Canada Leads In Wheat Export To U.K.

(By The Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Aug. 3 — Canada led all world countries as a contributor of wheat to the United Kingdom market in the first six months of 1939, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics disclosed today. Canada's export was 16,636,618 cwt. while the United States was next with 10,896,526 cwt.

Canada also held several other first places in supplying the United Kingdom with commodities. She was first in barley, contributing 1,820,558 cwt.; in oats with 877,853 cwt.; in aluminum and allows with 362,743 cwt.; in electrolytic copper with 53,466 tons; patent leather with 5,466 cwt. and newsprint paper with 1,663,323 cwt.

MAY SELECT

it would not be necessary for the Prime Minister to accept his resignation. He would go out of office automatically.

It is quite possible, however, that with Mr. Dunning's announcement he would not be a candidate, his resignation would be accepted at the last minute and a new minister sworn in before the voting. Revenue Minister Ilsley, who has been acting Finance Minister for long periods since Mr. Dunning was stricken, will continue to hold down the two jobs for the present.

Key to Decision

On several occasions Mr. Mackenzie King has said his decision on the date of the general election depended upon the progress of European events. If it appeared a crisis involving peace or war might arise this fall he would hesitate to dissolve Parliament for the approximately two months necessary for a general election in Canada.

Observers here who believe a general election likely, point to three alternatives which are as follows:

1. The European situation will remain in a state of uncertainty as at present involving a long period in which sooner or later an election must be held.

2. The situation will definitely clear in which case a general election will be called.

3. A general war will develop and probably last for a long period in which event an election in war time will be necessary.

In view of these alternatives, and the probability that the government would have a better chance for success if it goes to the country now, observers believe the decision will be to have an election in October or early November.

Hon. James L. Ralston, Defence Minister in the last Liberal administration, who retired from politics before the 1935 election to practice law in Montreal, has been frequently mentioned as a likely choice for finance minister.

But Mr. Ralston has repeatedly said he was through with politics for a long period. If he will not come back to the political arena, it is likely Mr. Ilsley will be the choice. Both he and Mr. Ralston come from Nova Scotia, a province which has contributed several Canadian finance ministers.

Will Not Contest Next Election Says Mr. Dunning

Dr. I. J. Yeo of Charlottetown, president of the Queen's County Liberal Association, said last night the constituents of Queen's County heard with regret their representative in the Dominion Parliament, Minister of Finance Charles A. Dunning, would not be a candidate in the next general election.

Dr. Yeo received a letter yesterday from the Federal Cabinet Minister stating he would not be a candidate in the next general election. Dr. Yeo did not make public the contents of the letter.

Wants Design Of Unique Wooden Chair

JASPER, Alta., Aug. 3 — Two years ago A. Cholet of Chantilly, France, sat in one of the wooden lawn chairs dotting a terrace overlooking Lac Beauvert at Jasper.

Tuesday, Manager R. Sommerville of Jasper Park Lodge received a letter from the French world-traveller requesting blueprints.

"I've been all over the world and that's the only wooden chair in which I've ever been comfortable," A. Cholet wrote. Dimensions and photographs are being forwarded to Chantilly. In the past years many similar requests have been answered and on one occasion a complete chair, knocked down for shipping, was sent to England. Sometimes known as "Dutch chairs" they were first introduced to Jasper in 1928 by the late Sir Henry Thornton, then president of the Canadian National Railways.

HOUSE KILLS ROOSEVELT'S HOUSING BILL

Latest Rebuff Climaxes Defeat Of Administrations Lending Program.

By RICHARD L. TURNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 — The United States House of Representatives completed the destruction of President Roosevelt's lending program today with a 191-170 vote declining even to consider the $800,000,000 slum clearance and housing bill.

A coalition of Republicans and Democrats mowed the measure down in precisely the same way it killed the $1,950,000,000 works financing bill.

The coalition consisted of 137 Republicans and 54 Democrats. A total of 159 Democrats, eight Republicans, and three minor party members supported the administration.

Move Toward Adjournment

The vote removed one more obstacle to adjournment, and soon after it was taken another was shoved aside. Representaitve Rayburn of Texas, the Democratic leader, announced to the House the decision of the administration leadership to scrap for the session highly controversial legislation amending the wage-hour law.

