FED. OF AGRIC. NEWSLETTER

Hay Drying Technique Will Be Demonstrated

Farmers are advised that the Department of Agriculture and the Experimental Farm plan to team up on a demonstration of hay drying probably next Thursday or Friday.

For those who are interested in artificial means of hay drying this meeting will give an opportunity of becoming acquainted with a quite improved approach to hay making.

Details and exact hour and date will be released shortly and should be watched for.

QUEEN AND PRINCESS

In the field of royalty our Island dairy industry is having quite an active summer. First of all there was chosen a Junior Princess in the person of Miss Phyllis Jones, Pownal. Miss Jones is a college student of a fine farm background.

Next the Dairy Princess for the province Mrs. Sterling (Jean) MacRae, Greenvale carries the responsibility for the next year and will be taking part in the national competition in Toronto the latter part of August.

The middle of September the province will be visited by the British Dairy Queen, Miss Rosemary Manister when the three young people will get together to focus the attention of the public on the dairy industry.

The dairy industry has in some respects a built in advantage over other sections of agriculture in carrying out promotion of this type. Some of this advantage stems from the regularity of income and the year round nature of the business.

In any event definite benefits should come from this projection of beauty and grace during the next year.

Up to this point the 1963 season is proving to be one of the best for some time for growth and crop quality. While pastures were slow in starting they have continued excellent throughout the season and Wednesday's rain will still further improvement. While not uniform throughout the province the hay crop has been generally good and certainly excellent in the East. Grain is very promising and barring severe harvesting difficulty should show bumper yields. Potato fields never looked much better and a heavy crop appears to be in the making. The only severe complaints are associated with the turnip crop which has had more than the usual amount of trouble from pests. While not one of the more important crops, yet it is important enough in a commercial way to merit the attention now being given it by technical people and APEC.

EXHIBITION

With only Monday and Tuesday plus a rainy Wednesday under its belt this year's exhibition appears to be headed for success. The ring side about the livestock judging has been large and interested and the quality of the display upholds the Island's reputation. Beef judges have generally remarked on evidence of improvement probably stemming in part from some recent importation.

The well established dairy breeds have probably set no new records but quality has been well maintained.

A really startling increase is reported in the exhibit of ponies which in a couple of years has grown to major proportions.

The dairy industry continues to be the best customer for booths in the coliseum and practically monopolizes the entire side of the big pavilion.

Lacking is any display of farm machinery-a feature which always attracts the farmer. Variety and color and evidence of artistic skill are in the Women's Institute building which always provides a gathering place of interest for women and many men as well.

A bale of hay makes a comfortable seat on which to discuss the results of the judging. One hundred times a day the question is asked how much does the bull weigh? Sensitive eardrums react at times violently, to exploding balloons. Out on the midway new and awe inspiring rides with rocket and space inspiration attract the venturesome. The new roof of the grandstand guarantees that while the horse and driver may be soaked that the cash customer will not be.

NEW FAIR

Something new is coming up this fall in the way of fairs with the first Atlantic Winter Fair to be held in Halifax from November 4th to 9th. Prizes total ing $33,000.00 will be available and the show will feature horse show, livestock exhibit and field crops, industrial exhibits, arts and crafts and what is billed as the International Championship Ox Pulling Contest. To support such a Fair from an attendance standpoint the Halifax area has a large population and it may very well be that the new venture will be able to overcome this handicap of the Maritime Winter Fair.

Milton, Kensington Split Guernsey Wins

Ernest F. Coles and Son, Milton and Harold Palmer and Sons, Kensington, were the winners of the Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibitor shields respectively when the judging was completed yesterday in the Guernsey show ring at the Provincial Exhibition.

The breeder's shield goes to the owner who wins the most points with cattle he has bred in his own herd. The exhibitor's shield is for the man who has won the most points with cattle he has shown, regardless of whether they were bred in his herd or purchased from some other herd. The emphasis is on senior females, or milk cows, and twice as many points are awarded for a senior female winner than for a male or a junior female winner.

It's a first-time shield for the Coles, Ernest F. and his son Reg, and their win was a most popular one. Mr. Palmer and Sons have won the exhibitor shield in the past.

The Palmers had the senior and grand champion bull and the senior and grand champion cow of the show. Their grand champion cow, Fraserdale Royal Philherta, also won the award at the end of the show for the best uddered female. The trophy was donated by Harrison Green and Son, Kingston and presented by Mr. Green. Mr. Palmer also received for the same cow a trophy donated by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce to the senior champion.

Judge A. Frank Saunders, Petitcodiac, N.B., liked the cows in the older classes he judged yesterday, after being just a bit disappointed in the younger stuff on Thursday, the first day of the Guernsey show.

J. Eric Hurry, Winsloe, took the reserve senior and reserve grand championships with his two-year-old heifer, Patosie Miss Brig. He had previously won the reserve junior male championship with Patosie Superior.

The reserve senior male championship went to Kingston View Pat, owned by Harrison Green and Sons, and the reserve grand was taken by the junior champion, Mob Nob Maverick's Nehru, shown by the N.B. Central Artificial Breeding Co-op Ltd.

The junior champion female was shown by Ernest F. Coles and Son, and the reserve by Chester Matheson and Son, Milton. She was shown by Linda Matheson.

A class for new Guernsey breeders was won by Robert MacKinnon, Southport, with Leith Newson and Son, Kingston second and Preston Ford, Milton, third.

The Goldenview Farm trophy for the 4-H Club member standing highest in an open class with a 4-H Club calf was won by David Coles, Milton. It was presented by Roy Younker, Kingston.

Mt. Carmel To Revive Old Custom

MT. CARMEL — The people of Mount Carmel will hold their first annual "French Nationality Day" this Sunday with special activities getting under way at the church at 6 p.m.

The Miscouche band will be in attendance and play for the audience at the grounds from 6 to 7 p.m.

Following the band concert, one of the community's past customs will be revived. A spruce tree will be set-up on the church grounds and men will fire at its five-inch diameter base with rifles until it falls. The custom has not been performed at Mount Carmel in more than 30 years.

A torch procession will take place on the church grounds at dusk followed by a special church service conducted by Rev. J.F. Buote.

Later in the evening a bonfire will be set on the beach adjacent to the church grounds and folk songs of French and English will be sung.
