

Albernon Teenagers Stage 'Clean Sweep' Of Sidewalks

ALBERTON — If any Albernon mothers missed their brooms during the morning cleaning they were found them on Main Street in the hands of their teenagers.

Sixteen 9 a.m. sidewalkers in the business section suddenly became alive with activity. Girls with potato sacks were industriously filling them with papers and other debris that had been strewn about by careless persons.

Equally industrious boys, with push brooms or good old corn brooms, were sweeping the sand that had accumulated.

Within a short time there was a wonderful improvement in the appearance of the sidewalks.

Upon inquiry surprised citizens learned that the "clean sweep" had originated when Bill Proffitt, a resident of the town who is interested in youth, suggested the project when he heard some teenagers complain that they had nothing to do.

His suggestion was accepted and resulted in this community service. It was stated that Mr. Proffitt intends for the workers at a winter resort to be hostesses in the near future.

Mr. Proffitt's interest in youth is also being demonstrated each Wednesday evening when he permits them to assemble for a

Bloodfield Family Holds Reunion

ALBERTON — Members of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw of Bloodfield enjoyed a happy reunion earlier this week. It was the first time they had all been together for more than 30 years.

To mark the occasion they held a family dinner in Charlottetown, making use of the picnic facilities at the Exempt Farm.

Present were Mrs. John Macdonald (Gennie) Manokas, Mrs. Wellington Kingsley (Ellie) of Kempville, Ont., Mrs. Fred Roberts (Elizabeth) of Westchester, Mass., George of West Cape, Mrs. Charles's Roberts (Mary) of Charlottetown, Mrs. Ivan Hardy (Pearl) of Freehold, Mrs. Charles Smith (Mabel) of West Point and Robert of Bloodfield.

More than 30 members of the next generation were also present.
