one at that.

Although our correspondent objects to the assumptions we make that all those who built or contemplate building schools are conscientiously opposed to sending their children to other schools than religious schools, yet we think we are correct. Our remarks are more applicable, it is true, to the City and places simularly situated than to country districts. The fact is the people of the city had to provide other schools especially for their daughters. Rev. Mr. Duncan said at a public meeting recently, 'that the failure on the part of every government on this Island to provide for the higher education of females had occasioned a very serious gap in our public school system. This want is both marked and extraordinary in its nature.'

How can we come to any other conclusion than that those who have filled up the 'gap' and that those who are about doing so are conscientiously opposed to the state of the school system as it exists by law! People generally do not pay money for anything of this kind that they are not conscientiously desirous of having.

As we will necessarily have to discuss this question—if forced upon us—we must let this answer suffice for the present. Though our correspondent has partially complied with our request to give us his views we wish him to resume them more fully. It is by getting the views of others on this subject that real objections may be met and a satisfactory solution on the existing difficulties can be found. Mr. Rowe on reading this number of the EXAMINER, we venture to say, will agree with us that it is about time that some reforms in our school system, or at least the working of the system were made. Indeed we hope to have the pleasure ere long to get him around to our way of thinkink about the whole question.

FIRE IN ST. JOHN, N. B.

A WHOLE SQUARE DESTROYED.

The St. John Telegraph of the 22d inst. says:

"One of the most disastrous and extensive fires that ever visited St. John took place this morning, commencing about one o'clock and continuing its fury up to the hour of our going to press—5 o'clock. It originated in the middle of the block bounded by Charlotte, Union and Sydney streets and King Square, some attributing it to the rear of Hamm's stables, others to Donohue's stables, while it is said by others that it was first seen in the rear of Bread's shops. It is a matter of little consequence, however, now, where the origin was, the results are so serious that the public attention is almost exclusively directed to them."

The following is a list of the persons whose property has been destroyed:

KING SQUARE.

Messrs. Purvis & Moore, under the Park Hotel, removed the larger part of their stock. What was left was considerably damaged by water; J. W. Thompson, Fountain House; J. M. F. Whiting, Grocery store beneath do.; Wm Finley, store; J. Flood's Livery Stable; A. Mundee, Liquor Store; M. McCrossin, Grocery and Provision Store; J. B. Hamm's livery stable; James Jones, liquors; Crawford's Hotel; J. Crawford's Grocery; R. Duncan's stable; Geo. Scribner's liquor store; E. Flaglor, North American House; Sweeney's liquor store; Lester's Auction Room; J. A. Sheehan, liquors. All the above are totally consumed, together with much of the furniture, stock, etc., contained in each place. On the buildings were wiped out nearly as effectually and fully as on King Square. The following are amongst the sufferers:

UNION STREET

Elisha Broad, dwelling house; Union Hotel, with McGuinis' harness shop; J. Donohue's stable; T. O'Connor's grocery store; A. Johnston, tailoring establishment; F. G. Mott, store; W. Douglas, liquor store; John Hopkins, sausage shop; P. Ganter, Carleton House; John Masson, sadler. The flames spread to on the east, about half-past two, and played about the brick building on Breese's corner. The following are amongst those who were turned out of the burning buildings on that street:

CHARLOTTE STREET,

C. L. McGready, Groceries; B. Price, Groceries; Archibald Sinclair, Groceries; ——Wilson, Boarding Stable; J. Bell, Horse Shoer; Provincial Hotel; Titus & McDonald, Groceries; J. K. Campbell, New Brunswick Hotel; E. Farren, Harness Maker; D. E. Leach, Liquors.

In Crawfords cellar on King Square there were 15 casks of kerosene oil which blazed up and made an intensely hot fire, and explosions were of quite frequent occurence.

The occupants of Breeze's building were: H. Rebertson, Glassware and Crockery; R. D. McArthur, Druggist; Duden Breeze, Groceries, Provision and Country Produce.

They were all obliged to move more or less of their stock though the building was not consumed.

The Islander, referring to a caucus meeting at Mr. Reilly's residence, on the 12th inst., says: "Accidentally was discovered in an adjoining room to that which were assembled the supporters of the Government, Mr. David Laird, editor of the Patriot, and M. P. P., for Belfast." The adjoining room alluded to was the business office of the Herald, where Mr. Laird "accidentally" called, when returning from tea, on business relating to a printing press. If the editor of this paper is such an important personage, that his every movement has to be published, how is it that some dozen other calls which he made both at the office of Mr. Rielly and of Mr. Ings, since the commencement of the present year, have not been noticed in the Islander?—Patriot.

The editor of the Patriot is not such a bad fellow after all. Whilst he was boiling over with virtuous indignation at what he called the "base lies" of the Herald man, and whilst he called down the vengeance of the man of Rassa and Rona upon the Government for keeping in their employ the man whom the Patriot said ridiculed them, he was actually on visiting terms at the Herald office.

RENFORTH.

What did they say in England?
When the story there was told,
Of the deed sublime, by coaly Tyne,
To win the purse of Gold;
Of Jonathan —proud at noon-tide,
Humbled ere set of sun;
They'll say, 'twas like old England,
They'll say, 'twas nobly done.

