France Planning Rocket Station

PARIS (Reuters) — France plans to build its own rocket-launching station on barren scrubland on the Atlantic coast near Mont-de-Marsan in southwest France, official sources said here Tuesday.

The station is expected to be ready by 1967, by which time France has agreed to evacuate the rocket research centre of Colomb - Bechar in the Sahara in western Algeria where it has conducted a series of nuclear tests.

About 4,000 technicians will occupy specially built quarters at the new site, to be built near two French air bases.

It was not yet known whether France's first satellite, scheduled to be launched in 1965, will be launched from the new station or from Colomb-Bechar.

POWERS EXTENDED

PARIS (AP) — President de Gaulle's government extended Tuesday the emergency powers it first adopted during the abortive generals' revolt in Algiers in April 1961. A decree published in the official journal said the "state of urgency" would be continued until May 31, 1963, at the latest.

MacRae's Criticism Of DBS Draws Reply From Official

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics believes the accuracy of its figures is adequate. "If not, we would change our methods of gathering data," Dr. Fred E. Whitworth, AM, PhD, director, education division, Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa, said Monday.

Dr. Whitworth was commenting on a recent story that quoted A. B. MacRae, minister of agriculture, as calling "just wild guesses" some of the latest income figures for P. E. I., released by DBS.

P.E.I. LACKS SERVICE

When asked if he thought the bureau of statistics should change its methods of gathering information, the minister was quoted as saying P. E. I. was the only province that does not have some kind of statistical service on the spot, and that as long as DBS relies on spotty bit or miss reports from P.E.I. there will always be inaccuracy.

Speaking as a member of the DBS, although not in the agriculture division, Dr. Whitworth said that the minister may have a legitimate complaint, but that DBS information always comes from original sources, the reports from the provinces, themselves.

Anyone with complaints should investigate the methods used by the bureau, and then suggest increased coverage or whatever is necessary to increase accuracy. Accuracy is desired, and the bureau is always willing to consider complaints, he said.

Tariff Provisions Announced In Package Deal With ECM

By ALAN DONNELLY

OTTAWA (CP) — The compensation that Canadian exporters will receive in payment for what they'll lose from creation of the European Common Market's external tariff wall was announced here.

The compensation, worked out in months of stiff tariff bargaining at Geneva, provides for tariff concessions on nearly $250,000,000 in annual Canadian exports to the six - nation trade bloc.

There are a scattering of minor reductions in the ECM's proposed tariffs, including cuts on aluminum, frozen and canned salmon and douglas fir plywood. Most of the concessions, however, consist of undertakings to "bind" ECM tariffs so they can't be increased in future without giving Canada offsetting trade advantages.

As well, the Geneva negotiations under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade produced a Common Market agreement to negotiate within a year terms for future trade in Canadian wheat.

Trade Minister Hees, announcing the package deal, said that the settlement on wheat, with assurances of minimum wheat sales, "should cover Canada's normal and traditional export of wheat" to the Common Market Six.

WON'T MAKE UP LOSSES

A trade department official said that the tariff reductions won't begin to make up for the losses to Canada that will result from implementation of the Common Market's external tariff wall.

This is because, in the tariff-averaging process by the Six, tariffs of France and Italy in general will be reduced while tariffs of West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg will go up. About 75 per cent of Canadian exports to the six have been to West Germany and the three Benelux countries.

However, the official said Canada now has stronger trade negotiation rights than before, with "bindings" of ECM tariff rates on about 80 per cent of Canadian sales to the Six.