However, leaders who had hoped to end the session Saturday night were forced to allow for a possible revision of their plans by developments in the Senate. There, a row was evidently developing over the third deficiency bill, which as it passed the House failed to provide funds for a continuation of price-bolstering loans on farm commodities.

Economy Bloc Scores

Omission of funds for this purpose was another victory for the economy bloc. The Senate, however, has repeatedly shown itself more inclined to appropriate for farm relief than the other branch of Congress, and an effort to write a $119,000,000 amendment for farm loans into the bill was in the making. Such an attempt obviously would be time-consuming. Today, the measure was in the hands of the Senate appropriations committee, before which Agriculture Secretary Wallace appealed for the item, lest, he said, farm prices sag to disastrous levels.

One other piece of major legislation remained to complicate the adjournment situation: Amendments to the Social Security Act were tied up in a tight snarl in a conference committee representing both Houses of Congress.

Police Conditions Change With Methods Criminals Employ

(By The Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Aug. 3 — As police methods become more scientific and specialized, co-ordination of the various branches of police service for maximum efficiency is apt to become a problem itself, Commissioner S. T. Wood of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police today told the Ontario Police Association convention here.

As methods of criminals change, taking advantage of modern developments, so do those of the police, he said, with the result that staffs tended to become divided into highly specialized groups dealing with different angles of crime. For instance, there were bureaux for finger prints, photographs, scientific crime detection, recording "modus operandi", systems of criminals, and firearm registration.

"The old type of policeman, whose character and physique alone secured him his employment, is fast disappearing," said Commissioner Wood. "He should at present possess not only those two sterling qualities but also qualifications commensurate with the particular phase of police duty he would be required to perform."

Next to the keeping of finger print records, the Commissioner held the registration of firearms to be most important from the standpoint of tracking down criminals. He urged fuller co-operation between local authorities and the central firearms registry maintained by the R.C.M.P. here, for while registration was compulsory local authorities were not compelled to forward copies to the central registry.

difficulties between Japan and Britain, the Foreign Secretary said:—

"It depends on the attitude of the Japanese Government and how far the Japanese authorities in China are prepared to regard the distinction between local and general issues."

During the debate, Lord Davies, Liberal, protested against Parliament's recess tomorrow until Oct. 3.

Mr. Chamberlain will go to Chequers for a few days soon after Parliament adjourns and will go from there to Scotland for about three weeks.

He will keep in touch with Whitehall by telephone and probably will make a short visit to London during the period. Cabinet meetings will be suspended until September unless an emergency should arise.

Newsy Notes On Big Fair

Reference to Alexander Kennedy and his fifty years attendance at the Provincial Exhibition has brought out that Peter Brodie of York was an exhibitor at exhibitions when they were held near Black Sam's Bridge over fifty years ago. He exhibited at the opening of the Provincial Exhibition in 1889 and attended every Exhibition and had entries in some every year but one since that date. His exhibits were mostly in the tubers branch, his potatoes, of which he had many varieties, being the envy of exhibitors. Mr. Brodie has not only been successful as an exhibitor locally, but has attended the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, as a competitor and won prizes with his potatoes. As a young boy during the meeting of the Fathers of Confederation at Charlottetown he had the honorable task of opening the gate at Admiral Bayfield's estate, Stanhope, when the Admiral entertained the delegates there. Mr. Brodie, although over four score years, is hale and hearty and will attend the Big Fair as a guest of the management August 14th to 18th.

Entries in all other classes other than registered live stock for the Exhibition close Saturday, August 5th, and intending exhibitors are reminded to be sure and have their entries in by that date. A competent clerical staff will receive entries and assist where required

Holders of booths in the Main Building, Provincial Exhibition, are reminded that the building is open for their convenience every day from eight o'clock until five p. m and next week will be open evenings. The entire Main Building and Paton Pavilion have been washed and scrubbed thoroughly and decorators are now at work painting and whitewashing so that it will be all ready for trimming and decorating Monday. This year the decorators will be under the supervision of Menton Whitlock, who has planned a scheme that will be different from any previous year. Superintendent Harold Newsom is also making changes in the flower spacing and erecting new flower stands and stands for exhibiting greens and vegetables. While every year the Main Building has been made more and more attractive, it is confidently expected that this year it will surpass in beauty and artistic arrangement all previous years.

