IMITATION IS THE SINCEREST FORM OF FLATTERY.

MINARD'S LINIMENT

has extraordinary merits, and is in good repute with the public, is that IT IS EXTENSIVELY Imitated. The imitations resemble the genuine article in appearance only. They lack the general excellence of Genuine. This notice is necessary, as injurious and dangerous imitations, called WHITE LINIMENT, &c., liable to produce chronic inflammation of the skin, are often substituted for MINARD'S LINIMENT by Dealers, because they pay a larger profit.

They all Sell on the Merits and Advertising of MINARD'S.

LETTER FROM MR. WISE, M. L. A.

Sir,—I do not intend to enter into a controversy with the Patriot regarding what took place between the Hon. Mr. Farquharson and myself when I placed my resignation in his hands upon the understanding that it would be acted upon and an election held without any delay. The Editor of the Patriot does not present at the time and does not know what took place, and if the person who is supplying the false information to that paper will come out over his own signature I will answer him. I decline to discuss the matter with a person who hides himself behind the skirts of that Editor.

The fact remains that I gave a conditional resignation to Mr. Farquharson upon the understanding in writing that an election to fill the vacancy would be immediately held. Mr. Farquharson, not only in writing but verbally, solemnly promised to issue the writ and hold the election. After the receipt of my conditional resignation he made strong efforts to get a candidate to run the district; but he has been unable to get one and the consequence is that my resignation has not been acted on.

The law requires the Speaker of the House, immediately upon receipt of a member's resignation to notify the Lieutenant Governor, and the Lieutenant Governor is commanded by law to issue a writ for an election to fill the vacancy within seven days after the receipt of the Speaker's notification; and I take it for granted that Mr. Farquharson has not transmitted my resignation to the Speaker, because to believe otherwise would imply that either the Speaker or the Lieutenant Governor is wilfully disobeying the laws of this Island. I prefer to believe that Mr. Farquharson, seeing that he cannot benefit his party by fulfilling his promise, has decided not to carry out the terms attached to my conditional resignation which should, therefore, become worthless, and enable me to sit at the coming session of the House and to vote against the Government.

The statement of the Patriot's informant that I have an unpaid claim against the Government does not call for a reply except to say that it comes with very bad grace from Mr. Farquharson who, whilst acting as Premier during Mr. Peter's absence from this Province, made that gentleman pay him smartly for so acting although every person knows that no salary is attached to that position. Besides, it is not uncommon for parties to have unpaid claims against the Local Government. There are too many of them around, without money to pay them,—a condition caused by the mismanagement of the public affairs of this Province by the Farquharson Government.

It is well known that, from the first, I opposed the appointment of Mr. Farquharson as Premier of this Province. I told the Liberal party that he was unsuitable, that he would not make a good leader, and that if he was appointed both the affairs of the country and the Liberal party would go to wreck and ruin. Time has proved that my opinion of Mr. Farquharson was correct, and the condition of affairs anticipated by me is upon the Liberal party. The finances of the Province are in a most desperate state; the once strong Liberal party is on its last legs; the Government within a short time has lost four seats in by-elections, notwithstanding its own influence and that of the Dominion Government which was called in to assist. It is now afraid to open either the second or the third district of this county, knowing full well that elections in both these districts would result in the return of opposition members. In order to hold on to office the Government has been compelled to leave one district entirely unrepresented for two years, and to buy up and spirit away a member of the opposition. It dare not appoint an Attorney General from the floor of the House, well knowing that the appointee would vacate his seat and never come back. The present Attorney General is unable to find a constituency that will elect him. This disgraceful state of affairs has been brought about by the false promises, broken pledges and deception of the party. An instance of how solemn promises can be made and afterwards violated can be found in the way my conditional resignation has been treated. Many Liberals who thought I was wrong in 1897 in thwarting Mr. Farquharson's desire to be Premier, are now regretfully admitting the truth and leaving the party—a party that has ceased to represent that former great Liberal party of this Island. Strong evidence of the feeling of old Liberals can be seen in the published letter of that old-time Liberal, Mr. Horace Hazard, and in his efforts in trying to turn out the Local Government and to substitute one made up of Liberals and Conservatives with the hope that by so doing the Liberal party in this Province will not be wholly annihilated.

JOSEPH WISE,

To Hotel and Boarding House Keepers.

