FIRE ALARM—A fire broke out at residence of Charles Cummins, Johnston's River shortly after six o'clock Wednesday morning, May 31st. The fire had gained considerable headway on the roof when noticed and only for the timely assistance of kind neighbors the house would have been completely destroyed. One side of the roof was all burned while the interior was damaged to a great extent by water. Much credit is due the neighbors for the heroic work they did to save the house from destruction.

Methodist Church District Meeting

The ministerial session of the Charlottetown District meeting of the Methodist Church of Canada in connection with the New Brunswick and P. E. Island Conference met at Brookley in the York Circuit on Wednesday afternoon last. There were present the Revs. H. Pierce, B. A., (Chairman), G. W. F. Glendenning, M. A., Financial Secy., C. W. Kierstead, O. H. Peters, George W. Tilley, B. A.; Robert M. Brodie; Christopher Graham, Samuel Howard, B. A., B. D.; H. A. Brown and J. F. Denny. After a few appropriate words of welcome from the chairman, the meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. S. Howard and C. Graham. The business of the session was devoted to the consideration of purely ministerial matters. The usual inquiries respecting character and competence were made and satisfactorily answered in the case of all the ministers present. The Rev. S. Howard, M. A., was reported to have left Souris during the year. He was succeeded by the Rev. J. F. Denny who has been supplying on the Souris Circuit since last November. Mr. Denny was recommended for reception into the Conference.

In the evening a very largely attended public meeting was held when the church was filled with a large and interested audience. The Chair was taken by the Rev. Mr. Pierce. The lesson was read by the Rev. G. W. F. Glendenning. The speaker of the evening was the Rev. J. F. Denny of Souris who gave what the Chairman described as an "illuminating address." Mr. Denny chose for his theme, "Lessons and Incidents in Missionary Work" drawn out of his own experience as a missionary in British Guiana. The address was listened to with very close attention and was greatly appreciated. The Chairman followed with an appeal for fuller devotion to Christ and the Church. Mr. Pierce paid an appropriate and generous tribute to the work and co-operation of the laymen who in loyalty and sympathy were not to be surpassed. An inspiring and really helpful meeting was brought to a close by the pronouncing of the Benediction by the Rev. S. Howard.

The ministers were joined by the laymen on Thursday morning when the business of the meeting was very fully discussed. The laymen present were Messrs. Henry Smith, Charlottetown; J. A. Moore, Pownall; P. Crosby Cornwall and S. Prowse of York. The Rev. H. A. Brown was appointed Journal Secy. and the Rev. C. Graham acted as Mr. Brown's assistant. The opening devotional exercises were led by Rev. O. H. Peters and Mr. Henry Smith after which the record of the ministerial session was read for the information of the meeting. Lay Auditor of the District, Scheuler, presented the statistics for the year. The statistics were read by the Rev. C. W. Kierstead. These revealed a slight increase of 73 in the church membership. The Charlottetown and York Circuits were mainly responsible for this. The financial returns of the various circuits were considered one by one and passed. The Rev. O. H. Peters, Religious Education Secretary presented the Sunday School returns. These indicated an increase of two in the number of schools and an increase of 265 in the total membership. These returns were considered satisfactory and duly passed. The Rev. S. Howard was appointed to represent the District on the Stationary Committee with the Rev. H. A. Brown as alternate. Various committees were appointed. The meeting concluded its sessions on Thursday afternoon. The business of the day was carried on with expedition and despatch.

In closing the church year the meeting felt that despite the difficult times through which the island is passing, the year's work was marked with success.