Perhaps in this respect it is only fair to state that a great deal of the improvement in appearance has been due to the Flower Show, made possible through the generosity of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor, George D. DeBlois. While entries in the flower section have not yet come in, it is expected that with the profusion of blooms noticeable in gardens this year throughout the country that the flower display will be on an even greater scale of beauty and wealth of material than last year. A bevy of attractive young ladies will have charge of the display who will be thoroughly acquainted with the varieties and exhibits so that visitors can secure information on same.

S., where they will reside. Dr. Yeo will be Classics Master at King's Collegiate School this fall. complished and plan for future work of the Kingdom

R. M. Johnston, Milton, N. S., president of the convention addressed the gathering. He gave praise to the beauty of our Island, stating it surely is a gem in the Gulf, resembling parts of the British Isles in scenery.

Mr. Johnston spoke briefly on the convention theme "Continuing Steadfastly" stating it was a very fitting theme as we have come from different parts of the Maritimes in common to convention.

Today's sessions open at 9 o'clock this morning with a devotional period led by W. G. Quigley. After business discussions the convention will hear an address on organization by Mr. J. W. Hayter. Women's Missionary Society sessions will open in the afternoon and will be concluded in the evening. Feature of the evening session will be the Missionary address followed by the M. W. M. S. Offering, hymn and closing prayer.

Following is the text of the address delivered by Rev. W. L. Outhouse at last evening's opening session:

The present selection to which I could arrive as a text for this welcome address is Isaiah 42-12, "Let them give glory unto the Lord and declare His praise in the islands."

It seems that this has so far been an epochal year for Prince Edward Island.

First Charlottetown was host to the Rotarians in their convention, quickly following this was the all too brief visits to their gracious Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

Then for a whole week Charlottetown was in a gala attire and the whole Island was kept interested by the celebration of the 75th anniversary of the meeting of the Fathers of Confederation.

Now a no less important event is to transpire right here in our own Province. The first convention of the new evangelistic setup of the Churches of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island to be known from now on as the Maritime convention of the Churches of Christ.

Delegates of the Churches of Christ we welcome you to a province of which we are justly proud —a province, the smallest in the Dominion—smallest in area, least in population but by no means least in importance.

We welcome you to a province of historic interest. Jacques Cartier the great French navigator was the Island's first tourist, landing here in August 1534. In 1934 in the presence of a large delegation of prominent men and women from France a monument, commemorative of this event was erected in Parliament Square here in Charlottetown. After Cartier's brief visit silence settled over the Island and for nearly a year there is no record of another visit by white men to our shores. The first settlement here was in September 1720 when 300 immigrants arrived from France. This colonization scheme petered out in 1725 and nearly all the colonists left the Island but a few carried on and in 1726 a new order was set up. The first census of the colony in 1721 showed a total population of 297. In 1763 the Island was ceded to Great Britain by the Treaty of Paris.

We welcome you to an Island of beauty. As one poet describes it exactly

"Thou art beloved of sun and sea—
Of silvery night—of glowing moon!
And round about thee tenderly
The summer breezes croon.

Thou'rt robed in tranquil loveliness
Of birchen groves and ferny bowers;
Of streams that hold the sky's caress,
And fragrant wayside flowers.

No towering mountain heights are thine—
No canyons deep—no forests wild;
And yet thy charms, like ancient wine,
Are potent, seeming mild.

Whose feet have pressed thy velvet strand,
Or crossed thy clover-scented lea,
May seek for gold in any land,
But wearied come to thee.

Varied and onomatopaeic are the names of our Island: (1) First called Isle Saint Jean, there is an atmosphere of Old France.

(2) Named Abegweit by the aborigines, which means "Resting on the waves," there is here the unhampered spirit of peace and tranquility.

Known popularly as "The Garden of the Gulf," here we have, during the summer, "An Eden of Delight".

Referred to by those who love it as "The Cozy Corner of the Dominion", one may be assured of some sane living and security.

As the "Million Acre Farm", P. E. I. bespeaks "prosperity and well-being."

We invite you to a Province of great men and women, Jacob Gould Schurman, one time President of Cornell University, President U. S. Philippine Commission, U. S. Minister to Greece, Montenegro, China and Ambassador to Germany. Late Franklin K. Lane, one time Secretary of Interior in Wilson's Cabinet. L. M. Montgomery, who has immortalized P. E. I with her popular novel "Anne of Green Gables." A. MacLean once President of Bethany College, Alberta, preacher, lecturer, missionary enthusiast and executive of F. C. M. S. and U. C. M. S.

