

Brazil Takes 2-0 Lead In Davis Cup Tennis

By GEORGE FRAJKOR
Canadian Press Staff Writer
MONTREAL (CP)—Brazil took a formidable 2-0 lead in the second round of the North American zone play for the Davis Cup Friday when its two best men swept the opening singles matches from Israel.

Playing captain Armando Vieira, 32, defeated Israel's Arieh Avidan 6-1, 6-3, 12-10 and young Carlos Fernandez overcame Eliazar Davidman 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

Vieira toyed with the 29-year-old Avidan during the final set of the third match and was always in control.

Avidan, No. 2 man on the Israeli team, got his deadly placements and overheads working a little stronger in the third set, but was not even in contention in the first two.

Vieira broke Avidan's first two services in the first set and ran up a 4-0 lead before Avidan could win a game.

Avidan lost his service and the set in the seventh game, blowing a 40-15 lead by netting twice and then double-faulting.

Each held service twice in the second match, then Vieira held his in the fifth game and broke through Avidan's in the sixth on three errors by the Israeli and a passing shot between the sidelines.

FIRST BREAK
Avidan then broke Vieira's service for the first time, passing Vieira with shots to the corners and down the sidelines. But Vieira broke back in the eighth game to regain his advantage and won the set in the ninth after two deuces.

In the third set, Avidan for the first time in the day took a lead over Vieira, breaking the Brazilian's service in the fourth game with neatly placed passing shots.

Vieira evened it with a service break in the seventh, when Avidan double-faulted on game point, and followed it up with a succession of three love games every time he served.

The vital service break came in the 21st game, when Vieira set up game point with a couple of overhead smashes and Avidan netted the game point.

Vieira finished the match with a couple of short lobs and drops and a smashing overhead.

The stronger Avidan aces Vieira eight times and was aces only once but he could not match the Brazilian's back-court play.

HARDER TIME
Fernandez, 19, the slugger who almost single-handedly knocked Canada out of the first round last weekend, had a harder time with Davidman, 20.

The difference between the two youngsters was mainly in their serving. Fernandez seldom had trouble putting the ball in play off Davidman's service, but the Israeli army private often could not reach Fernandez's serves in time.

Fernandez got one service break in each of the first two sets and two in the final set. He aces Davidman four times and was aces five.

Both players tried serving hard and rushing the net, with Fernandez having more success. He did not seem to be bothered by Davidman's left-handed style and kept the ball going to Davidman's weaker backhand.

Davidman skidded on the grass towards the end of the match and opened up a cut on his knee. If he is not able to play today's doubles, Avidan will team with Gabriel Dubitzky, 22, against Vieira and Fernandez.

International League Move?

MONTREAL (CP)—President Frank Shaughnessy of the International League said Friday there is a possibility the league may move into Jersey City with the ultimate aim of major league status.

"It's all speculative at present and such a possibility is so far away," said Shaughnessy. "We have no plan. We don't know if we would qualify at some future date as of major league status."

Shaughnessy was commenting on a story in the New York World Telegram and an quoting him as saying if the Giants and Brooklyn leave New York the triple "A" International circuit would move into Jersey City with Brooklyn as the next goal. Jersey City formerly operated in the International.

"We don't know yet just what they're going to do," said Shaughnessy. "We would certainly consider moving in if they left the territory open."

Billy Goodman Is Sidelined

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles said Friday their baseman Billy Goodman has been sidelined with a finger fracture suffered in Thursday's game with Detroit.

Goodman who is batting .277 apparently suffered the index finger fracture when he was hit by a pitch. The umpire had ruled he had not been hit.

X-rays turned up a fracture of the second and third joints of the left index finger. How long Goodman will be out was not immediately determined.

Bob Courchesne Feeling Fine

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Bobby Courchesne, Holyoke lightweight, was reported "feeling fine" Friday in Springfield hospital.

The boxer was sent to the hospital for examination for possible brain injuries he might have suffered Monday night in a New York bout with Bobby Bell of Youngstown, Ohio.

Doctors abandoned plans to give Courchesne immediate brain wave tests. One physician said Courchesne might have suffered the cumulative effects of punches over the last several months.

