Opposition Leader In Nfld. Sees Falls Soon Obsolete

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Opposition Leader James J. Greene warned Monday nuclear power may soon make the Hamilton Falls Hydro project obsolete.

Mr. Greene called on the government to make a start soon on the $1,500,000 project. Anyone in Newfoundland who thought the province would never again need the support of Quebec "is short-sighted," he said in the legislature's throne speech debate.

"Those who use harsh words against Quebec are not serving the interests of the province," Mr. Greene said. "I am just as opposed as anyone to the terms proposed by Quebec in the previous joint arrangement of the development of Hamilton Falls. But I think rejecting the proposals would have been enough. To add abuse was unnecessary and harmful."

Mr. Smallwood said last year when he announced negotiations for transmission of the power through Quebec had failed "Newfoundland has escaped the clutches of Quebec."

Mr. Greene told the house he hoped to hear encouraging news on the project shortly, "because if we don't then I feel there is a strong, frightening possibility this power will not remain competitively priced with nuclear power."

He knew of at least one large American company which has made an offer to supply nuclear power to Consolidated Edison of New York, one of the major prospects for Hamilton Falls power, he said.

Mr. Greene said he would like to know what the government plans to do if the British Newfoundland Corporation decides not to build the project.

"We in Newfoundland must realize that as nuclear power prices become competitive, the value of Hamilton Falls power diminishes. Once the transmission lines are built, the power will flow and the investors can amortize their investments. However, if it is not started within a short time, I am afraid it will never be developed."

Estimates Preparation Nearly Done

The provincial treasury board, comprised of cabinet ministers, will probably finish consideration of next fiscal year's estimates by Monday Premier Walter R. Shaw said yesterday.

It appears that little legislation is under preparation for the 1965 session of the legislature which opens Feb. 18.

The premier indicated, however, that legislation could come in once the session begins. It looks as though the main business of the forthcoming session will be in connection with Maritime Union proposals, transportation and federal-provincial relations. The premier said he will have some things to say about the national pension scheme, the Canadian American tariff structure and the possibility of some provinces opting out of federal-provincial agreements.

Mar. Union Meet Has No Delegate From P.E.I. Gov't

There are no representatives from Prince Edward Island at a weekend meeting to discuss Maritime Union. The meeting is organized by Mr. Allison University and the Canadian Institute on Public Affairs and will be held in Sackville, N.B.

According to Premier Walter R. Shaw's office, no official invitation was sent to the government to have representation at the conference.

The premier indicated previously, however, that the Maritime union idea will be discussed fully at the 1965 session of the provincial legislature.

35 Per Cent Island Roads Now Paved

Approximately 35 per cent of all Prince Edward Island's total road system is now paved according to figures released by Highways Minister Philip Matheson yesterday.

The province's total road system measures 3,214 miles of this, 1,114 are paved, 1,396 are improved, 688 are unpaved, and 15.5 miles are national park highways.

Queens County has the most paved miles with 433. Prince County is next with 384 and Kings County has 296 miles of paving.

In 1964, new paving was laid on 69.9 miles of provincial roads and 13.1 miles of re-capping was done to the Trans Canada Highway in the province. It was pointed out that because of the extra width of the Trans Canada Highway, 13.1 miles paved is equal to 44.6 miles of paving on standard highways.

Full-Time Chaplain For Trucking Line

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) Rev. Homer Good's parish covers 15 widely-separated states and Canada.

The 51-year-old Baptist minister is full-time chaplain-counselor for the Hennis Freight Lines, a trucking firm based here.

The field of industrial chaplaincy is a relatively new one and has been called "industry's new dimension."

Mr. Good left a comfortable pastorate in nearby Kernersville a year ago after nearly a quarter-century in the pulpit. "I've never tried to make employees think we have a minister," Mr. Good says. As a matter of fact, maybe I've bent over the other way so that they do not consider me just as a minister."

Hennis Freight Lines has 2,700 employees working out of 54 terminals. More than 1,200 of these employees work in Winston-Salem.

In explaining the need for counsellors in industry, Mr. Good said the company chaplain's task "is to be here when you're needed."

In a recent month he spent 78 hours counselling employees. He conducts a voluntary worship service at the Winston-Salem terminal each Monday, fulfills speaking engagements, serves as relief pastor and travels periodically to the company's other terminals.

He uses the company's executive plans when necessary, and is called on by the company to notify families when there are injuries or deaths in accidents.

Budgen Art Exhibit Well Received In Ont.

Six paintings by Barry Budgen were sold within an hour of the opening of an exhibition of 100 of his works in Toronto.

The paintings ranged in price from $30 to $400.

The exhibition of the local artist's work opened yesterday and will be running at the Studio Showcase Ltd. for two weeks.

The showing was opened by Angus MacLean, Queens MP, who said Mr. Budgen is the first islander to "have a show of this type in many years."

This is the first showing for the 50-year-old artist outside the province.

"And I must say that I looked on the thing with fear and trembling," Mr. Budgen said in an interview, "however the results are very gratifying."

A native of Hastings, England, Mr. Budgen is president of the Maritime Provinces Artists Association. He has studied under Clare Bice of the Museum of Fine Arts at London, Ont., and Gentle Tondino of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts. He was awarded a Canada

H. BARRY BUDGEN

Council grant in 1960, which he used to study art in England and Spain.

Mr. Budgen terminated his employment in May of last year with Maritime Electric Company Limited, where he was advertising and public relations supervisor for 12 years, in order to devote full time to commercial and fine arts.

He has wide experience in the commercial art field, having been a commercial artist in London, Ont., for seven years before moving to this province. Paintings of island scenes and portraits by Mr. Budgen have been well received by islanders and visitors to the province and now hang in many private collections in Canada and the United States.

Mar. Christian College Annual Banquet Held

The annual mid-winter banquet of the Maritime Christian College was held Thursday evening at the college auditorium in Charlottetown. Many friends and well-wishers from Charlottetown and other points on P.E.I. joined with the students and faculty for the evening.

After the dinner, which was served by the Gracie Club of the Central Christian Church, Glen Watterson led the devotions for the evening. This was accompanied by singing under the direction of W. O. Weale.

The college choir under the direction of Mrs. W. A. MacRae sang special pieces.

The principal speaker was Gordon Bennett of Prince of Wales College. In his address, the registrar spoke on the progress and demands of education in the province. He said that the teaching profession was most important to the development of the community. He encouraged young men and women to take up this outstanding career. In concluding, Mr. Bennett emphasized the importance of body development in the life of young people, with particular reference to sports and recreational activities.

Among the other guests were Dr. George Dewar, minister of education for the province, Mrs. Bennett, and Mrs. Watterson.

A vote of thanks was extended by Merle Zimmerman, minister; and the benediction was given by W. Walls, minister. Kenneth T. Norris, president of the four-year-old college, presided.

A White Cane Introduction

The many meanings which the traditional White Cane of the blind may have were briefly outlined by P.C. Bower, field secretary of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, as he discussed White Cane Week.

It means the chance for a pedestrian to offer a guiding hand or a word of advice; or perhaps "see" for the blind person by describing something interesting. A shopper can easily lend a hand because even though some blind people can see a