If all those who are desirous of accommodating summer tourists and others during the coming season will send their address to THE EXAMINER office we will be happy to compile a list and forward to the different agencies which make a business of furnishing such information to the travelling public. Particulars regarding rates, distance from Charlottetown, surroundings of hotel, mails, nearness to railway and bathing, etc., should be mentioned when writing us.

P & S

OUR STREETS.

Sir,—Councillor Whear's letter on macadamizing streets is reasonable. The present condition of the streets in this town, which is modern and progressive enough to have fine systems of water-works and sewerage, is exceedingly primitive. I would call the attention of the Council to that portion of Kent Street lying between Pownal Street and the entrance of Government House. During the months of April and May it is in such a state that to get through it with a horse one has either to take him on the sidewalk or run the risk of losing him in the "West Bog."

If we can have the streets macadamized without increased taxation, as Councillor Whear thinks by all means let us have it done. But if not, would it not be better to pay a little more taxes and see something tangible for the outlay than to be taxed as heavily as at present and have nothing permanent in sidewalks or streets? Under the present regime the work accomplished in this line lasts as long as that done by the road machine.

Yours, etc.,
FRANK BRALES.

Mr. L. J. Wood celebrated his 101st birthday on Friday last.

Mr. Harry Irving, who has been attending the Guelph Agricultural College during the winter months, has returned home.

Miss Gladie Carver, who has been visiting friends at Vernon River, has returned home.

The meeting of our Legislature in May will be to the Grits as "a feeble weapon thrown without effect," for it was only done "from the necessity of the case." But let our rulers remember that "the welfare of the people is the supreme law," and that they have taken a "faux pas" to call the Legislature in seeding time hoping thus to be able to keep away some of our farmer members. But a time of retaliation will come and Premier Farquharson will be a sadder and wiser man.

Kipling's New Poem Sung at

Concert in Bloemfontein

BLOEMFONTEIN, April 23.—A concert was given Wednesday night in aid of the widows' and orphans fund organized by the war correspondents. The leaders of the army were present, and the feature was Kipling's new poem, sung to the music of "Auld Lang Syne." It is as follows:

We welcome to our hearts to-night
Our kinsmen from afar,
Brothers in an Empire's fight
And comrades of our war,
For Auld Lang Syne, my lads,
And the fights of Auld Lang Syne!
We drink our cup of fellowship
To the fights of Auld Lang Syne.

The shamrock, thistle, leek, and rose,
With heath and wattle twine,
And maple from Canadian snows,
For the sake of Auld Lang Syne,
For Auld Lang Syne take hands,
From London to the line!
Good luck to those that toiled with us
Since the days of Auld Lang Syne!

Again to all we hold most dear
In life we left behind,
The wives we wooed, the bairns we kissed,
And the loves of Auld Lang Syne,
For surely you have your sweetheart,
And surely I have mine;
We toast her name in silence here
And the girls of Auld Lang Syne.

And last to him, the little man,
Who led our fighting line
From Kabul on to Kandahar
In the days of Auld Lang Syne,
For Auld Lang Syne and Bobs,
Our chief of Auld Lang Syne!
We're here to do his work again
As we did in Auld Lang Syne!

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—Again the Boers have escaped—they ran. Well, there must be an end of that.

—Cap. Sullivan, of Ontario, the politician, who figures in the bye-elections for the Local Government, is paid $5 a day out of the public chest, and the money is charged as expenses for preventing the export of logs. Liberal administration!

—The liberality and the toleration of our French-Canadian friends are made clear by the circumstance that Sir Charles Tupper has been offered a constituency in Quebec—a constituency in which there are only twenty-two English-speaking electors. The Mail and Empire remarks that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's hate-ful race cry is clearly not having its expected effect. The French-Canadian has no desire to ostracise. On the contrary, he recognizes ability, irrespective of racial differences.

—Mr. Tarte tells the people of France that La Patrie—Mr. Tarte's sons paper, bought with $20,000 that neither Mr. Tarte nor his sons earned in the usual way—does not abuse itself to the English; and he quotes an article from it on the tricolor, "that unique and holy relic which still binds our hearts to France." "You see," added Mr. Tarte, "the remembrance of the Mother Land still lives in Canada. But we are under the necessity of acting with policy and discretion."
