

1st Souris Levee Attended By 200

SOURIS — More than 200 guests turned out for the first New Year's reception, held by Mayor C.E. LaVie and Mrs. LaVie, the first ever held by a mayor of the Kings County town.

The function, held in the Royal Canadian Legion Home, was attended by the mayor and his wife, Mrs. LaVie, and a tremendous success, and he was certain that it will become an annual event.

The guests were greeted and introduced by Mrs. Helen McIsaac and Edward Clinton.

After being received by Mayor LaVie and Mrs. LaVie, the guests then moved along to be greeted by Councillor Henry Larler, John D. Macdonald, Elmer Doucette, Gerald MacDonald, Andrew Meurant and his wife.

Refreshments were served by Town Clerk Mrs. Fee Roach assisted by Eleanor Clinton, and Leanda Pafford. Music was provided by Clifford Peters at the piano.

FIRST BABY OF YEAR HERE

Weighing in at 8 pounds 4 ounces, Dominic Joseph, 14th child of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Laybott, West St. Peters, was the first baby to be born in 1963 in hospital here. The new born babe was delivered into the world by Dr. F. MacMillan, at 4:50 a.m. New Year's Day at the Charlottetown Hospital. Of the 14 children born to Mr. and Mrs. Laybott, little Donnie has four brothers and five sisters living. As a result of his early appearance into the world, the baby and his parents will receive a variety of gifts donated by merchants of the city.

the loyalty and devotion of all Canadians of goodwill.

"The economy of Prince Edward Island is not such as to lead to expectations of tremendous and rapid expansion. It has brought a steady and recognizable progress. With improved transportation and an increased awareness of its importance the tourist industry pushed forward at an encouraging rate. Despite unfavorable weather conditions the agricultural and fisheries industries brought good returns.

"Our citizens may well feel confident of the future of their social and cultural life. To all the citizens of Prince Edward Island, and especially to my Queen's County constituents, I extend warm and hearty good wishes for the New Year."

New Year's Message Delivered To Rotary

Rev. James Kelly, MA, professor of Latin and prefect of senior students at St. Dunstan's University, delivered the New Year's message to the Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon meeting held at the Charlottetown Hotel, Monday.

Father Kelly dealt with the subject "Protecting the essence of Christianity," and said, "With the annual celebration of Christ's birth still echoing in our ears the blessings and expectations held out to men of goodwill, no one need talk to the Rotary of brotherhood, in view of its long record, about one another before any genuine good can be achieved.

"Western civilization must strive for unity, or at least a modus vivendi, with other civilizations of our day, but not at the cost of sacrificing precious truths that only we possess.

"To this end, the ranks of Western civilization, and of purely partisan attitudes be abandoned. Today, when one hears so much about communal tendencies, let us briefly review three propositions which lie at the heart of our Christian civilization. No one can disown these and still consider that he understands and fully accepts our heritage. The reviewing of these propositions will help us to re-discover how much we have in common; and it will hearten us for the never-fading job of reviving our personal attitudes, our terms of discussion with others, and our basis for joint projects. Without such constant revisions we can so easily end up by denying in practice what we profess with our lips.

THE PROPOSITIONS

"Human nature includes matter and spirit, and is made of elements though diverse and distinct are marvellously harmonized in one nature, so that as long as we allow to each its proper sphere the whole will prosper and endure to the peril of the whole that we would neglect either element," stated.

"Even the pagans, whether prior to the Christian era or contemporary with it, have understood this truth to some degree, and it may seem a common place to introduce it here for our consideration.

"And yet, there are whole schemes of social teaching that by denying even this rudimentary level of the very tenets of our Christian civilization are precisely these flagrant denials in practice of what we smugly profess to be the elements that make our civilization superior that constitute a scandal to many non-Christian civilizations in our day, and that render sterile our often heroic efforts to collaborate with them," he said.

LOCAL BRIEFS

CORRECTION

The report published earlier in the Guardian, stating that Mrs. Joseph Carr, 1 Healey Street, is a patient at P.E.I. Hospital, has been revealed to be unfounded. Mrs. Carr is at her home.

BISHOP'S RESIDENCE

Hundreds of callers from throughout the province and city attended a reception held by His Excellency Most Rev. M. A. MacEachern, DD., at the Bishop's residence.

The Bishop MacEachern was attended by the Rt. Rev. Patrick Hammill and Rev. Preston MacEachern.

The reception was held between 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. and was reported a record number of citizens attended to extend New Year's greetings.

The biggest number of well-wishers in years showed up at City Hall yesterday afternoon for the annual New Year's Levee held by Mayor A. Walter Gaudet, in the council chambers.

School Begins Second Term Thursday

The Christmas and New Year's holidays end tonight, and at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, the youngsters of the city, many sporting new outfits lent them by Santa, will head back to the final half of the school year.

Dr. Kenneth A. Parker, superintendent of city schools said last night that the return to classes covers all schools including the new West Kent School.

Some of these students will be the lofty but not so bright rooms and halls. Their new surroundings will provide spangles and well illuminated space, a feature for which they have waited many years.

The official cornerstone laying is scheduled to take place at 3 p.m. Monday, Jan. 7, with Wing Cmdr. Allan MacMillan, senior member of the city school board giving the honors.

Zoning Changes Are Approved

Amendments to zoning regulations affecting two sections of the city were unanimously passed by City Council Monday.

A special meeting of the Council gave final reading to an amendment involving zoning in a Ward Five area. The area was restricted for residential purposes, but carried a provision that commercial enterprises might be permitted in the section if all property owners within a 300-foot radius agreed.

In addition to the elimination of that clause from the by-law, an amendment was made adding additional territory to that already zoned by the by-law.

The first section of the by-law changes were made at a special Council meeting Saturday morning.

Cards Sign Two Players

DALLAS (AP) — Jerry Stovall, Louisiana State's all-American halfback, and Don Estes, LSU tackle, signed pro football contracts Tuesday with St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League.

The 21-year-old Stovall signed the 40-year line within minutes after the final gun sounded at the Cotton Bowl classed which Louisiana State won 13-0.

Queens MP Sees Progress In 1962, Continuing In 1963

Health Macquarrie, Queens MP, has issued a New Year's message:

On the international Canadian and provincial scenes 1962 was a year of hope and progress of such measure as to give us a wholesome confidence for the year ahead.

While tensions remained in the foreign relations of nations, and crises in Cuba, Berlin and the Far East troubled the diplomatic waters, there were solid and substantial gains for the Western world and for peace.

President Kennedy's strong stand on Cuba, the confirmation of U Thant as secretary-general of the United Nations and the substantial record of achievement of that

"Who says this isn't a LEAP YEAR...?"

"Maybe you can't divide 1963 by four—but in my book it still adds up to a Leap Year.

"I'm starting the New Year with a big leap forward. Tomorrow I take delivery of a brand-new car, and there's a modern stove for Mollie in the kitchen.

"Mind you, we did a whole lot of looking before we decided to leap. That's why we settled on the B of M Family Finance Plan in buying our New Year presents to ourselves. The monthly payments are well within our budget, and we couldn't ask for better terms. All our credit needs fitted snugly under that one broad B of M roof.

"This New Year, it's off with the old and on with the new... thanks to the B of M Family Finance Plan."