PEACE RIVER FARMING

Any information concerning our northern regions is of value and, therefore, the results obtained in the growing of crops at the Dominion Experimental Farm sub-station at Fort Vermillion, Alberta, in the Peace River district will prove interesting to many. The pamphlet referred to gives in some detail the story of experiments covering thirteen years, which are still proceeding. The settlement of Fort Vermillion lies on the banks of the Peace River, 350 miles north of Edmonton and 950 feet above sea level. The history is the usual one of such settlements, first the fur trader and trapper, then the mission, and next the settler. In 1908 the first director of the Dominion Experimental Farms, Dr. William Saunders, came to an agreement with Mr. Robert Jones, a pioneer settler, to conduct experiments in the cultivation of grains, fruits and vegetables; this substation now covers twenty five acres. Mr. Jones is still in charge as superintendent, from his annual reports the information for the bulletin has been gathered. It is apparent that the district is well adapted for mixed farming having large areas of well grassed country, which afford ample feeding grounds and winter feed for stock. Building logs, fencing material, firewood, and the purest water are easily accessible in practically any location. In the summer the day from sunrise to sunset is eighteen hours long and the night itself is only a twilight. These long days of summer permit the remarkable growth of vegetation and its ripening in a short season. Travelers in the region are surprised to find vegetables growing luxuriantly and as far advanced according to the season as they would be in Eastern Canada. Another thing that astonishes visitors is the beauty of the flowers, hardy varieties flourishing amazingly, with brilliant coloring. Strawberries, currants and raspberries flourish, but gooseberries, plums and apples have not so far thriven as well as desired. Experiments with fodder crops have proved successful, particularly with swede turnips and mangels. Sunflowers have given promising results, but corn in the usual season does not reach the proper stage to make first-class ensilage although in some years surprisingly large crops of green fodder are recorded. The varieties of grain hitherto tested have yielded excellently. The bulletin may be had on application to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

CONVERTING ISKANDER

By W. H. Gocher.

Iskander is a pacer, not a Turk. Justin Edwards bred him. He belongs to the Alcyone family. The line runs through McKinney, Zombro and San Francisco. Iskander's dam was the Bingen mare Owaisa. She had a pacing record of 2:06 3/4.

Owaisa's colt inherited her black coat. He also wanted to pace. His breeder said no and sent him to Walter Cox to be developed as a trotter. In 1919 Cox gave him a three year old record of 2:28 and told Edwards that the black gelding would never do to go to the races at that gait. This was the year before Cox migrated to Indiana.

With the Granite State Park speed maker in the corn belt, Iskander was shipped to Hartford, Conn., where he was put on a track with him. He got him up to a mile in 2:20. At that point Iskander developed the without and pulled up lame.

In order to save training bills Iskander was turned out with a bunch of misfits. A few cows kept the limpers company. One morning the long horns became too familiar. There was a battle. When the dust rolled away Iskander and his mates had killed a cow. No one knew which one struck the fatal blow but all had to pay.

At that time Roger Rourke appeared on the scene. For several years he had been attending the horse sales, where he purchased a few bunches of horse hide with padding attached and tugged them at race horses. He heard that Iskander had fallen from grace. He wanted him and made a deal. The price was $200.

Iskander was shipped to Greenfield, Mass. Roger gave him a few drinks of Green River whiskey—no, no, water, and he went sound. Then Iskander began to trot. Roger said: "No, you must be a pacer." Iskander did not understand the new order of things and stuck to a trot. He was shod with light shoes in front and heavy ones behind, vice versa and every other old way, but it did not change matters. Iskander was still a trotter. He refused to be converted.

Roger Rourke had about decided to pass up Iskander when it dawned on him that the big black gelding owed him a feed bill. In order to offset it he put him to work on the track. Late and early the son of San Francisco was busy hauling a float track harrow or one of the other tools that are used to keep the Greenfield track like a billiard table when Roger has speed to sell.

Finally it dawned on Iskander that he still had one stunt which he had not shown at Greenfield. It was a disposition to "shuffle along" or pace. As soon as Roger saw the change he hitched the gelding to a cart and encouraged Iskander to go at that gait. He made speed very rapidly.

Iskander was once more back in city streets. He had blankets, bandages, leg wash and a growth. As his speed increased the news spread to Greenfield and purchased a half interest.

In 1921 Iskander went to 2:10 at Readville and paced in 2:12 in a race over a half-mile track. The horse hunters heard of him. Finally John A. McGrover of Athol, Mass took him home in exchange for a $3500 check.

Iskander is now ready to go to the races. At Windsor, Conn., on Decoration Day, Sutherland breezed him the last quarter of two winning heats in 30 1/4 seconds. That is as fast as half-mile track pacers go. His trainer says he will do in any company. As Sutherland and Lenay W. and Angus Pointer when they took the measure of everything in side on the mile tracks a few days ago, Iskander was par.