He collapsed in his corner Monday night after eight rounds and Bell was awarded a technical knockout.

Phillies Owe Thanks To Mrs. Jack Sanford And Child

CHICAGO (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies owe a vote of thanks for their pennant chances to Mrs. Jack Sanford and her 19-month-old daughter.

Mrs. Sanford is the attractive wife of the Phils' surprising rookie righthander. The word rookie should be used with understanding because Jack—while a newcomer in the major leagues—is 28 years old.

The big boy has an amazing freshman record of 13 wins against only three losses. He's leading the National League in strikeouts as well as victories. And there can be no denying his performance has kept the Phils in contention for the pennant.

The obvious question about Sanford has been: How come a pitcher as classy as this fellow didn't reach the big time until he was 28?

The answer is simple: Sanford never was really as effective a pitcher in the minors as he has been with the Phillies this season and the reason for his Johnny-come-lately success goes right back to Mrs. Sanford and the couple's little girl.

16-8 RECORD
In organized baseball since 1948, Sanford started that season with a 1-6 record with Bradford in the old Pony League. His best pre-Phillies mark was a 16-8 record with Schemm in 1952.

Sanford said recently that he had been more than a little upset when the Phils failed to bring him up after his 1952 success.

Since then a new incentive has entered his life—two of them, in fact. The righthander said he had a little chat with himself in spring training this year.

Tigers Send Don Lee To Miners

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers sent young Don Lee back to the minor leagues Friday. The righthanded pitcher was optioned to Charleston, W.Va., in the triple-A American Association.

Lee, a son of former major leaguer Thornton Lee, opened the season with the Tigers, but was optioned to Birmingham of the AA Southern Association May 27. He was recalled June 16.

Lee's won-lost record with Detroit is 1-3. It was 0-1 at Birmingham.

Canadian Troops In Netherlands

NIJMEGEN, Holland (CP)—Canadian troops are on the march again in The Netherlands.

A 75-man contingent from Canada's NATO brigade in Germany is among the 13,000 military and civilian participants from seven countries taking part in the 41st international four-day marches at Nijmegen.

The marches, sponsored by the Netherlands League for Physical Culture, are non-competitive. No winner or loser is declared and every participant completing the prescribed marching distances is presented with a medal. The Netherlands league launched the marches in 1909 "to encourage participants to train in such a way that they are able to walk a considerable distance daily without fatigue."

Canada, which entered the marches for the first time in 1956, is represented by teams from the 1st battalions of the Royal Canadian Regiment, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and the Royal 22nd Regiment.

SPORTS TRAIL

Who Is The Champion And Who The Challenger?

NEW YORK (AP)—With all the furore over the hot National League race and the prospect of franchise shifts, the fact there will be a heavyweight championship prize fight at the Polo Grounds next Monday night has been pretty much ignored.

There was a time when such a fight practically crowded everything else off the sports pages, with interest reaching a peak as the big day neared.

Yet here are Floyd Patterson and Hurricane Jackson practically coming in by the back door as far as publicity is concerned, and there probably are many citizens who couldn't say which man is the champion.

Others know, but refuse to accept Patterson as a real champion. "Whom did he ever lick?" they may well ask, pointing to the fact that he won his title by knocking out old-timer Archie Moore. The only other "name" fighter he ever met, a punchless boxer named Joey Maxim, beat him.

As for Jackson, he is rated in many quarters as a ring freak, an eccentric young man with no more style than a burlap bag and whose sole asset is unbelievable endurance and ability to keep giving and taking punches indefinitely.

Probably out of the chief reasons for the refusal to accept Patterson as a first-class champion is the fact he didn't beat the man he succeeded.

Had Rocky Marciano not retired undefeated, and Patterson had knocked him out or decisively defeated him, the current champion would have been accepted without a question instead of being rated a second-rater at best who ascended to the throne as the best of a poor lot.

So he has to prove himself by whipping every man who even remotely resembles a heavyweight fighter.

For the sake of the heavyweight class, and the fight game in general, we hope Monday's fight is a rouser. It could be. A lot depends upon the mood Jackson happens to be in, whether he wants to go all out. If Patterson hits him the way he hit Moore, that's the way he'll go.