And last, but not least two contemporary missionaries and composers—Mr. McNutt and Mr. Rogers.

Judged as Woodsworth has said: "Great men have been among us; Hands that penned and tongues that uttered wisdom Better None."

We welcome you to a Province of deep and abiding Christian faith and unfeigned piety.

As L. M. Montgomery says of us: "Changes come more slowly in P. E. I. than elsewhere. We are not hidebound or overly conservative, but we do not rush madly after a new fads and fashions simply because they are new."

Nowhere is this more true of us than in the realm of religion.

(1) We of the P. E. I. Churches of Christ still believe in the absolute scripturalness of the plea of the New Found Church and will brook no changes, nor fear we to contend for our faith.

(2) We are justly proud of our long history as Churches of Christ. Here we have the oldest Church of Christ in Canada—Cross Roads, 1810. Only one other Church of Christ on the North American continent has a history as long—Central Church of New York City. Montague goes back to the 1840's.

(3) And now we wish for ourselves and you dear brethren and sisters from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia that in concert we may act upon the advice of St. Paul:

"Henceforth, be no more children tossed to and fro by every wind of doubt, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness whereby they lie in wait to deceive. But, speaking the truth in love, may grow up into Him in all things, which is the head even Christ."

Conclusion:—

"I, John, who also am your brother and companion in tribulation and in the Kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ was in the isle that is called Patmos for the Word of God, and testimony of Jesus Christ."

1. It was from the solitude of an Island that the Church of Christ received the great Apocalypse.

May we now here receive a revelation of what God's will is for us?

Has God ceased to reveal Himself?

The fact that we are here for the promotion of God's Kingdom proves that God's power to reveal Himself to us in the tasks of the Kingdom is a present day reality.

It is not always in the midst of the insane rush of hurried life that the revelation comes.

More often it comes to us while sojourning in some secluded nook far off from the beaten track.

As Whittier so beautifully expresses it:

"Though heralded with naught of fear,
Or outward sign, or show:
Though only to the inward ear
It whispers soft and low;
Though dropping as the manna fell,
Unseen, yet from above,
Noiseless as dew-fall, heed it well—
Thy Father's call of love!"

And so we welcome you to our "Summer isle of Eden
Lying in dark purple spheres of sea."

Wells Claims Humanity May Yet Be Saved

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, Aug. 3—H. G. Wells contends that the United States, guided by a "great man and patrician," Franklin D. Roosevelt, holds the clearest hope for the salvation of man through the development of a "world brain."

The 73-year-old novelist and essayist otherwise ponders gloomily on humanity, its leaders and its future in "The Fate of Homo Sapiens," his latest book, published today.

He concludes that the world brain, the education of mankind through super-universities until it is fit for a democracy in which there would be real equality, economic justice, universal education and full knowledge for all those who desire it, is the only hope.

He predicts that humanity "which began in a cave, will end in the disease-soaked ruins of a slum."

The salvation of mankind is "still just possible," however, by a "wilful and strenuous adaptation by re-education of our species now —forthwith" to fit it for a kind of universal democracy.

Wells devotes a 20-page chapter to "The American Mentality" and finds the United States the most free spoken, active, perplexing and various of countries" in which "radical and liberal and democratic ideas have a maximum of expression."

Crisis discovered "a great man in Franklin Roosevelt," he said.

As for the United States after Roosevelt, he wrote, "It is hard to guess what may happen when this abnormal phase of personal government by one inspired, insufficiently able man of genius comes to an end. There is no one to replace him and nothing to replace him. Nothing is being prepared."

Canada Full Of Promise Says Board Chairman

(By The Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Aug. 3—John Moore, chairman of the board of the Bank of Nova Scotia, celebrating his 80th birthday today, advised youth there is no country so full of promise as Canada.

Interviewed at his summer home near Port Credit, Mr. Moore said in Canada "we have a race descended from the sinews of pioneers."

"We have a thrifty race, a race of courage and enterprise," continued the grey-haired banker. "We have a country overflowing with natural resources, coal, timber, oil, minerals of all kinds.

"We have millions of dollars of capital waiting to be turned loose. We have other millions across the seas, waiting to pour into our land."