What did they say in England?
When hushed in awe and dread,
Fond hearts thro' all her happy homes,
Thinking of Renforth, dead;
They muse in silent anguish,
For their darling son;
They'll say in dear old England,
Let His holy will be done.

What did they say in England?
In sorrow it was said,
The widow's withered heart has found
The price that she has paid.
The gladness that her home has lost,
For all the glory won;
They'll say in christian England,
God's holy will be done.

Why yes, in dear old England,
Renforth's name, both night and day,
Is in their hearts, and on their lips,
When they laugh, or weep, or pray;
They watched on earth, they plead with heaven,
For all their safe return;
But now, through all old England,
For their champion son they mourn.

J. M. JOHNSTONE.

Cumberland Hill, Sept 14, 1871.

The Patriot is wrong in supposing that we wish to avoid the Contract discussion. He will find himself mistaken. We have been looking into things for ourself. Our 'interview' had for its object to get early information for our readers. If the Patriot does not wish us well we cannot help that, but we have a right to expect that a gentleman that prides himself upon being an officer of the church should write of others in a better spirit.

HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP MCINTYRE addressed the Congregation in St. Dunstan's Cathedral, yesterday. He showed very fully the duty of the people in regard to giving their children a sound religious education, and he also made some very suggestive remarks on the Temperance Question.

THERE are four Italians favoring the citizens with good street music. They have two harps and two violins, and perform upon them in true Italian style.

The Bookstore of Mr. Laird was broken into on Sunday night, and sundry articles were stolen. We hope the burglers will be discovered and brought to justice.

There can be no farther doubt as to the existence of Rings; there being 4.000 of a first rate article for sale at Falconer's Keith, & Co.

The Patriot recommends the Government to use Flagg's Instant Relief. "How are you off for Stamps."

The many friends of Rev. Mr. Trudelle will be glad to learn that he is back amongst them.

The Advocate is 'premature' in announcing the opening of the Railway.

Published by order of the Board of Education.

Quarterly Report of the Visitor of Schools for Queen's County.

April 5th, 1871.

To the Hon. the Members of the Board of Education,

GENTLEMEN,—

I beg leave to submit my Quarterly Report. I have visited, during the past quarter, upwards of One hundred and twenty schools. Of these I have specially to report the following schools as being deficient, at the date of my visit, in the several school requisites specified. I request the special consideration of your Board upon the matter, as the Trustees of all the undermentioned schools were repeatedly notified by me to provide the school necessaries here indicated. The schools numbered 4 5, 6 7, 8, 12, 16, 18, and 19, were specially reported to your Board, in a communication dated June 20th, 1870, but the Trustees of these schools deny having ever heard of it. Such infractions, when not dealt with, have a very damaging effect.

1. Rear, Orwell, Lot 57, new maps required
2. Cumberland, Lot 65, new maps and an out-house much needed.
3. Nine Mile Creek Lot 65, new maps and an out-house required.
4. Little York, Lot 34, repairs of house, new desks and seats, blackboard, and new maps, all urgently required. Out-house in a very bad state. This case should be summarily dealt with.
5. Cove Head Road, Lot 34, an out-house much needed
6. Suffolk Road, Lot 34, new maps required.
7. Mount Buchanan Grammar School, Lots 57 and 58, wall maps required, of Europe, Asia and North America.
8. Alexandra, Lot 49, an out-house very much needed.
9. Canoe Cove, Lot 65, new maps and blackboard needed.
10. Long Creek, Lot 65, an out-house much required.
11. Crapaud West, Lot 29, House, furniture, maps, blackboard, and out-house, all unfit for the purposes of teaching. This school should be closed at the expiration of the present teacher's engagement, unless the Trustees bestir themselves immediately to provide for the erection of a new house,
12. Bluefield, Lot 31, new maps and a blackboard required.
13. Brookvale, Lot 30, Mary Ann Trainor, teacher. House very bad, small, and near the road. No regulations posted in the School room.
14. Pisquid East Lot 37, new house, furniture and blackboard required.
15. Ten-Mile-House, Lot 35, blackboard required.
16. Lake Verd, Lot 49 blackboard required.
17. Monaghan, Lot 36, blackboard and out-house much needed,
18. Fort Augustus Grammar School, Lot 36, maps of the Hemispheres, Europe, North America, new desks and seats all urgently needed. This case should be summarily dealt with.
19. Donagh, Lot 35, blackboard needed.
20. Backroad, Lot 48, John Stewart, teacher, no regulations posted in the School room
21. Cavendish Grammar School, new and improved furniture, and three wall maps urgently needed.
22. Hope River, Lot 22, blackboard needed.
23. Irishtown, Lot 20, blackboard needed.
24. St. Ann's Lot 22, new maps, blackboard and out-house all urgently required
25. New Wiltshire, Lot 31, new maps and an out house much needed
26. Toronto, Lot 23, additional seats and desks required, and new maps
27. Central Royalty, James Kennedy, teacher, regulations not posted in School room,
28. St. Ignatius, Florence Peters, Teacher. I report this teacher for neglect of duty. (1) In not attending to my suggestions, made at a previous visit regarding the Geography class (2). In not having the regulations posted in the School room, though he was warned once before to that effect (3). In having the Trustees book at his lodgings, and my previous entries being torn out, having it filled with what he called a "drama;" meanwhile alleging that the book was lost, till he was compelled by me to find it. (4) In that the general state of the school was very bad indeed, even for a "French School."

Having visited the City Schools, during the past few days, I have to report as follows:—

Schools in the City receiving Government Pay.

SCHOOLS.	TEACHERS.	PUPILS REGISTERED.	PUPILS PRESENT ON DAY OF VISIT.
Normal School	J. Arbuckle, jr. Esq. E. Roche, Esq.	106	100
Model School	Miss McKinnon	63	57
Temperance Hall	Messrs M Douglas and I Oxenham	72	48
Old Convent	Miss McDonald	33	22
Trowan's Hall—Upstairs	Miss Lawson	36	25
Hillsborough	Mr. Higgins	51	43
Trowan's Hall	Miss Scantlebury	33	25
Desbrisay's Lane	Miss McKenna,	30	17
Scott's Hall	Mr. Montgomery	70	53
Kensington	Mr McKenna	20	10
Spring Park	Mr. Carrol	77	55
Lepage's Building	Miss Finnessey	32	19
Orphan	Miss Boyd	49	40
	Total,	672	514

The Normal and Model Schools, though now more closely united than formerly, are not, I think, so perfectly amalgamated as they should be, nor are they properly graded.—some children studying the rudiments of the lower branches being found in one of the higher rooms.

In the School kept in the Temperance Hall the class room formed by means of a curtain is a mere sham, and the labor of the teachers there is almost thrown away for nothing, from want of proper accommodation. The exposed corner of a back passage which is used, is shocking and disgraceful. It should be remembered, too, that children of both sexes attend this school.

The School in DesBrisay's lane is kept in a room up too flights of stairs, the steps of which, are apparently not very safe. There is no out-house for the use of the children so they are obliged to go to those of private parties, or wherever they can find access.

The School in Scotts' Hall is unfurnished with maps, and the out-house is in a shocking state

At the Kensington School the attendance is very small indeed, yet numbers of children were to be seen all around, at play instead of coming to the school, which was only a few yards distant. The out house here, which serves for all the families around, is in a pestilential state, and utterly beyond description.

At the Spring Park School the size of the room is not at all sufficient for the number attending. On the day of my visit I found the children closely packed in double rows. The out-house is in a bad state.

Generally speaking, there is not one school room in the City, receiving Government pay, fit in all respects for the purposes of teaching, with the exception perhaps of the Normal and Model School rooms, and even these are now found to be too contracted for the numbers in attendance. The steadily increasing attendance at the two last named schools is gratifying, and is certainly to be attributed to the superior accommodation, as well as to the superior teaching to be found there; whereas, on the contrary, the attendance at many of the other city schools is decreasing, and the reasons are quite evident, viz: want of respectable and commodious school buildings with decent surroundings, the generally low standard of teaching power exhibited and the culpable indifference of those who do send their children to school as to whether they attend regularly or not.

When all these things are duly considered, it should not be surprising that there are so many private schools in Charlottetown. Yet I own I was surprised to find so very large a number of children attending schools, not receiving Government pay, and which I was at considerable pains to ascertain as follows:—

St. Patrick's Hall (for boys), 240 pupils, the Convent [girls], 150, St. Joseph's [girls], 135, the Weleyan Academy [both sexes], about 140, the Bog school [both sexes], 80, and seven other small private schools [both sexes], 108, amounting in all to 853. The Buildings, the spacious and airy school-rooms, the furniture, and the apparatus at each of the five larger of these establishments, were unexceptionably superior, and might well serve as models of convenience and comfort.

Thus we find, that at the schools not receiving Government money, there are in attendance 853 children, whereas at the schools receiving Government pay, there are in attendance only 672, being a difference of 181 in favour of private schools. From this it appears that the total number of children attending school in Charlottetown is about 1525, but I am certain from my own observation and enquiries through the city, that there are scores of young children who never enter a school room at all, and are growing up in ignorance.

From all of the foregoing it is quite evident that the graded system of schools for Charlottetown, together with compulsory attendance, for at least half time, has become an absolute necessity. The plan recommended by a committee of your Board, in a report dated Feburary 28th, 1871, [and which I beg leave cordially to endorse] appears to me to be the only feasible scheme that can be adopted, for the introduction of the graded system of schools into Charlottetown.

There are also several rural districts, very extensive and thickly populated, in which, in my opinion, graded schools should be established with as little delay as possible, each school to consist of two grades, the lowest to be taught by a female teacher, and the highest to be taught by a male teacher, of a higher class. Such are the Cavendish, the Ugg, the Belfast, and the Mount Buchanan Grammar School districts; also New Glasgow, Cornwall, Little York, and Southport.

I have the honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient humble servant,
WILLIAM McPHAIL,
Visitor of Schools.
